Taft-Hartley Law Invoked To End Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley law Saturday in an effort to end a three-week maritime strike that has caused growing shortages of food and other necessities in Hawaii.

The President stepped in after two days of intensive mediation efforts by a three-man government panel had failed to forge a settlement.

Kennedy signed an executive order creating a board of inquiry to examine the dispute. When the board reports back Kennedy may request Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to seek an injunction, requiring an 80-day cooling-off period.

In his executive order the President said the strike is affecting a substantial part of the maritime industry and that if it is permitted to continue the national health and safely will be imperiled.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii had made several appeals to the White House for direct intervention. He has declared a food emergency in his island state.

This was the second time since taking office that Kennedy had used Taft - Hartley machinery. Last July, an injunction was obtained under the law halting an East Coast maritime strike.

Three unions struck 12 ship lines in the Pacific Maritime Association March 16 after months of negotiations had failed to bring agreement on terms for a new contract.

The unions—the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the Marine Firemen

State Discloses Plan to Spend Building Fund

DENVER (AP) — Colorado's Department of Institutions has come up with an overall plan for the spending of $9,650,000 in the building fund for the Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo.

Dr. James Galvin, director of institutions, released the figures which were worked up by Robert Denholm, chief of administrative servies for the agency, and emphasized they were only rough calculations.

Actual expenditures, he added, probably will be less than the amounts listed.

The top priority is for the medical, surgical and administration building which has long been in the planning stage. The department estimates this will cost $5,960,000, including about $4.5 million for actual construction, $270,000 for architects' fees, $450,000 for equipment and the remainder for such items as utilities, excavation and similar things.

Sen. Skiffington Attacks Report On Drug Costs

Sen. Lawrence Skiffington Saturday attacked the report that hospital drug costs had risen 1,400 per cent, saying the reports given by hospitals of the state were not realistic.

The initial report followed a meeting Friday of the hospital committee of the Colorado Legislature. During this meeting, part of a two - year study of the committee, reports taken from the books of 31 hospitals were reviewed, some showing marked increases in cost of drugs to patients.

Skiffington emphasized that institutions of this area were not among those which reported substantial increases.

In attacking the reports as given by the hospitals, Skiffington said the committee had ascertained that the average cost of drugs per patient had risen from 52 cents to 97 cents per day in the last 10 years. He said the committee failed to understand how drug cost could vary to any extent from one section of the state to another, as indicated by hospital reports submitted to the group.

Skiffington said that currently hospitals over the state were operating within 10 per cent of patient charges.

Total cost to the patient has gone up 22 per cent in the Colorado Springs and Denver areas

Fire Destroys Bear Creek Canon Boy Scout Cabin

A Boy Scout cabin in Upper Bear Creek Canon was destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon.

The cabin, which was named Camp Bessie, had been standing on the site since 1923.

The fire was reported at 6:15 p.m. by Roy Ryerson, Pikes Peak Council executive. Firemen from the Ivywild - Cheyenne Canon Fire Department were sent to the scene to prevent the fire from spreading to the woods nearby.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, according to Deputy Sheriff Lee Quein. However, a caretaker at the entrance to the canon told Quein that some boys had been there earlier in the day and had left at about 2:30 p.m.

The cabin was located on city-owned property and a crew of city water department workers was sent to keep watch on the area Saturday night.

Iron Springs Chateau Being Rebuilt; to Be Ready June 1

The Iron Springs Chateau of Manitou Springs, gutted by fire last November, is to be replaced with a new structure rising over the site, with the opening scheduled by June 1.

Due to the design of the landmark of the area, architectural problems arose in trying to determine how best to take advantage of the portions yet standing and surrounding terrain.

The architectural firm of Sherwood Ritz Jr., with Charles Byerly as associate, has drawn plans calling for a modernized structure that will retain many of the original features, yet is slated to provide ease of access thruout the establishment, composed of several separate sections.

The original Chateau began as the Iron Springs Pavilion in 1880 and thru the year many additions were constructed.

At the time of the blaze, a gift shop, coffee shop, dining room, theater and ballroom were housed in the Chateau, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jensen.

The area housing the gift shop was totally destroyed and will be replaced with a small outside area serving customers.

The theater, remodeled just prior to the fire in a Gay 90's decor, located on the second floor, will be replaced by a roof garden with the theater to be housed in a combined ballroom - theater in the location of the former ballroom. Outside access will be maintained by a rustic flight of stairs.

A central arcade at the ground level will provide access to any portion of the Chateau, making it unnecessary to go thru any division to reach a desired location.

Construction officially got underway about two weeks ago, altho Jensen has worked on the site thru the winter. Portions of the original structure will be utilized in construction, he said. Bickley Construction Company will do the major part of reconstruction.

The damage at the time of the fire was estimated at about $80,000, with the figure given as cost of identical replacement.

Due to a more compact design, reconstruction is expected to cost

Bad Red Butter Brings Dysentery to Red Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Communist authorities said Saturday there is an epidemic of dysentery, more than 28,000 cases—three of them fatal—in the East Berlin area, and virtually banned travel by their citizens. They blamed it on bad butter.

The disease began in East Berlin at the end of last week. Early this week it spread to the surrounding areas. In other places isolated cases have been reported, and authorities said they were due to visits to or from Berlin.

They banned sports events and other assemblages and decreed that East Germans traveling must have a medical certificate to prove they are not infected.

A newly formed commission to combat dysentery issued a statement saying the epidemic was caused by a small quantity of infected butter, which was withdrawn from the market.

Western officials express belief the outbreak has been complicated by food shortages, and that East German authorities have hidden its true extent. They discounted, however, a report in one West Berlin paper that there have been 34 deaths.

So far the epidemic has not spread to West Berlin, although the city is surrounded by East German territory.

District 11 Will Begin School Census Tuesday

The annual census of the school age population in District 11 will get underway Tuesday and continue until enumerators have called at every home in the district. The school census, which is required by Colorado law, furnishes school officials with information for planning future school needs.

Dr. Roy J. Wasson, superintendent of schools, says that all persons from birth thru age 20 residing in School District 11 must be counted. This includes persons who are not in school and married persons under age 21.

In addition to other questions, enumerators will ask if parents of children in school are employed on federal property. Under Public Law 874 District 11 is considered a federally impacted area and receives funds from the federal government to help pay the cost of educating children of federally connected parents.

With the expected growth of school enrollment resulting from increased activity at Fort Carson, Dr. Wasson said it is especially important to have a record of every child whose parents, whether military or civilian, are employed on federal sites. The district receives federal money on a per capita basis for each federally connected child.

The reason for federal assistance, the superintendent explained, is that military activity here results in increased school enrollment, but federal installations are exempt from local taxation. He added that many federal employees own their own homes in Colorado Springs and pay local property taxes, but these alone are not adequate to meet school costs.

He said that authorities on school finance generally agree that residential property should bear about half the costs of schools, and the property where the parents work should bear the other half. In the case of federal

Hunters of Big Game to Wear Big Numbers

DENVER (AP) — Big game hunters in Colorado must wear licenses on their backs.

The licenses are being printed in big block letters on cloth. When displayed on the back of hunting jackets, game wardens can quickly check a large field and make easy identifications of violators.

The Colorado Game and Fish Commission announced the new license program following a meeting here Friday.

Harry R. Woodward, department director, said the display would apply at present only to big game hunters. He said separate action would have to be taken by the commission if the program is expanded to include fishing licenses.

The commission turned down a proposal which would have prevented a hunter from getting elk licenses two years in a row. It approved continuation of the policy of drawing for the licenses but this year machines will be used to process applications.

Tito Jails Djilas Again For Writing Critical Book

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Milovan Djilas, 51, formerly one of President Tito's closest collaborators and friends, was taken to prison again Saturday apparently because of something in a new book he has written.

Djilas once was vice president and one of the four most powerful men in Communist Yugoslavia, but won his greatest fame in the outside world because of his book "The New Class," in 1957 which bitterly charged that communism breeds its own privileged cliques.

For that he was imprisoned.

He was on parole at the time of his arrest Saturday, and technically might be imprisoned for about six more years for violating the conditions of his parole. The conditions, it was reported in 1961, were to refrain from politics and writing.

Government spokesmen gave no reasons for his latest arrest. But there was speculation the government was angry about a new book by Djilas, "Conversations With Stalin." The book was scheduled to come out this month.

The publishers, Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc., in New york, said Saturday publication of the book had been indefinitely postponed.

Banned from circulation in Yugoslavia in January was an issue of the Italian Review in which appeared a story by Djilas titled "War." The Interior Ministry charged the story slandered Marshal Tito's partisan fighters in World War II.

Djilas was in bed when an investigating judge, accompanied by three plainclothesmen, went to his apartment with a warrant.

While he dressed and shaved, they seized some papers and manuscripts, then took him to prison.

It was assumed by some sources that Djilas' memoirs concerning Stalin contain material punishable under an amendment to the Yugoslav penal code adopted only three weeks ago. Some expressed belief the amendment was introduced because of Djilas' new book.

The amendment provides for imprisonment up to 10 years for publication of confidential information or documents harmful to the state, even if in the form of memoirs. It applies particularly to persons who came by the information while performing official duties.

East-West Freeway Hearing Set April 23

Preliminary Step to Bids On Project

A public hearing on the proposed east - west freeway will be held at 2 p.m. April 23 in the third - floor auditorium of the County Office Building, according to J. A. Solmonson, district engineer for the State Highway Department.

The purpose of the meeting is "to inform the public regarding the department's plans for construction of a highway along the old Midland Terminal right - of-way from 8th Street west to a point midway between 25th and 26th Streets," Solmonson said.

The public hearing is a preliminary step to the advertising of bids for the project. Charles Shumate, assistant state highway engineer, estimates that bids on the expressway will be advertised in May and construction started early this summer.

Anyone interested in the project can attend the public hearing. City and county officials are expected to attend.

The east - west freeway has been under consideration since the mid - 1950s after strong protests were received from residents in western Colorado Springs, Manitou Springs and the Ute Pass area about the traffic bottleneck along U.S. Highway 24.

The Colorado Springs City Council has repeatedly urged

Four at Atomic Hanford Plant Hospitalized

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Four men were hospitalized for observation after what the General Electric Co. called a "criticality incident" at the Hanford atomic works Saturday. The company said there was no explosion or fire.

G.E., which operates the plant for the Atomic Energy Commission, said a criticality incident involves an overconcentration of fissionable material, resulting in a sudden excessive release of radioactivity.

Hal Lindberg, a spokesman for G.E. said the facility involved was processing aqueous waste in tanks. He said the critical mass of fissionable material was confined to one tank. No equipment damage was observed.

Other facilities in the immediate area were evacuated as a precautionary measure, Lindberg said.

The hospital identified three of the men as Harold Aardel, F. R. Lohedinck and J. R. Williamson. The fourth was not identified.

There was no information as to their condition.

Students to Move 180,000 Books to New Library at CC

As National Library Week gets under way today students and librarians at Colorado College are busy making plans for moving the college's 180,000 volumes into the new $1,250,000 Charles Leaming Tutt Library, now nearing completion.

The move, to be carried out by the 1,200 student body, is tentatively scheduled for May 16.

However, the exact move-in date still was uncertain Saturday as college officials awaited word on the availability of steel stacks for the four - level library.

Dr. Ellsworth Mason, librarian at the independent college of arts and sciences, has been meeting with Ann D. Armstrong of 222 E. San Miguel St., student member of the faculty library committee, and Bradford Chase of 170 Glenwood Ave., Portland, Maine, vice president of the junior class and a member of Associated Students of Colorado College.

Students will transport the books in boxes from Coburn Library to the new structure. Chase and Miss Armstrong estimated that each student would make about 15 trips. The move is expected to take a half - day.

The glass and curtain - wall structure, is just one of the new buildings going up on the campus in a six - and - a - half million dollar plant construction program. Financed thru a gift from El Pomar Foundation of Colorado Springs, the library is designed to house some 300,000 volumes and to seat about 500 readers. It will replace the Coburn Library, built in 1894.

The new library, designed by Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, was named in memory of the

Seven Treasure Hunters Released In Cuban Fiasco

HAVANA (AP) — Seven American treasure hunters shipwrecked off Cuba's coast have been released from technical custody by the Castro government and will return to the United States early next week, the Swiss Embassy said Saturday.

Swiss Ambassador Emil Stadelhofer told reporters the seven men were lodged in a residence in Havana placed at their disposal by the Cuban government.

They have been asked not to leave the house, but no guards have been placed over them, he said.

The Swiss Embassy was asked by the U.S. government Friday to seek the release of the men after Cuban broadcasts announced that seven "frogmen" had been taken in custody in eastern Cuba.

The U.S. Coast Guard started a search for the men last Wednesday when trace was lost of their skindiving expedition in the windward passage between eastern Cuba and Haiti. They were en route to Jamaican waters to locate old sunken Spanish treasure ships.

They carried some dynamite to blast coral off sunken ships, a two-man submarine for explorations, a pistol and a rifle, and apparently some of their equipment first excited the suspicions of Cuban authorities.

Members of the crew were: Gordon S. Patton, 62, Ocean City, Md., the skipper; Fred Dickson Jr., 32, formerly of Ocean City,

Betz Calls for Help to Boost Fryingpan Bill

"The announcement that the $170 million Fryingpan-Arkansas water project will probably go before the Congress during the current session is great news for all of Colorado and the West," Democratic State Chairman Fred M. Betz told the Third Congressional District Central Committee Saturday, in Walsenburg.

"It is also a call to action for every person who can contribute anything to its passage by the House and the Senate," he said, adding that he would leave for Washington Sunday to enlist the support of the national Democratic party leadership.

Latest information indicated the strong possibility of action by the Rules Committee Wednesday of next week.

"I hope to add what I can to the efforts of Rep. Wayne Aspinall, (D) Palisade, Colo., and more recently, Gov. Steve McNichols."

"Aspinall, as chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs committee, has skillfully redrafted the measure and thus won broader Colorado and congressional support.

"McNichols, who called on President John F. Kennedy with Interior Department Secretary Steward K. Udall last week, gave the plan another major boost. He presented a letter from the governors of all 17 reclamation state stressing their support of the project."

Betz added that Secretary Udall called McNichols' presentation "a fine showing of Western unity."

He noted that President Ken-

Famine Threat Admitted By Rulers of Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government has announced that famine threatens Indonesia because of the acute shortage of rice.

Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, whose armed forces have been getting preferential treatment because of the military buildup over the West New Guinea dispute, has ordered his military commanders to cut soldiers' pay and rations so that food supplies may be given the public.

Potentially the richest nation in Southeast Asia, Indonesia's 96-million population has been chronically short of food because of increasing economic chaos.

The situation reportedly is particularly bad in crowded central Java, where an antistarvation command was established two months ago to feed the local population. Many are suffering from malnutrition.

Soup kitchens have been established in Jakarta.

The district head of Bandjar, in Borneo, sent this telegram to the South Borneo governor: "Acute rice shortage in Bandjar District and Djorong, 110 persons known to be starving. Hope send immediately rice supplies."

Similar telegrams have been received in other areas.

Three areas in Indonesia have large rice surpluses, Acheh in northern Sumatra, central Sumatra and the South Celebes, but transport facilities are so bad that large-scale movement of rice to famine areas is proving virtually impossible.

I Remember

By CHARLES S. DUDLEY

C. S. DUDLEY

One lives to learn in newspaper work. That is unless one goes to college and studies journalism. Then, I suppose, one knows all the answers. That is an advantage I didn't have.

When I was Pasadena correspondent for the Los Angeles Times, a morning paper, soon after 1910, the Maryland Hotel got on fire one night. It was a mid-city tourist hotel, operated by a man named Linnard, who was a magician if ever there was one in the business.

That hotel was a workbasket for my reportorial patchwork. The scraps of news I picked up there and sewed together were many and varied, and the prominent people I met were multitudinous. Linnard himself was never backward in tipping me off to something interesting.

It was quite a fire when a part of the building went up in smoke. Guests got out and milled around on the lawn, and a crowd collected to watch the firemen fight the flames. Some articles were thrown out of windows, but I do not recollect that anyone was injured.

I picked up a board from a broken bureau drawer and, with my note paper on this in the manner of a clip-board such as sports writers use, managed to get a list of the names of almost all of the guests. The telephone operator, standing on the grounds beside the burning building, helped me out to a considerable extent, and I talked to the clerks and others.

When I finished my story and sent the copy in by an electic train motorman I thought I had done well. I never could have covered the story so fully if I had not been acquainted with most of the hotel staff and quite a few of the rich guests, from many of whom I had obtained interviews as they came from the East to pass the winter in Pasadena.

The next day I went to Los Angeles, with the feeling that I would be smothered with compliments.

"You did a pretty poor job on the fire," Von Blon, the city editor, said to me — "a pretty poor job."

And he said it in a manner which made me feel I was lucky to continue to hold my job.

"Why, I thought I covered it thoroly," I replied.

"You should have let us know about it quickly," he said. "Then maybe we could have got pictures."

So much for that. When quite a little cyclone struck Pasadena some time later I was correspondent there for the Los Angeles Examiner, a morning paper. I had provided myself with a press camera and took my own photographs.

I stood at Fair Oaks Avenue and Colorado Street, in the center of town, watching a black cloud moving in from a distance.

"It's a cyclone," said a man standing by me."

"They don't have them here," I told him.

"Perhaps they haven't had one," he continued. "But this is a cyclone. I've lived in Kansas, and I know a cyclone when I see one."

Just then the windstorm struck a church steeple and peeled off all of the shingles.

I ran to the office where I had my desk, half a block distant on Fair Oaks Avenue, to get my camera. But before leaving the office I telephoned to the city editor of the Examiner what was happening.

"Cover it fully," he said, "and get pictures. Don't exaggerate anything, and don't minimize anything."

When I got back to the corner where I had been standing the cyclone was spinning up Colorado Avenue, breaking store windows first on one side of the street and then the other. I followed its path, taking pictures of the damage it had done. It had lifted part of the roof of the Maryland Hotel.

I had not gone far before I met Linnard, on foot, jumping over broken glass and hurrying along.

"It's awful," he said. "I'm going to Los Angeles, with others. We will try to keep this thing out of the papers. We want to prevent its getting on the wire, if we can."

Having read of my efforts the night of the Maryland Hotel fire, it should not be difficult for readers of these lines to know how hard I worked, and with what haste I sent my story of the cyclone and my undeveloped negatives to the Examiner office.

"They can't blame me this time," I thought.

The next day I did not see any pictures of the Pasadena cyclone on the front page. Hurriedly I turned to the other pages. No pictures and then I started again, looking for headlines. Finally, far back in the paper, near the want ads, I found a small item which said that a severe windstorm had occurred in Pasadena the day before, and that some damage had been done.

Coxson Participates In Unit's Marne Games

Army M. Sgt. Jasper D. Coxson, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert D. Coxson, 2337 Magellan St., recently participated with other personnel from the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment's 2nd Reconnaissance Squadron in Marne Games, a four - day field training exercise in Germany.

Designed to test individual and unit combat efficiency, the exercise involved approximately 650 men from the 2nd Reconnaissance Squadron plus personnel from V Corps and VII Corps units. Sergeant Coxson's unit acted as an "aggressor" force during the exercise.

The 14th's primary mission is the constant surveillance of the Fulda Gap, a 100-mile segment of the Iron Curtain which serves as the gateway to Berlin.

Th sergeant, a surveyor in the squadron's Howitzer Battery in Bad Kissingen, entered the Army in 1947 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in November 1958.

He attended Erasmus Hall High School, Brooklyn. His wife, Betty, is with him in Germany.

Senate Drinking Bout Resented by Morse

WASHINGTON (AP)— A cherry blossom party was thrown in a nook of the Senate and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., says it flowered into "a drinking bout."

He wants the Senate to put its foot down.

The American people, he said Thursday night, have a right to resent a policy that, in effect, turns the Senate into a saloon.

Three cases of hard liquor were carted into a room provided at a senator's request for the party Wednesday night on occasion of Washington's cherry blossom festival, Morse said.

The drinking that took place was of such a nature it has caused considerable comment and also embarrassment to him, Morse said. He mentioned no names.

NEW MARYKNOLL NOVITIATE

HINGHAM, Mass. (UPI) — The Maryknoll Fathers have announced plans for a new Novitiate to accommodate an increasing number of seminarians.

The missionary order bought a 63-acre tract southeast of Boston on which it will build a training house large enough for 120 students. This will relieve overburdened facilities at the Novitiate at Bedford, Mass. Students ultimately go to the Maryknoll Major Seminary at Maryknoll, N.Y., for theological study leading to ordination and overseas assignment.

Just One Story Of Arriving Enlisted Men

This is the story of only one of the thousands of enlisted men arriving with their families in the Pike's Peak area to join the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) at Ft. Carson.

Pvt. Charles P. Morrow, a draftee, finished basic training March 16 in the East. Later, he, his wife and their two children headed for Carson in their old model automobile, stopping at Lansing, Ill., to visit Mrs. Morrow's family on the way.

The car didn't make it much farther. It gave out on the road, and the Morrows finished their journey by bus.

They arrived last weekend, weary and discouraged after a 32-hour ride. They found their way to the military housing office at the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, where Sgt. I. C. R. B. McMullin greeted them with pleasant news. A vacancy was avilable at an Ivywild motel at reasonable rent.

The Morrows are living there now while seeking more permanent off - post quarters. They thanked McMullin and his staff for their help.

McMullin is continually looking for additional listings to accommodate his clients. Many such young families with limited incomes are expected as 6,000 troops arrive in the next three weeks.

The office welcomes listings at ME 5-8675.

Top Marksman Retires From Army

Sfc. Vernon K. Richardson, one of the top M-1 service rifle marksmen of the U.S. Army Air Defense Command Advanced Marksmanship Unit, has retired from the U.S. Army after more than 20 years of service.

The sergeant, who is a World War II combat veteran, came to the ARADCOM marksmanship unit in 1959. He is a holder of two "Excellence-Competition" badges, which he won during rifle competition in major tournaments.

As a member of the ARADCOM Advanced Marksmanship Unit, Sergeant Richardson has competed in state, regional, and inter-service championships. For the past three years he has participated in the all-Army Small Arms Tournament at Fort Benning, Georgia, and the National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

In recognition of his team shooting ability with the ARADCOM Advanced Marksmanship Unit, the sergeant was presented a set of colt frontier pistols by his fellow team shooters during a ceremony held at the unit.

Editorial Writer Will Discuss Foreign Policy

Saville R. Davis, chief editorial writer of the Christian Science Monitor, will speak at 3 p.m. today at East Denver High School, East Colfax and Elizabeth Streets, under sponsorship of the Principia Patrons' Committee and Alumni of Denver and Colorado Springs.

Davis, a specialist on foreign policy, will speak on "The Next Phase of American World Policy." He has covered foreign policy stories for the Monitor for 30 years.

Davis has traveled widely in Europe and Asia, has served as a special consultant of the Defense Department, has covered many international conferences, has studied operations of the foreign aid program firsthand and has written and lectured extensively on these topics.

He is a member of the coordinating panel of the Rockefeller Reports, which fitted together separate Rockefeller reports on military, economic, political and educational policy, and has served as a member of the staff of the staff of the Draper Committee appointed by President Eisenhower to review foreign policies of the United States.

A Child cannot grow properly- neither can an adult be normal WITHOUT ENOUGH CALCIUM

Calcium deficiency is a form of mal-nutrition that is injurious alike to young and old. Calcium is constructive and one of the most important of the nutritional essentials required in the growth and repair of body tissues. It is required in the rebuilding and renewing of body tissues as they are worn out by life's daily activities. A generous supply of Calcium results in a better development of the young and a higher norm of adult life.

there is a big difference in automobile dealerships!

... it doesn't stand out on a sign or show up in lights. It has nothing to do with the particular car being sold or the type or location of the building.

It has to do with people!

Basically, automobile dealerships are much alike when it comes to showrooms, service facilities, products and prices. However, that's where the similarity ends!

The big difference is people! Who they are ... what they are ... and the manner in which they want to do business. It's people who make the products, showrooms and facilities accomplish something ... and stand for something.

Since it's opening in August 1961, Money Oldsmobile Company has consistently broken sales records. The reason for this, we feel, is the men (and women) who make up our sales, service and administrative staffs.

Sound company policies, carried out by a sincere staff, have resulted in satisfied customers. These satisfied customers have made our business grow. True, no firm can satisfy everyone ... but our batting average is pretty darn high.

Sure, we feel Oldsmobile is one of the finest designed, engineered and constructed cars on the market today. But an automobile does not make a dealership. A customer's satisfaction depends upon the people behind the car.

If you are shopping for a new car and you have not yet visited Money Oldsmobile ... please do so, regardless of your budget. You'll find a relaxed, business-like atmosphere that we feel you'll appreciate. And, you'll see why Money Oldsmobile quietly continues its sales leadership without ballyhoo or frantic promotions.

Special Events Scheduled for Boys Club Week

National Boys' Club Week, beginning today, honors an organization in which a little boy with a quarter or a teenager with 50 cents to a dollar can become a member for an entire year. If that's too steep the young man can work for his dues, because the Boys' Club prides itself on being within the reach of every boy.

Significantly enough, this United Fund agency, located at 605 S. Tejon St., is usually the only youth organization in the community in which its members participate.

What does the young member get for his dues? For one thing, he has access to a well-supplied library. However, if he thinks he sees enough reading material during the day at school, there is a well-equipped game room and a gymnasium with trampolines, trapeze and net, parallel bars and punching bags and an instructor to teach the safest means of enjoying this equipment.

The Boys' Club provides a place to study and a place to play but that isn't all. Instructors in the workshop will teach a boy to use tools, manual and power saws, lathes and sanders. In the handicraft shop the boy can learn to make pottery, leatherwork, metal work and other crafts.

In the Photography Shop he can learn to develop, print and enlarge pictures. In the printshop he can learn to hand set type and run the press.

And, of course, there are competitive team sports available too.

Boys' Club week will be celebrated at the local Boys' Club in several ways this week. On Monday at 7:30 p.m. a special program of folk songs will be presented by Terry Golden, local celebrity.

The Boys' Club will hold Open House for parents on Tuesday night, for members of the Exchange Club on Wednesday, and for members of the Kiwanis Club on Thursday. Both these clubs assist in programs of the club.

On Friday, all members are invited to bring a friend to enjoy the activities of the club.

Interstate Gas Men Short Course Speakers

J. B. Davis and Jack Lay, both of Colorado Interstate Gas Company, will be among the speakers for the 36th annual Southwestern Gas Measurement Short Course at the University of Oklahoma in Norman April 17-19.

Dr. William H. Carson, dean of the University's College of Engineering, said the aim and purpose of the course is to provide a means whereby the men in the industry may get together to study problems pertaining to measurement and regulation.

"It is hoped, hereby, to increase the accuracy of measurement and the efficiency of regulation so that the public may be better served, and the dealings between buyer and seller may be placed on an increasingly agreeable basis," Dr. Carson said.

The course attracts nearly 1000 participants annually and speakerh will represent 21 states and Canada.

Magazine Editor To Address Local Home Builders

James M Lange, editor of Practical Builder magazine, will be in Colorado Springs this week as a part of a tour of selected cities thruout the country. During his visit [illegible] he will be the guest speaker at the April dinner meeting of the local Home Builders Association at the Colorado Springs Country Club Tuesday evening.

Practical Builder magazine is a leading trade journal in the home building industry and, thru Lange's efforts, takes a leading role in working with builders, manufacturers, technical groups, and community officials in the advancement of plans and ideas to aid problems of community growth everywhere.

The magazine has just completed a year of study pertaining to typical community facility problems in 12 selected cities. Colorado Springs was one of these cities which the magazine staff visited last year and is one of the cities to which a report of findings will be given during the Tuesday evening meeting.

Lange has been a member of the Practical Builder staff for more than 25 years, and is the originator of many building industry campaigns and programs.

He is an author and collaborator of technical manuals, a consultant to manufacturers and builder groups, and spends half his time in travelling. He also has been the recipient of the Achievement Award from the National Association of Home Builders and the winner of other industry awards.

A number of local businessmen and civic officials will attend the builders' meeting as guests, according to the announcement from Lyman A. Dewell, president of the local Home Builders Association, and it is expected to be the largest special meeting of the year for the builders.

Fountain-Carson High News

By SHARRY O'HARE

The Home Ec II girls are currently sewing under the direction of Mrs. Wynona Dondlinger. Joyce Snell and Linda Krug are making prom dresses; Zola Jones, Margaret Jaramillo, Trudy Conway, Beverly Pate, and Randy Florea are making spring dresses, and Anna Chavez is making a blouse.

Paul Chastain's photography class was given the assignment of exposing two rolls of film, one of animals and the other of children. Each week Chastain gives the students time to develop and print negatives of the subjects he gives the class. Students then give detailed reports of their finished products.

Students were dismissed from school Tuesday for parent-teacher conferences. Each parent spoke with two teachers for 10 minutes on their child's progress and abilities. Fifty-six per cent of the seniors parents attended, 50 per cent of the junior parents, and 59 per cent of the sophomore parents.

At the senior class meeting held March 30, decorations and refreshments for the Spring Swing were discussed. Senior Day was a topic of discussion which led to the adjournment of the meeting. The seniors then swapped autographs on their poetry notebooks.

The junior class elected Carolyn Trujillo and Mike Dunn for Student Council representatives. Plans for the prom were discussed along with the selection of a theme which is "An Enchanted Evening." The decorating committee was appointed with Jimmie Allison as the committee head.

Eddie Rodriguez was elected Student Council representative. The rules committee was appointed. The members are Eric Nedland, Weslyn Sweeney, Dick King and Ed Rodriguez. A penalty has been decided upon for all delinquent dues.

The junior play cast and crew of "It's A Great Life" had breakfast at the Swiss Chalet Friday. The play was at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. Following the play a cast party was held at the Ft. Carson Officers' Club. In the cast were Jeri Godbey, Jacque Cook, Carolyn Trujillo, Jimmie Allison, Nancy Dueboay, Dennis Oliver, Dianna Heikes, Don Cockroft, Art Humphreys, and Russ McBurney.

The general business class visited the First National Bank Wednesday, March 28. Two bank officials gave a guided tour of the entire bank building from the basement vault to the drive-in windows. Mrs. Ora Lee Mullins is the class instructor.

Seniors making the honor roll were Margaret Brotherton, Siegrid Knapp, Penny Coleman, Rick Paraday, Joyce Leonard, and Ann Rogers. Richard Jarboe, Rita Cox and Greg Armstrong were junior honor roll students, and sophomores Diane Kraus, Larry McGuire, and Sylvia Erickson captured a place on the honor roll. Honorable mention went to senior Tom Duran; juniors Carolyn Trujillo and Mike Dunn, and sophomore Shawna Gatrell.

The FTA Club voted on their officers for next year. Diane Kraus was elected president; Rich Malone, vice president; Ginny Leonard, secretary; Sig Jensen, treasurer; Randy Devens, parliamentarian, and Laura Nugent, historian.

Richard W. Gilbert Serving on Carrier

Richard W. Gilbert, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Gilbert of 2425 W. Kiowa St. is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway, which departed her home port at Alameda, Calif., Friday for a seven-month tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The cruise will mark the fourth to the Far East since the 62,000-ton carrier's recommissioning in 1957.

The Midway is scheduled to visit ports in Japan, Okinawa, Guam, the Philippines and Hong Kong.

Democratic National Treasurer Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Matthew H. McCloskey resigned Thursday after seven years as treasurer of the Democratic national committee.

Chairman John M. Bailey named Richard Maguire, an assistant to President Kennedy, to succeed McCloskey.

McCloskey, 69, a Philadelphia contractor, is reported in line to become U.S. ambassador to Ireland. He has served as party treasurer since January 1955, and has been a Democratic fundraiser for nearly 20 years. McCloskey claims to have originated the $100-a-plate dinner as a party fund-raising device.

Maguire, 47, has been serving as a White House assistant on personnel and organizational matters.

Austrian Chancellor Will Visit Kennedy

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Chancellor Alfons Gorbach has been invited by President Kennedy to come to Washington May 3 and has accepted, the chancellory announced Friday.

Gorbach, 63, also plans to go to Moscow, but informed sources said he wanted to go first to Washington.

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — President Jefferson personally was responsible for introduction of the long trousers (called pantaloons) and high-buttoned shoes cadets at the U.S. Military Academy wore in the early 1800s.

The long, thin cigars known as "stogies" got their name because they were designed for the needs of the Conestoga, Pa., wagon drivers who wanted a large, inexpensive cigar.

Their boat left Pompano Beach, Fla., Saturday and was due in Jamaica last Tuesday.

Ambassador Stadelhofer, who has handled American interests here since Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and the U.S. government broke diplomatic relations, said he visited the Americans and found them "in good health and spirits."

Cuban authorities had treated them "in an extremely correct way," he reported, supplying them with clothing to replace what they lost in the shipwreck and even placing three servants at their disposal.

He said he had been told the men swam ashore Thursday morning after their boat, the 46-foot Pisces, sank in heavy seas near Baracoa, near Cuba's easternmost tip.

Freeman telephoned his wife in Washington that the Pisces ran into a reef in a storm and sank within 10 minutes. He said they got to shore in a rubber boat and went to the first house they saw. He said the Cubans offered to help salvage equipment lost in the sinking.

(Dickson telephoned his father at Pompano Beach, Fla., that the men swam at least a mile to shore after their boat went down in 52 feet of water. He said the party received red carpet treatment from Cuban authorities and that Castro invited them to a personally conducted tour of Havana and asked them to give an exhibition of skindiving.)

Betz Calls for Help to Boost Fryingpan Bill

nedy had previously urged approval of the project in messages to Congress.

"The bill is far from passage, however," Betz said. "Although Cong. J. Edgar Chenoweth, (R) of Trinidad, has the responsibility for carrying it on the floor, some of his Republican colleagues are sniping at it with stalling tactics and threats of amendments which will weaken the measure."

The Democratic state chairman likened the project to the Colorado Big - Thompson in northern Colorado in terms of scope and benefits. He said that it would pay for itself while adding tremendously to the productive wealth of Colorado.

Among other Democrats who will go to Washington to encourage action on the project will be Albert Tomsic of Walsenburg, Speaker of the Colorado House of Representatives. Tomsic recently announced as Democratic candidate for Congress from the Third District.

Sen. Skiffington Attacks Report On Drug Costs

during the last 12 years, with the bulk or about 70 per cent of the increase attributed to higher cost of labor. The hike in labor cost during the period has risen about 200 per cent he said.

The committee plans a series of meetings over the state, beginning in June, with about eight to 10 days spent in each of four areas for discussion sessions with hospital administrators, physicians, civic groups and others interested. The meeting for this area will be held in Pueblo, with the dates to be set later.

In an effort to determine possible methods to cut hospital costs, Skiffington made the motion unamiously accepted, during the meeting that a hospital study report prepared by the University of Michigan be obtained. This report was made at a cost of $380,000 over a period of several years.

Two Santa Fe College Men to Visit Schools

Brother Andrew, dean of students, St. Michael's College, Santa Fe, N.M., and Warren Lee, dean of students, College of St. Joseph, Albuquerque, N.M. will visit the Colorado Springs area April 18 to interview students interested in these educational institutions and to counsel and assist any student planning a career in higher education.

They will be at St. Mary's High School at 2 p.m. and their schedule calls for a visit to "Colorado Springs Central High School" at 3 p.m. It was not known here Saterday whether this meant the Palmer or the Wasson High School. St. Mary's High School had received no notification of the visit there.

The College of St. Joseph is on the Rio Grande and is a fully accredited four - year coeducational Liberal Arts College.

The Colorado College Choir, under the direction of Donald Jenkins, will give its annual spring concert at 4 p.m. Sunday, April 15, in Shove Chapel on the college campus.

The choir is presently on its Easter tour, which is taking the group of selected members thru New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada and Colorado. Between March 28 and today the choir had a busy schedule of 11 concerts, starting in Albuquerque, N. M., and ending in Englewood, Colo. This organization was so successful on its tour last year that many of its present appearances are return engagements. One of these was the concert at the Pomona College in Claremont Calif.

At Shove Chapel the choir will perform the same program as on its Easter tour. The principle work will be Handel's Utrecht Jubilate, written in celebration of the peace of Utrecht which marked the end of the War of Spanish Succession in 1713. The prominent organ part will be played by Ben Gahart from this city, who also went with the choir on tour for the performance of this major work. Solo, duo and trio parts will be sung by Cheryl Betts, alto, John Giannis, baritone, and Vern Olivier, tenor.

A program of shorter choral repertoir, mostly a cappella, will be presented by the choir in addition to the Handel work.

The concert will be free to the audience and will mark the last event in the College Winter Concert Series.

much less, with a building permit issued for about $15,000.

"A blessing in disguise" is the term used by Jensen in describing the fire. The former establishment had grown to be inconvenient for customers and in a haphazard manner.

The new structure is expected to enhance the landmark thru modernization, combined with a planned rustic decor so long associated with the Chateau.

Tomsic Will Push For Fryingpan Project

WALSENBURG (AP) — Albert J. Tomsic, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 3rd District, said today he would push for the Fryingpan-Arkansas water diversion project while in Washington next week.

Tomsic, speaker of the Colorado House of Representatives, addressed a meeting of the District Democratic Central Committee.

He said, "This project is vital to the development of Southern Colorado, and action in the House may be the crucial test insofar as authorization of the project is concerned."

Hearings before the House Rules Committee have been completed and an effort to send the bill to the House Floor is expected next week. Tomsic will be in the capital attending the National Conference on Problems of the Aging.

Taft-Hartley Laws Invoked To End Strike and the Marine Cooks and Stewards—held out for a 17.5 per cent increase in wages and benefits. The shippers association offered an 11.5 per cent increase.

The walkout by an estimated 5,000 maritime workers has idled some 60 ships on the West Coast and in Hawaii. East Coast-based ships and foreign vessels are not involved.

The board of inquiry established by Kennedy is headed by James J. Healy, professor of industrial relations at the Harvard Graduate School of Business. Other members are Frank J. Dugan, Georgetown University law professor, and Laurence E. Seibel of Chevy Chase, Md., a professional arbitrator.

The board will hold its first meeting at the Labor Department Monday.

Earlier Saturday, the shipowners association urged the government to try to settle the strike by means other than a Taft-Hartley injunction. A statement by the association said an 80-day cooling-off period did not offer enough time to move sufficient cargo and that the strike was apt to begin all over again when the 80 days passed.

The shipowners contended the unions' demands would cost more than $8 million a year. They said management was offering $5,411,000 in annual increases.

East-West Route Hearing Set For April 23

state officials to start construction on the project.

Funds for engineering work on the expressway and for construction of the eastern leg were appropriated in the budget for the current fiscal year. Of the $600,000 authorized, $150,000 was for engineering and study and $450,000 was for construction.

The City of Colorado Springs acquired the old Midland right-of-way several years ago with the intention of turning it over to the state for the expressway. The city will be reimbursed for its cost.

Still to be determined is the route of the highway west of 26th St.

The portion from the west end of Manitou Springs to Cascade is scheduled as the second phase of the project and the middle link thru or around Manitou will complete the project.

Capt. Mike Mahr First In Toastmaster Contest

Capt. Mike Mehr of the Kit Carson Toastmasters Club won first place and Dave Jackson, of Colorado Springs Club No. 555 second place, when Toastmasters Clubs of Colorado Springs recently held their annual speech contest at Moors Restaurant.

Other contestants were Russ Stanton, Farmers Insurance Group Toastmasters; Bill Patterson, Cathedral Rock; Billy Finkbiner, Ent NCO Toastmasters; standing, Bob Clark, Governor Area 9; Charlie Carpenter, Toastmaster Lt. Governor Southern Colorado and Arnold Sandberg, Ent NCO Club.

Lifting Whisky From Counter Hospitalizes Man

A bottle of whiskey was directly responsible for hospitalizing a Ft. Carson man, Charles Wayne Johnson, early Saturday morning.

The police department reported that a man was seen to step calmly round the counter at Jerry's Bar, 118 N. Tejon St., and lift two bottles of whiskey in full view of the customers, while the waitress was busy elsewhere. He then disappeared rapidly thru the back door.

Police officers W. G. Clarke and N. Stratton arrived and found two men lurking in the area. They chased them, and in his haste, Johnson tripped, fell, and smashed the bottle. From the extent of his cuts he must have rolled all over it, police said. He had gashes on the left wrist, one on the leg and more on the back of the head.

He was taken to Ft. Carson Hospital. The second man, Henry Rodney Orgill, also of Ft. Carson, was found with one bottle, intact, and booked into the police department for investigation.

Air Force Academy Debate Team Wins Tournament

The U.S. Air Force Academy won the eighth annual service academies debate tournament Saturday in Kings Point, N. Y.

It was the second time since the tourney began in 1955 that the Air Force cadets captured the golden gavel trophy. The gavel is mounted on a block of wood from the Spanish - American War gunboat Emery Rice.

West Point was second in the debate, the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy of Kings Point was third, and Annapolis fourth. The Coast Guard Academy did not participate.

Topic of the debate was: "Labor organizations should be under the jurisdiction of anti-trust legislation." Each academy took the affirmative and negative side.

Students to Move 180,000 Books to New CC Library

Sidewalk Sales Issue Among City Council Items

Re-zoning requests, a proposed remodeling of City Hall and an ordinance that would prohibit sidewalk sales and solicitations will be among the major items to be considered by the Colorado Springs City Council at its regular meeting starting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The first item on the agenda will be a public hearing on the proposed rezoning of the west side of the 400, 500 and 600 blocks of North Nevada Avenue from R-5 (multi - family residential to C-5 (intermediate business).

Strong opposition to the rezoning was registered at a Planning Commission meeting on the proposal last month. The commission has recommended approval of the measure.

Attorney John Young is expected to represent a large number of neighborhood residents opposed to the rezoning.

The proposed ordinance banning sidewalk sales and solicitations was deferred at the last council meeting after objections were raised by several members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Salvation Army.

The council agreed at that time to defer action until all nine members of the council are present. A request by the VFW to sell Buddy Poppies May 19 was also deferred until action is taken on the ordinance.

City Manager John Biery has proposed that the council hire an architect for the remodeling of city hall so that plans and cost can be determined before the adoption of the 1963 budget.

The alterations are expected to be made shortly after the police department moves into its new building at the end of this year.

Among the proposed changes are the expansion of the traffic and engineering department offices, the use of present jail facilities for records storage and moving the building department, now located in the Utilities Building, into the City Hall basement.

Other items on the agenda include the following:

An amending ordinance to change the northeast corner of Northview Drive and Palmer Park Boulevard from the R-2 (single - family residential) to the R-5 (multi-family residential) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance concerning fees for electricians and compliance bonds (second reading).

An amending ordinance relating to cemeteries (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change the northwest corner of Monument and Weber Streets from the R-5 (multi - family residential) to the C-5 (intermediate business) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change the south side of the 200 block of East Victoria Street from the R-3 (two - family residential) to the M-1 (light industrial) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change the northwest corner of Beacon and New Fillmore Street from the A-1 (garden home) to the C-6 (general business) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change 2202 N. Chestnut St. from the C-4 (neighborhood business) to the C-6 (general business) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change 10 S. 23rd St. from the R-3 (two-family residential) to the R-5 (multi - family residential) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change the south side of the 400 block of West Columbia Street from the R-3 (two - family residential) to the R-4 (eight family residential) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change the northeast corner of Platte Avenue and Pine Street from the R-5 (multi - family residential to the C-5 (intermediate business) zone (second reading).

An amending ordinance to change 1408 through 1426 Stanley Lane from the R-2 (single-family residential) to the R-4 (eight-family residential) zone (second reading).

Proposal by the City Planning Commission to amend the ordinance establishing and providing for the commission.

Further consideration of a request by George Vradenburg to purchase a piece of city - owned land. It involves land on Chestnut Street between Boulder Street and Platte Avenue.

Petition by Tom Collier for annexation of Austin Bluffs Addition No. 27, a 9-acre tract lying northeast of the intersection of Drakestone Drive and Chelton Road.

Request by Pikes Peak Development Company for annexation of Austin Bluffs Addition No. 28, an 11-acre tract located between Brady Boulevard and Maizeland Road about 600 feet east of Chelton Road.

Coming under the heading of new business will be the following items.

Request by Ray D. Nixon, director of Utilities, to call for bids for installation of 5,800 feet of 24-inch water main from the Mesa filter plant to about 33rd Street. The pipe has already been purchased by council authority.

Request by William E. Carraway, director of industrial development, Colorado Springs Industrial Foundation, to be excused from paying $1,200 per acre water charges on land that the foundation now has under option to the Hewlett - Packard Company.

Request by Hewlett - Packard Company for a water tap to its proposed building on land in the Pikes Peak Industrial Park on the basis of agreeing to pay the actual cost of making the tap and the payment for water connection as set forth by the city ordinance. The request comes from George F. Frederick, plant manager.

Petition by Robert N. Newbill and Sam V. Gordon requesting annexation of a 245-acre tract located on the south side of Palmer Park Boulevard extended east about 1,320 east of the proposed Academy Boulevard.

Petition by Cecil VerDuft and O. L. Clark for annexation of Highland Hills Addition No. 2, which is a 26.26 - acre tract lying northwest of Grandview Lane and Chelton Road.

Petition by Dan Howells requesting vacation of lots 17 through 55, block 1, Pleasant Valley Subdivision No. 5. The new Fontanero - Fillmore Street loop will go thru this area.

Consideration of right-of-way for future extension of Union Boulevard north thru Dr. F. Houck's property to a connection with Fillmore Street.

Permission to advertise for bids in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by the Ryan Engineering Company for the resurfacing of the northwest-southeast runway at Peterson Field.

City Manager John M. Biery said that between the receiving of bids and award of contract the city will receive a grant offer of participation by the Federal Aviation Agency. This grant will amount to about half of the total project cost.

Request by C. L. Chambon, Surplus City, for permission to display pup tents on the area between the sidewalk and curbing at 204 S. 24th St.

Petition by Howard A. Hart for Beal Hart of Denver for special access into an area between Tejon Street and Nevada Avenue and Fountain Street and the Rio Grande Western Railroad.

Expiration of terms on boards and commissions.

Application by Oscar M. Dull Jr. and Juanita Frey Dull for a retail liquor store license for the Wine Shop, 220 E. Pikes Peak Ave. This license in now held by Joe T. and Helen Boyd and J. Ray and Margaret Heiter.

Resolution authorizing the city to act as a mortgagee in FHA loans.

Resolution authorizing the city clerk to invest about $20,000 of cemetery endowment trust funds in FHA insured mortgages, U. S. Treasury securities or certificates of deposits with authorized banks.

Notice of injury.

Ft. Carson Man Held On Short Check Charge

A Ft. Carson man, George Johnson, 23, was taken into custody following a charge of short check, the sheriff's office reported Saturday.

The complaint was signed by Silver Day, 1700 Mesita Rd., who received a $6.30 check from Johnson. According to Deputy Sheriff Betty Clausen, Johnson has at least 12 more checks, all short, out in the district at present.

The First National Bank of Colorado Springs said that the defendant opened an account there Feb. 2 which was closed by the writing of one check for the amount deposited. Since then several other checks have continued to be presented.

Colleen Rollins 'Sailor of Month' At Great Lakes

Colleen Rollins Pn2, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Rollins, 325 S. 11th St., who has been a WAVE for five years, has been awarded the honor of "Sailor of the Month" (March) at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. She is a USAFI test clerk in the Information and Education office. She performs duties in the administration of the USAFI Program and USAFI Registration Section; counsels personnel and processes applications for USAFI courses. She also administers USAFI tests, including general educational development tests, at high school and college level. She acts as proctor, maintains security requirements, and performs various clerical duties in connection with the USAFI Program, and maintains records and texts of classified enlisted correspondence courses.

Mrs. Rollins has received a copy of the citation. It reads:

"Rollins performs her assigned duties in an outstanding manner. She assumes the initiative and can be relied upon to solve any problem or task that may arise with little or no supervision. Rollins' consistently amilable personality and perseverance is continually demonstrated in the manner she assumes the responsibility of counseling and solving the problems presented to her by those naval personnel seeking guidance or means for the improvement of their educational stature. Owing primarily to her endeavor and enthusiasm the USAFI Program of the Center has increased by 25 per cent during the year that she has been assigned to the information and education division."

The honored WAVE is on her second enlistment, having served at Norfolk and San Diego. She is wing petty office collector for all charity and recreation drives and bowls on two teams.

She has a brother, Gary J. Rollins in the service in Germany, three other brothers in Denver and a sister in San Francisco. Her father is deceased.

ing with Mrs. White; on suspicion of assault and battery. Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick said charges will be filed against Seaborn on Monday.

County Welfare Department Welfare worker Nona Stoddard discovered Mrs. White Friday morning in an unconscious state and notified Dr. George W. Bancroft.

Mrs. White was admitted to St. Francis Hospital suffering from body injuries, apparent head injuries, blood in her spinal fluid and convulsions. She was reported still unconscious late Saturday.

Dr. Bancroft notified police of the incident Saturday morning. Detectives L. C. Heinz and Robert Murphy arrested Seaborn at 2:50 p.m. Saturday in Duncan's Cafe, 25 W. Colorado Ave.

Seaborn admitted he had been staying at the White home. He said there had been no fight but that she "fell a lot." Seaborn said that he found the woman lying by her bed Wednesday morning and helped her back into the bed. He told police he noticed blood on her mouth at that time.

Mrs. White lived in a house on the rear of the lot at the Moreno Avenue address. John Gibson, who lives in the front house, told detectives he was Mrs. White's landlord. Gibson said Seaborn had talked with him Wednesday and admitted having trouble with her.

Police found Saturday that bedding in Mrs. White's home had been moved and some removed by the Gibsons. The bed was broken and an empty wine bottle found in the house was taken to the police department to check for fingerprints.

There was no evidence of any instrument used in the attack.

Chief McKissick said that Seaborn has had a police record of arrests for drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons and had a juvenile record of minor offenses since 1924.

Mrs. White is the widow of John White, who died several years ago, police said.

Census to Survey Consumer Buying Plans, Migration

The Census Bureau, acting as collecting agent for the Federal Reserve Board, will conduct a special "Survey of Buying intentions" as part of the April Current Population Survey.

A number of families in the Current Population Survey sample panel will be asked questions on consumer plans to purchase air conditioners, automobiles, clothes dryers, dish washers, hi-fi equipment, houses, refrigerators, and television sets. This information is collected quarterly for the Federal Reserve Board for use in studies of consumer buying trends.

A number of questions on migration will be asked in the April survey. These questions will cover place of residence this year compared with April 1.

The questions on consumer buying plans and migration are in addition to the regular inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey.

The Current Population Survey will be conducted here and in 332 other sample areas of the country during the week of April 16. Information will be collected locally by Donna Binkly, 1233 La Salle St.

AUSA Will Seek New Members

The Pikes Peak Chapter of the Association of the United States Army will make a solicitation of new members of the organization Tuesday. A statement issued Saturday says:

"The impact of the Army's activities and its personnel on the Pikes Peak Region is known to us and needs no further telling. The activation of the Fifth Infantry Division (Mechanized) will be responsible for even more economic impact, and it behooves each and every one of us, as interested citizens and members of the community, to know of our army's activities. To implement your knowledge and participation in Army affairs, membership in the Association of the United States Army is a step forward.

"We salute you who are members and ask those of you who currently are not members to be receptive to representatives from the A.U.S.A. who want to tell their story of the organization and its purpose.

"These people will be calling on you Tuesday morning, April 10. Show them the courtesy you would expect to be shown and show your backing of the army in the community by becoming a member of this fine organization."

Barton Brothers Enlist in Air Force

Timothy and Clifford Barton, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Barton of 3527 W. Colorado Ave. enlisted together in the Air Force last month, according to T. Sgt. Bruce S. Adams, local Air Force Recruiter. Gifford Barton is married to the former Peggy A. Scarborough of 2824 Lark Dr.

The brothers both enlisted in the Air Force for training in the General aptitude area and are presently undergoing their initial phase of Air Force Basic Military Training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Upon completion of that training they will be either sent to formal Air Force Technical schools or sent to using commands for formal on - the - job training within the General Aptitude Area. They both chose the aptitude area of enlistment based upon the results of Air Force aptitude tests given them prior to enlistment.

SPEED LIMIT 20 WHEN FLASHING

Six Flashing Signals Go In Use at Schools Monday

Speed flashing signals at six school crossings will go into operation Monday, according to Jay Myers, acting city traffic engineer, and Lt. Jess Spears, head of the police traffic bureau.

The six intersections are at Pikes Peak and Hayman Avenues, Palmer Park Boulevard and Howard Avenue, Manitou Boulevard and 19th Street, North Circle Drive and Bennett Avenue, Fountain and Institute Streets, Cache La Poudre Street and Logan Avenue.

The flashers were installed by Johnson Electric Company under a $3,640 contract.

This does not include $600 for equipment and $1,500 for overhead wiring done by the Utilities Department.

Myers said that whenever the lights are flashing, motorists must not exceed a speed of 20 miles per hour.

But more important, he said, motorists must yield to school children and pedestrians when the lights are flashing.

Some of the lights may be flashing most of the days when school is in session because of double schedules and class changes.

Myers said the new signals are a decided improvement over the old type which required motorists to stop when the light was flashing whether there were any pedestrians or not.

Spears said the police department will partol the new signal intersections and that tickets will be issued to those exceeding the 20 mile per hour limit when the device is flashing.

He said tickets will also be issued to those motorists who do not yield the right of way to pedestrians when the lights are in operation.

Myers said that additional improvements may have to be made later at heavily-traveled school crossings.

This would mean, he said, that some of the present flashers may have to be replaced with a push-button signal such as the one now near St. Mary's School.

Oldfield Stresses Importance of Latin Language

The importance of the Latin language and its effect on civilization today was cited by Col. Barney Oldfield in an address before the Colorado—Wyoming Junior Classical League during its convention Saturday in Alameda High School, Jefferson High School.

Oldfield said the "Latin route to understanding is the most consistent way to go" in communication today between nations of the world, whether it be in the philosophical, professional or technical fields.

A language long recognized as universal, most nations of the Western world have a common base in Latin.

"If this legacy from the past makes it possible for you to express yourself better in English," Oldfield said, "and to learn another language more easily, to study the findings of the many brilliant old ancestors we have all had, it will have served you well."

A dramatic example of the understanding of Latin among persons of different nations was given by Oldfield.

He cited the experiences of a friend of his, a military physician. The physician inadvertently crossed the German front during World War II and was taken into custody by the Nazi soldiers. A souvenir pistol was found in his vehicle and the doctor ordered to explain in precise detail the routine of an appendectomy— in Latin, in order to prove his medical knowledge.

Two Springs Men Enlist in Air Force

Gerold Lloyd Gentry, husband of Mrs. Nancy L. Gentry of 723 N. Custer Ave. and Graham Hardy Smith, husband of Mrs. Nancy Smith of 2915 Wood Ave. and son of Mrs. Frances Smith of 30 Boulder Crescent, enlisted in the Air Force last week for a two-year period, T. Sgt. Bruce S. Adams, Air Force Recruiter, said Saturday.

Gentry, a graduate of Colorado University, had previously completed a four - year enlistment in the Air Force. Smith, a graduate of the University of Arizona, was a member of the Army Reserves and had completed six months active duty in California.

Emperor's Daughter Gives Birth to Son

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito's youngest daughter gave birth today to a son, her first child. Both were reported doing well.

The former Princess Suga, 23, was married in March 1961 to Takako Shimazu, an employe of the Japan Export-Import Bank in Tokyo.

RODEO QUEEN—Keith Hook, president of the Colorado Junior Championship Rodeo, congratulates Miss Cathy McPherson on her being selected queen of the 1962 Junior Rodeo. Behind Miss McPherson is Miss Bonnie McPheron, aide, and at the left is Miss Janet Phelps, alternately. Cathy and Bonnie McPherson are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McPhearson, who live north of Colorado Springs. Miss Phelps is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Phelps, 228 E. Fontanero St.

Le Force to Head Local Committee For Realtor Week

Roy Hackathorn, president of the Colorado Springs Board of Realtors Inc., announced Saturday that C. V. Le Force will head the board's committee in charge of the observance of Realtor Week here May 20-26.

Le Force, a broker in the local Real Estate Board, has served for several years on public relations and realtor promotion. Le Force received his education at Colorado College and was graduated with a degree in bachelor of arts. He majored in business money and banking. He won an Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Award for the outstanding business student.

He heads the firm of Faith Realty Inc., and has been broker for three years. Other members of his committee include Homer Busby, broker of Busby Realty; Charles Jett of Builders Realty; Richard Livermore of Weidman and Company and Nelson G. Haley, broker of Haley Realty.

Hackathorn said the 234 realtors in Colorado Springs will join with thousands of colleagues across the nation for the celebration, which is being held in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the Homestead Act.

The Homestead Act made available millions of acres of public land to private ownership and settlement. It was passed by Congress on May 20, 1862, and led to the settlement of a territory equal in extent to Great Britain and France combined.

Realtors and other groups and associations are observing the occasion along with the United States Department of Interior. A special U.S. commemorative postage stamp, will be available on May 21 to mark the centennial.

Hackathorn said that the purpose of Realtor Week was to make better known to the public the services offered by realtors and to point up the differences between realtors and others in the real estate business.

It is estimated that the world will have a population of 6.25 billion by the year 2000.

Shah Will See Marine Assault

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Shah of Iran will join President Kennedy to watch a Marine mock assault on the North Carolina coast next week, the White House said.

Kennedy leaves next Friday for Norfolk, Va., where he will board a ship and spend the night at sea. He will observe Navy fleet and air maneuvers Saturday before going ashore to see the Marine demonstration at Onslow Beach.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the shah will meet Kennedy at the beach near Cherry Point. By that time the state visit of the shah and empress to Washington will have been completed. Whether he would accompany Kennedy back to Washington Saturday night is uncertain.

The shah and empress arrive in the capital next Wednesday.

26th Atom Blast Tried in Nevada

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 26th announced nuclear test in this country's current series was set off underground Friday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

Like the 25th shot announced Thursday, Friday's blast was described as of low yield—meaning it had a blast equivalent of not more than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Enlisted Men Cited by NORAD

Two enlisted men of the Army platoon of the North American Air Defense Command Honor Guard have been cited by the commander-in-chief of NORAD and presented "Certificate of Recognition" awards upon termination of their membership in the Honor Guard and subsequent separation from the U. S. Army.

They are Sgt. Donald F. Bokinskie and Spec. 4 Philip C. Turner, both members of the U.S. Army Air Defense Command Honor Guard.

The ARADCOM Honor Guard, which is the Army element of the NORAD Honor Guard, performs at military formations honoring foreign and U.S. dignitaries who visit NORAD headquarters.

Wasson High School News

By JAMES CURTIS

A busy return week is planned for the WHS students by the faculty and the Student Organization. After the spring vacation, which lasted all of last week, the faculty will head off this week by issuing report cards for the third quarter. These cards should be signed by parents and returned before the end of the week.

Lon Baugh, secretary of assemblies, has planned a full week of educational school meetings, starting Monday with a topical aerospace assembly featuring movies, demonstrations, and a lecture by a prospective member of the Astronant team. He will explain the space flights made by the U. S. and where we stand in the space race.

Tuesday, the auditorium is reserved for a film on narcotics and their effects and attraction on teen-agers. The movie will be shown continously all day for the physical education classes, students from study halls, and students on their lunch hours.

The candidates for the 1062-63 cabinet, the executive branch of the student government, will be nominated and elected in the usual two - party system used in previous years at Wasson. The parties, the Cardinal, meeting in the auditorium, and the Silver, in the Boy's Gym, will convene Wednesday afternoon for the nominations of candidates for the offices. The nominations of candidates in the separate wards will be done thru nomination speeches. Any party member may make nominations for the rest of his ward to vote on. From the list of nominees, the ward will choose a candidate to represent them in the election campaign. Campaigning will include posters, and speeches starting April 16 until April 19.

Inauguration of the newly elected cabinet members will be April 27 with the Inaugural Ball that night.

The week's activities will be topped off Friday with a Choir Assembly by the several vocal groups in the performing arts department.

Most Airplane Bomb Scares Traced to Practical Jokers

By LOUIS G. PANOS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most airplane bomb scares are started by practical jokers—not by mentally deranged characters, FBI sources said today.

Expressing concern about the growing number of plane bomb hoaxes, FBI officials say they have identified nearly 400 persons responsible for such false reports in the last six years.

"It has been found that most of these individuals have been persons of maturity and, in many cases, persons who were connected with substantial businesses," said the FBI.

"It has been apparent that many of these individuals can best be described as perverted practical jokers who made statements regarding possible bombs on aircraft out of a warped sense of humor or while under the influence of liquor," it added.

FBI files disclosed this cross-section of bomb hoax perpetrators:

A welding company partner, 49, from Fall River, Mass., who became angry about the delay of his flight from Miami to Boston in January 1961. "If you don't get this flight out in 10 minutes," he told a ticket agent, "I'll have to rewind my bomb." He was fined $250.

A Midwestern lawyer who tried to delay the departure of a client by falsely reporting a bomb was aboard the client's plane. He was sentenced to one year in prison and was fined $1,000.

A Denver man who telephoned airport officials that his mother-in-law and six sticks of dynamite were aboard a departing plane. When arrested he said he had been drinking after his wife made him angry. He was sentenced to four months.

False reports like these, said the FBI, "constitute a grave problem and represent an appalling record of lawlessness."

County Adjusters Will Hear Three Cases Thursday

The El Paso County Board of Adjustment will meet at 2 p.m. Thurslay to hear three petitions.

The board will hear the petition and appeal of Earnest E. Clemons for permission to construct a 2½ by 20 foot addition to an existing dwelling on a lot 74.15 by 100 feet in an R—1 residence zone at 1315 Richards Ave. The addition is partly within a side yard setback which does not conform with the zoning resolution.

The petition and appeal of Glen O. Schwandt will be presented by Alsco Products of Colorado Springs, Inc., for permission to construct a carport 20 by 14 feet on a lot 227.8 by 178.6 by 14.1 feet in an R-1 residence zone at 501 Hawthorne Pl. The carport is partly within a front yard setback which does not conform with the zoning resolution.

The petition and appeal of Mrs. C. S. Wright will also be heard. The request is for permission to change the use of a portion 12 by 14 feet of an existing dwelling to an art studio on a lot 337.5 by 50 by 183.6 by 45 by 195.2 feet in an R-1 residence zone at 819 Cheyenne Blvd. The application is for approval of the use in the zone.

Automobile Backfires, Catches on Fire

The car of H. E. Zearley, 1227 Gunnison St., was badly damaged Friday when it caught on fire from back-firing while in the 900 block on South Arcadia Street. The fire department was called at 1:14 p.m. and Company 4 put out the fire.

Company 4 earlier in the day went to 811 E. High Street where John F. Holloway, 12-year-old stepson of Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony, was accidentally locked out of the house while his parents were away from home. The firemen entered a window and let him in.

Federal Tax Tips

By ROGER E. WARD
Administrative Representative
Internal Revenue Service

There are only eight days left to file your 1961 tax return. Between now and the due date, April 16, there will be plenty of figuring thruout the entire country. About 30 million taxpayers will race the clock to beat the tax deadline. In this district, over 250,000 taxpayers will race old man time to beat zero hour, midnight, April 16, to get their returns in to the district director. (Colorado taxpayers will mail their federal returns to "District Director of Internal Revenue, Denver 2, Colorado). I urge last-minute filers to begin working on their returns right away. That way, they will be ahead of the race, and translated into income tax terms, this means that there is less chance to make mistakes and overpay your tax. To those who owe additional tax, it is due and payable with the filing of the return with checks or money orders payable to "Internal Revenue Service."

DECLARATION OF ESTIMATED TAX

I wish also to remind all taxpayers that April 16 is the due date for filing their declarations of estimated income tax for the calendar year 1962. Form 1040 - ES must be used for this purpose and it must be accompanied by a payment of at least one-fourth of the tax estimated to be due for the year after deducting credits to which the taxpayer will be entitled (such as the income tax to be withheld from salary or wages during the year).

After a taxpayer estimates the total tax he will be required to pay for the year, and substracts the credits to which he is entitled (such as the income tax to be withheld), the taxpayer is liable for filing the Form 1040-ES if his remaining estimated tax can reasonably be expected to be more than $40 and his estimated gross income: (1) Includes more than $200 of income not subject to withholding; (2) Exceeds $5,000, if he is a single person who does not qualify as a surviving spouse or a head of household, or he is a married person not entitled to file a joint Form 1040-ES; (3) Exceeds $10,000, if he qualifies as a surviving spouse or head of household; or (4) Exceeds $5,000, if he is married and entitled to file a joint Form 1040-ES and the combined estimated income of he and his wife exceeds $10,000. The new law requiring all taxpayers to have an identification number for tax purposes will apply to the Form 1040-ES for the first time this year. All taxpayers who have Social Security numbers must enter them on the Form 1040-ES, for this purpose. Those who do not have a Social Security number must file their Form 1040-ES on time and should not wait until they are issued a number. The Internal Revenue Service will inspect all such forms this year and will mail application blanks to all taxpayers who did not enter a Social Security number on their Form 1040-ES. If you do not have a number, you should not contact the service for such an application, since it will be mailed to you automatically.

NEED LOCAL ASSISTANCE?

If you need help in preparing your 1961 return, contact our office in Room 206, U.S. Post Office Building, or if you just have a question or two, you may be able to complete that return by just making a phone call. Police Seeking Owners of Lost, Stolen Bicycles

Anybody missing a bicycle?

If so, the vehicle may be at the Colorado Springs police department.

Officer George Hall said the department has quite a collection of bicycles which have found their way to the police department in one way or another.

Those who are missing bicycles should check with Hall at the police department, Hall said.

The lost, strayed or stolen bicycles can be reclaimed by rightful owners upon proper identification.

The department keeps the bicycles for a time and then sells them off at public auction, with proceeds going into the police pension fund.

Hall said an auction has to be held from time to time because the police department has limited storage space.

Some of the bicycles have been stolen and later abandoned, after which they are turned over to the police department.

Hall urges anyone missing a bicycle to come down to the department and check over the present collection.

J. O. Veteto Honored At Adams State College

J. O. Veteto, Colorado Springs contractor, was one of three Colorado men honored as outstanding citizens at a Founders Day convocation at Adams State College, Alamosa, Thursday. The two others were James French, Del Norte, state legislator, and Oakley Wade, Las Animas, state legislator.

Each was awarded a certificate recognizing his efforts as an outstanding leader in state, regional and community affairs.

The keynote speaker at the convocation was Dr. Arthur S. Asams, former president of the American Council of Education and currently professor of higher education at the University of Colorado.

"Our society must seek and cleave to values, and we must know where we stand on vital issues," he said.

10 Windows Smashed In PDQ Wash

Police reported Saturday that 10 windows were smashed at the PDQ Car Wash, 529 S. Nevada Ave., late Friday night or in the early hours of Saturday morning. Estimated damage was $35.

30-Year-Old Man Held In Prowling Probe

Wallace Lewis Bishop, 30, 3700 N. Nevada Ave. was booked into county jail early Saturday morning for investigation of prowling, according to the sheriff's office.

J. E. Murray and Kenneth Wheeler, also 3700 N. Nevada Ave., told Deputy Sheriffs Vincent Denbroske and Bernard Barry that they noticed Bishop looking thru windows of the apartment house, and that he had gradually worked his way toward the Murray apartment.

Bishop admitted he was walking among the buildings, but denied looking thru any windows. He said he had a prowler around his apartment and that he was looking for him.

Wheeler signed a complaint and Bishop was taken to county jail.

New Decentralization Plan Aids State Hospital Patients

Geographical grouping at Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo, inaugurated March 1, is having a beneficial effect on patients from El Paso County, according to authorities at the hospital.

Under the new program, patients have subjects in common geographically, according to authorities, with a resulting beneficial therapy. There are no set visiting hours; persons from various sections of the state can visit patients at any convenient time.

Patients so inclined may attend weekly dances and movies, various tabel games are at their disposal; each ward has a television set and patients vote on programs they want to view. Church services are held each Sunday.

"The dormitories are kept open during the day and are never locked at night," Dr. Haydee Kort, staff psychiatrist, said last week." Several of the patients are trusted to carry keys to let others out of buildings, and this gives them 'a better feeling' when they may ask another patient to let them out rather than asking a staff member."

The new setup groups patients from six geographical areas of Colorado, with patients from El Paso County and 11 other countries living in the hospital's Central Area. The 11 other counties in this area are Lake, Chaffee, Park, Fremont, Custer, Teller, Douglas, Elbert, Lincoln, Kit Carson and Cheyenne.

The combined population of the 12 counties in 1960 was 204,436, and the hospital listed 594 patients from this area. As of April 1, the number of patients had decreased to 384, or 200 males and 184 females.

EACH AREA HAS ITS OWN TEAM

Each area has its own professional team, according to the number of patients, as well as teams for the specialized units which include geriatrics, alcoholic, children, medical and surgical treatment, maximum security and the screening center.

CENTRAL MAIN BUILDING—This red brick building houses staff offices as well as rooms and dormitories for patients in the Central Area at Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo. Designated Building 49, it is also the location of the general reception room for family and friends of patients.

SYMBOL OF TRUST—A patient uses her key to let another patient leave the building. Hospital authorities find this simple act gives patients a feeling that they can be trusted.

VOTERS' CHOICE—Patients watch television in the central activity room of the main building at the Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo. Patients take a vote on programs they want to view.

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITY — Victor Velarde, recreator for the Central Team, instructs two patients in a simple table game in the recreation room of the cafeteria basement.

'We've Never Had It So Good'

Without question, one of the most difficult questions to be posed by today's political collectivists relates to the apparent good times we are experiencing. How can things be so terrible, we are asked, when standards of living are rising, when industry is expanding at least marginally, when there is only a fractional unemployment, when the "gross national product" is at a new high, in short, when we "never had it so good?"

Whenever this question is asked we are reminded of the story of the man who jumped off the top of the Empire State Building and as he passed the 14th floor, he shouted to a startled observer: "Nothing's gone wrong yet!"

We are informed by those who have tried it that a free fall in space can be a rather pleasant experience. But some way, so long as the laws of gravity pertain, a landing must occur. If there is no parachute or other device to break the fall, catastrophe can be safely predicted.

In a very real sense, this is what has happened to the American economy.

Beginning some years ago, the government began to intervene more and more in the operation of our economic structure. To do this, it began to tax more and more. Finally, it began to regulate and to control. It has been in process of violating economic laws ever since. But so long as economic laws remain, and lacking some workable device which can call a halt to the fallacies, a smash-up can be predicted.

Just when it will occur is not known. It would be equivalent to try to find out how high is "up." But it will undoubtedly be true that so long as governmental economic doctoring continues, the illusion is going to be fostered that the government is a parachute. There are going to be some very surprised people when the forceful contact with reality ensues.

Without a doubt, the reason for so much confusion in the economic area relates to the Keynsian philosophy which has been adopted in this nation officially ever since the second Roosevelt acquired the reins of power. This Keynsian philosophy supposes that ALL economic ills can be remedied by spending more money. Thus, any time a lag in spending ensues, the government, true to this philosophy, loosens the purse strings and in effect prints more money.

And, to make the matter even more acute, if private firms or individuals don't spend "sufficiently" to please the political fulminators of our ruin, then the government steps into the breach waving contracts and largesse and subsidies and "benefits."

So long as there appears to be lots of money floating around, then the tendency to spend freely is encouraged. And without question, this stimulates the feeling of success and affluence so often noted in this particular kind of "free fall."

Perhaps we can illustrate our precarious position best by talking briefly about gold.

Gold has been officially priced at $35 per ounce. The figure is silly at the moment, but when the pegging occurred it was probably slightly above market value. With the passing of the years, the true value of gold (on the open or, in America, on the black market) has continued to rise.

Today, no one knows what the true price of gold would be if buyers of gold were free to bid on it. But foreign claims against American gold reserves now exceed the total amount of such reserves.

This means that our entire money system is at the mercy of foreign claimants. Should they elect to make their legally justified demand, only one of two things could happen. (1) We would lose all our gold reserves and be in arrears in the final payments. Or, (2) we would repudiate these payments before this final moment was reached.

In either case, American credit would be ruined. And the value of the paper dollar, private funds which are related to the paper dollar, bonded indebtedness and other examples of money or credit, would drop rapidly.

This does not mean that we lack the ability to produce more gold. On the contary, there is probably more gold available for the digging than has ever been mined to date. But to get it out of the ground today at inflated wages would require more money than the gold is worth at the artificially pegged price.

(We will continue this discussion below.)

Honest Appraisal

The individual who can honestly evaluate his own merit and at the same time retain confidence in himself will go far.

Our Phony Prosperity

Let us consider what might happen to the American money system if gold were (1) officially re-valued upward, or if (2) the metal were permitted to enter the market for private bidding without government control.

In spite of the fact that this nation has minted no gold coins since early in the 30's, and in spite of the fact that all our gold reserves are held in trust for foreign claimants, the value of our monetary reserves is still geared to gold in the final analysis.

And it is geared to gold at the official price of $35 per ounce.

If the government were officially to change the exchange rate to, say, $70 per ounce, which is probably a realistic figure, this would result in the immediate loss in purchasing power of every dollar in your possession. Its ability to buy anything would be reduced by fifty percent.

If, on the other hand, gold were permitted to enter the market freely for competitive bidding, an adjustment would occur. Just what would happen in this adjustment can't be accurately forecast.

That paper money and credit would lose value is unquestioned. But how much it would lose would depend upon a whole new series of factors which would immediately come into play.

Gold mines would reopen and new gold supplies would begin appearing which would tend to halt the decline in purchasing power for paper money and credit. How much and how fast this occurred would be one of the determining factors to the drop in purchasing power.

But when this occurred, there would be a countervailing force at play. Many people would begin insisting on gold payments in the domestic market. And this would have a tendency to worsen the value of paper money and other credits.

Additionally, a free market in gold would deprive politicians of some of the power they now hold in manipulating money and credit. We would be less at the mercy of political mendicants and less subject to inflation. But we would be more on our own, and more subject to market place economic rules.

This final course is the one we would recommend. . .the freeing of gold so that it can compete in the market place without goverment restrictions. For, if this could occur, altho there would be a period of adjustment, in the end conditions could be righted.

But it is quite logical to assume that should this procedure eventuate, our government would be in very serious circumstances. Previous office holders, as well as the incumbent batch, have assisted in creating a class of governmental dependents which now numbers well over ten million persons.

These people receive all of their income, or a major portion of it, thru the taxing devices which have been established. The readjustment would probably be drastic enough to force many of them back into the market place to compete constructively for a livelihood. And since many of them have grown unaccustomed to this procedure and would positively rebel at having to labor so arduously for a living, the repercussions of this adjustment could be fantastically difficult.

However, consider the alternate. We are, at the moment, totally at the mercy of foreigners. One can readily recognize the frantic pleas of all recent presidents respecting the continuation of foreign aid, as being motivated by a fear that our claimants abroad will crack the whip. If foreign aid should stop, it is quite likely that our gold reserves will vanish like a mist under a morning sun. Then what?

A great number of this nation's economists, both of liberal and conservative persuasion, are now of the view that we are in serious trouble. And about the only thing our present political leadership feels that it dare do is to continue our frantic give-away programs hoping to delay the final accounting.

The longer it is delayed, the more certainly will the collapse be serious. Now, as this situation is seen, one wonders at the assurance of hordes of recipients of government funds.

How will we know when the accounting is beginning to take place? There will be several unmistakable indices. Prices will suddenly shoot upwards toward the zenith. Loans will become harder and harder to negotiate. People will begin bartering as a preferable way to exchange goods and services. There will be a "flight from the dollar."

Perhaps then we will learn that we cannot trust the state in the management of so important a thing as money. And also, it is possible that we will learn not to judge by appearances. Our current "prosperity" is bolstered by inflation and is a real phony.

The American Way

They Must Be Wraiths

By ROBERT MORRIS

Even tho the damage wrought by Khrushchev's fifth column here among us has been monumental, with our paralysis with respect to nuclear testing in the atmosphere putting it now again in sharp focus, the powerful campaign to minimize or deny its existence continues to flourish.

Every day's press gives prominent space to those "experts" who contend that there is no danger to our survival as a free nation from within. People who have had no experience whatever in the highly technical area of internal security are being heralded as authoritative voices swelling the chorus that tells us all is well in this vital area.

Seven hundred million Chinese are in bondage largely because of what our Communists and fellow travelers accomplished here. Cuba is Soviet today because of pressures within the United States. In the Congo, where there are no indigenous Communists, Soviet power has been imported by Rajeshwar Dayal and a clique of U.N. officials, with our support, who have fashioned a classical Communist coalition government.

Espionage, according to our attorney general, is now more extensive than ever. Soviet intelligence, downgrading its Communist party here, has been putting stress instead on its underground apparatus, its U.N. delegations and representatives, and its blackmailing and its pressuring of officials with past indiscretions and deviations of character.

As J. Edgar Hoover keeps warning us, the Communists in the United States are stronger than ever because external Soviet power behind them is stronger than ever. The external and internal threats are not mutually exclusive. The internal threat is greater than ever because the external threat is greater.

One of the poorest gauges of Soviet power within the United States is the numerical strength of the American Communist Party. After the Internal Security Act of 1950 was passed, Soviet Intelligence began to dismantle the CPUSA. It became the target of the law and emphasis was put elsewhere.

Yet, people who proved themselves competent in assessing the progress of the Communists up until then, kept their eyes on that ball, on the erroneous assumption that that was still the prime Soviet instrumentality. Meanwhile, particularly after Khrushchev's ascent to power, Soviet tactics changed and entirely new stratagems were employed.

Khrushchev's weapon "peaceful coexistence" which calls for our neutrality while Soviet aggressions continue, is highly successful today because the leaders of our society do not even understand it. Obligingly, Americans of good reputation are stepping forth and are taking upon themselves the task of neutralizing our churches, our educational structures, our powerful foundations and our mass communications media. Under "peaceful coexistence" it is literally true that evil men will triumph if only good men do nothing and remain neutral in man's greatest struggle.

Castro is assembling a powerful arsenal. He is building missile-launching pads and has the rockets and missiles. He is assembling thousands of MIG planes and Soviet tanks — all directed against our land. Yet the Committee for Fair Play of Cuba, Soviet financed and directed, moves among us and is attempting to paralyze us from counter action against this obvious menace.

We are losing our lead in nuclear weapons principally because this same advance guard of Khrushchev has successfully maintained its campaign over the last five years and induced us to assume the fatuous posture of refusing to test in the atmosphere, even at random, our existing stockpiles of our new weapons.

When one observes the spectacular successes of the Soviets here in the United States in the last few years and then hears over and over that there are virtually no Communists here, he can only conclude that Soviet forces must be wraiths.

Our America

By DR. RUTH ALEXANDER

The liberal-left has scored a touchdown by cunningly confusing the public as to the meaning of the politico-economic label, "conservative." Since conservatives are individualists, each tends to define his conservatism on his own terms and the surface contradictions are often queer enough to please even the most vitriolic of our ideological enemies. But I believe enough conservatives hold enough in common to agree on a common-sense blanket definition that will pull the rug from under the liberal-left.

The distinguishing feature of conservatives is capitalist economics. They know there is no such thing as a pre - capitalist or non-capitalist economy. Even prehistoric man produced and exchanged goods of a primitive sort which he, alone of all animals, had fashioned ingeniously from his early tools. The conservative distinguishes, however, between private competitive capitalism, with its sociological corollary, individualism, and state capitalism, with its sociological corollary of collectivism or "liberalism." Liberal opponents of private capitalism like to call its competitive feature a dog-eat-dog economy. But for real juicy cut-throat economic cannibalism, the monopoly economy of liberal collectivism has no equal. Under it, the state is the sole owner, the sole producer, the sole distributor and the sole employer. But the state is not the creator. That is the unforgivable sin of socialism against the unique creative individual from whose inventive mind flows our lush stock of goods, kept at top quality by the rivalry of competitive producers.

Furthermore, under the private capitalism of conservatives, exchange of goods and services takes place directly between the two interested parties — buyer and seller. They alone determine the conditions of the bargain — if any. They can take it or leave it. No hard feelings and no cracking down party for political advantage. The conservatives subscribe to a free market whose morality is not sullied by the caprice and partiality of men who temporarily comprise "the state" but which is maintained by strict observance of impartial laws — the law of demand and supply and the law of diminishing returns.

Politically, conservatives know their history well, namely that private capitalism is the only possible basis of a constitutional republic, or a "democracy." (if you prefer the loose term and will settle for a "democracy" without those despotic features of the liberal's "peoples democracies.") Together, private capitalism and democracy move in parallel lines with the precision of a pair of scissors — useless each without the other. Tyranny has always come from the top or the bottom of society and private capitalism is responsible for the maximum distribution of the lush wealth its incentive system creates and the rise of the great middle class.

Finally, conservatives regard the state as the servant of the people and all powerful government as the enemy of the people. Listen to this:

> "The scarlet thread running thru the thoughts and actions of people is the delegation of great principles to that all-absorbing leviathan, the state. Every time we try to lift a problem to the government, to that same extent we are sacrificing the liberties of the people."

Thus spake John Fitzerald Kennedy, President of these United States, while serving in Congress.

According to the Home Improvement Council, outlays for repairs and maintenance, expansion and improvements soared to about $18-20 billion last year. To tell the nation's home-owners of their products and services, manufacturers of housing equipment and household furniture and furnishings placed nearly $22 million worth of advertising in daily newspapers.

The Big Take

These Days

A Mother's Plea

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A mother telephones:

"My son was one of those in the Bay of Pigs. He is now in prison. Castro will kill him. We need $2,000,000 to exchange tractors for lives. Will you help?"

Who can answer this plea? Who knows how to reach the heart of a Communist? We permit Americans to rot in Chinese prisons because we know no way to get them out. How can we do anything for the Cubans whom we abandoned to a cruel death in the Bay of Pigs? Shall we blame ourselves? Shall we blame them? Shall we merely say that some live and some die?

Each week, nearly 2,000 Cuban refugees arrive in Miami. There are all sorts of schemes to help them. Some of the schemes are feasible, some fade from the memory of their authors. What is most important is to educate those who need to continue their schooling and to provide Cuban schools for the very young.

But will these refugees ever be able to return to Cuba or will they become elements in the American melting pot? Rich and cultured Cubans have lost all their possessions. Some have already reestablished themselves in the United States; others face all the problems and difficulties of refugees.

But when the men who went to fight for Cuban freedom in the Bay of Pigs are murdered by Castro, who will speak in their memory? Perhaps a memorial to them will be erected in Miami, but a mother asks: "Can you help?" And one does not know how to help.

As it appears at this moment, the Cuban refugees in the United States are not likely to go back to their homes any more than the Russian or Hungarian or Polish refugees have been able to return to their homes. Nothing short of war will solve the Cuban problem any more than 40 years of talk wiped out communism in Soviet Russia.

RESETTLEMENT

The refugee problem is one of resettlement. They cannot all crowd into Miami, which has no industry for them. They need to find work in all parts of the United States so that they are not ghettoized as the Puerto Ricans have been in New York City. Whatever skills they possess should become a valuable asset to the United States. Resettlement is the approach to this problem by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, but such a program will be resisted on the very ancient sociologic truism that birds of a feather flock together, which the professors call "community of kind."

The reason that we have ghettos in our large cities is that people of a kind in the first generation like to live together because they speak the same language, are accustomed to their own particular foods, like to see familiar faces on the streets and in movies, and hate to be ridiculed by those who came before. In the third generation, the ghetto begins to break down. And these erstwhile newcomers look down upon still more recent immigrants. It is surprising how many Italo-Americans do not know a word of Italian and that many children of Jewish parents speak not a word of Yiddish.

Resettlement takes time and patience and in a country where unemployment is the principal social problem, there will be resistance to giving the newer refugees jobs. Our labor unions are not always without discriminatory practices. Nevertheless, over the years, those discriminated against break thru to get the jobs and even to hold positions in the unions and then they, in turn, discriminate against newcomers. And so the wheel goes round, but meanwhile human beings suffer.

AMALGAM

The question also arises as to how many people this country can hold. Our population will soon reach 200,000,000 in 4,000,000 square miles of territory. The racial composition of our people grows constantly different and more mixed. Anglo - Saxon traditions disappear and not only have Eastern European traditions and habits infiltrated, but Latin, Asiatic and African concepts of life have become part of the American amalgam.

In half a century, this will give us a totally new American characteristic. Those who refuse to recognize the nature of this change, do not understand what is happening in their world and those who try to resist this assimilation are bound to fail now as such resistance has always failed thruout history.

Number One Enemy

By TOM L. GIBSON

Today's Public Enemy Number One is the indifference of the average citizen to the waste, extravagance and corruption that is running rampant in the federal government.

One of the leading asinine and squanderlustic expenditures of the hard-earned moneys of the taxpayers is the great give-away program of the administration.

The Polish government announced that any criticism of the Marxism - Kremlin policies and theories would be considered a crime against the Polish government. One week later we gave them ninety-eight million of our taxpayers' dollars "to preserve the free world" (quote from the White House).

Washington says that people who oppose foreign aid are like ostriches that put their head in the sand and think they are hidden away. No, they don't think much of the average citizen and from our complacency, it might be that they are right.

The secretary of state told us, "To cut these funds (foreign aid) would cut employment all over the nation." We have recently seen where we have sent to Siam 23 millions of dollars' worth of heavy machinery and bulldozers, and upon inquiry from a congressman, the writer was told that the reason for it was that the manufacturers of those commodities had their warehouses full and had to move them or they would have had to lay off a lot of men and that would cause unemployment all over the nation.

The Associated Press told of a Senate-House Committee's report that we must "step up federal spending to stem the impending recession."

The indifference of the people to these foolish expenditures of their moneys is tragic. Their complacency is calamitous and the price we will have to pay for it can be fatal to our nation.

It's Up to You

Organized Hijacking

By H. E. KERSHNER, L.H.D.

A pickpocket reaches into the pocket of another and removes money.

A milk truck driver says to the citizens of his community: "Give me more of your money or your children will suffer and some of them will die for want of milk."

A subway operator says: "Give me more of your money or walk ten miles to work." An electric worker says: "Give me more of your money or I will darken your streets and homes and the underworld will take possession."

In reality, a strike in our basic industries and services is a demand on the part of a group of strategically placed workers that their fellow citizens hand over more of their money or face a chaotic and impossible situation.

Every time a group of workers succeeds in hijacking the public, other groups are encouraged to do likewise. We are rapidly becoming gangs of hijackers preying upon each other.

And now comes the mayor of New York and his top henchmen reaching into the pockets of the people of their city and taking an extra $10,000 each and every year for themselves, and lesser sums for other officials. They are hijacking the people whom they were elected to serve.

Organized society cannot go on if everyone is to determine by vote, strike pressure, or acts of violence what his income shall be.

There are two alternatives to this impossible situation. The first is the free market wherein an employer, private or public, pays whatever wages or salaries are necessary to obtain competent help and all employers and workers are free to accept work, leave a job and be hired or fired. Under that system all employers must pay what men are worth and workers receive compensation commensurate with their contribution towards the commonwealth of the community. Any man who does not like his job is free to leave it but he has no right or power to prevent another man from accepting the work which he refuses to perform. This is known as the market system.

The alternative is to make government the arbiter among men with the power to assign jobs and determine wages and salaries is the slavery of the masses to the few who control the government. To make a system of this kind work, experience shows that censorship, mind control and cruel coercion are necessary.

Right now the American people are making their choice between these alternatives. By means of strikes and votes, wages and prices are being forced higher and higher. Every year the spiral rises. We are destroying our economy by rendering ourselves unable to compete with the producers of other nations where better judgment and more restraint in gangster-like action to take more money from their fellows is practiced. In time this will destroy our foreign trade, make it impossible for us to meet our deficits in international trade balances and force us to a self-contained economy, with foreign trade reduced to barter and a much lower standard of living.

OUR CHOICE

We must choose to discipline ourselves by the exercise of restraint and fairness to one another or we shall bring upon ourselves the cruel coercive government which we so greatly deplore.

We must follow the moral law, tell the truth and refrain from coveting and stealing. We must be fair, honest and generous with one another or submit to the harsh discipline of the all - powerful state.

The choice is to observe the moral law of God and dwell together peaceably and happily as His children or resign ourselves to the suffering that will be imposed upon us by the secret police.

AN ANALYSIS

To the Editor:

It would seem likely that those who read the editorial page are thinkers in their own right, and therefore would not accept what I have to say without investigation for truth. I am sure they are concerned, as I am, with the state of world conditions and want to do something about it. If collective society is sick, then we must accept the fact and attempt to diagnose the case before we can attempt to find a cure. We must conclude that a physician who knows the past record of the patient is better qualified to prescribe a possible cure.

The first fact to consider and acknowledge is that America is the most powerful nation in the world, economically and militarily, but there is great fear of losing that position. Why? The record of America points out that previous to World War I, America put very little stress on the need for military power and yet it grew by leaps and bounds economically.

Without going into further details it would seem obvious that what we are losing is a pioneering spirit. Having recognized the cause of the ailment I had better declare what a pioneering spirit could be. Among other things pioneers in any field, especially those early Coloradoans who established the many advantages we are blessed with today, must have had was a desire for knowledge and faith in God. It would appear from the record that you cannot have one without the other, for all great personalities witness to the fact that wisdom and faith go hand in hand.

Then, of course, I could not let these remarks pass without calling attention to Proverbs 9:10, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

The hope of the world rests in the hands of our youth. Let us exert every effort to foster a pioneering spirit in them. Above all, let us not try to escape from fear; it become a powerful asset if we place our fear in the Lord.

WITHHOLDING TAX

To the Editor:

Patriotism in our U.S.A. seems to have plumbed the depths if the lack of vocal and written objections to some political plans is any evidence. So, in the guise of altruism, than which nothing could be further from the truth, one political edict has been imposed upon this country with another in the making. Had altruism been the real motive it might at least have sufficed for an excuse, but it wasn't. The plain truth is that it was for that devastating old "saw," votes. Whether or not it was, as was rumored, the payment of a political debt, I wouldn't know, but it has caused more upheavals all over our country and in some others, unnecessarily. The forthcoming such edict will do as much damage unless the "grass roots" bestir themselves and WRITE THEIR SENATORS. I refer, of course, to the withholding tax. It is touted as being "necessary." Why?

We've had other presidents who, fortunately, were "sufferers" from maturity and who surrounded themselves with fewer professors of the "liberal arts."

There is also the plea it must be kept because of those who evade their income tax.

Be that as it may, let me quote a few lines from HUMAN EVENTS re Mrs. Kennedy's trip: "Congressional estimates of the cost to the taxpayers of Mrs. Kennedy's India trip range from $300,000 to $700,000." If anyone wants the itemized list of what these huge sums included they can be had by writing to Human Events, 410 First St., S.E., Washington 3, D.C.

Further quoting: "Why this wasteful duplication?" Other congressmen ask: "Why this costly trip? It does not help the U.S., only the neutralist government of India."

When American taxpayers can be taxed for such jaunts, and especially in times like these to further impose this withholding tax on them is like rubbing salt on an open wound.

The Poorer Countries

By AMBROSE HILLS

You hear a lot these days about the underdeveloped countries, and what should be done about them.

Everybody has the answer for them. They need prosperous industries, they need capital invested in them, they need to produce goods that will sell in world markets.

Want to start a factory? You would be welcomed in many an underdeveloped country. They would give you attractive tax concessions. Your labor costs would be low, and labor legislation would protect you from unjustified strikes or crippling demands. In short, officially and in every other way the arms of the underdeveloped nations would be spread wide open to receive you.

Why would they want you?

Not because they like the way your hair is parted, or the color of your eyes. They want you because you would invest money, produce goods that would sell, create jobs that would improve the living standards of the people. They want you so they'll have big plants, with parking lots full of the automobiles of the workers, and stores which cater to the workers with a steady pay cheque.

Now think on those things. Then remember this — Canada is, in many ways, an underdeveloped country. We just don't realize that it is. We are acting as if ours were a fully-matured economy, with plenty of people and a big domestic market. We are spending and acting as if we had it made. We no longer welcome industry with open arms — instead we grasp at it with outstretched hands, grabbing for tax money.

Canadians face a rough climate. It is no easy land. One crop a year . . if you are lucky. The freeze-up is severe. If you were considering a factory, all those things might scare you from Canada. Load on top of our natural handicaps a tax burden that is just about the highest in the world, plus a philosophy of "soak the corporations," and you'll see that this particular country isn't doing much to encourage the industry it now has, let alone bring new industry here.

Isn't it time we smartened up?

Already the American people are staggering under a killing tax load. Countless hidden taxes are piled on top of heavy income and property levies. The mistaken enemies of freedom wait for U.S. prosperity to collapse. Unless we, as a nation and as individuals, return to sound economic practice, our foes will be rewarded for their patience.

LIFE LINES

PEOPLE LEARN

Today we find increasing evidence in many quarters that the people can learn and are learning. The Social-Democratic Party of West Germany has abandoned Marxism and called for "a free competition in a free economy." It has denounced a "totalitarian - controlled economy" and has approved "private ownership of the means of production. . ."

Socialism has been tried and has failed. Intelligent people are beginning to see that it leads into statism and cruel coercion. The value of the free market in economics has been spectacularly demonstrated in West Germany, while East Germany and other Communist countries have shown that where the state is the master there is neither abundance nor liberty but great cruelty and much suffering.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Conference of Christians and Jews has formed a nine-member Council on Public Affairs and Religious Freedom to advise on political and social problems involving religious differences.

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference, said the group of theologians, sociologists and educators would identify key issues of immediate or long-range concern that tend to divide people. They will be asked to suggest remedies.

Nervous System Subject To Preceptive Error

BY THE COLORADO MEDICAL SOCIETY

The man had suffered a stroke and the left side of his body was partially paralyzed. He could not use his left arm.

Yet he denied that he couldn't.

"Of course."

"Please raise it." The man lifted his right arm and looked at the doctor with obvious satisfaction in having followed instructions.

"No, not a thing."

The man was not mentally deranged at all. He was suffering from relatively rare loss of perception which illustrates the enormous complexity of the human nervous system, and intricate telephonic network which not only keeps the body functioning as it should but also orients man in relationship to his environment.

The human nervous system involves both sensory pathways—by which we feel, smell, taste, hear, see and maintain our balance—and the machinery of perception and evaluation in the brain, where we determine what we have felt, smelled, tasted, heard, or seen and decide whether or not we are upright.

He was not mentally ill, nor being perverse or difficult. He actually "thought" he could move his left arm—or, more accurately denied that he could not move it.

Such conditions are not common, although it is estimated they can occur in about 40 per cent of strokes affecting the right side of brain. They are an interesting phenomenon of the nervous system, and they raise unanswered questions.

In most cases they have their basis in brain damage following a stroke, or a brain tumor. Usually they affect the right side of the brain, and thus, since nerve pathways cross over, the left side of the body. They are disturbances of perception, not of sensation.

Damage to the sensory pathways of nerve endings, nerves and spinal cord results in loss of sensation. There is numbness, the affected area is found to be anesthetized when tested with pin pricks, voluntary movement is restricted or absent. Neurological tests can demonstrate a stable loss of sensation in the area.

Perceptive disturbances are different. Their root is in the loss of ability to receive sensory stimuli in the brain and evaluate them into an effective pattern, thus indicating brain damage or pressure from a tumor. The sensory pathways may be functioning perfectly, but the brain is not capable of evaluating properly the stimuli sent up to "headquarters."

The Denver man had no real loss of sensation in his left arm, although his response to tests was variable. In other similar cases, patients have failed to respond to stimuli on the left side when simultaneous tests were applied to both left and right sides of the body. For some reason, the two sides of the body were in competition, and the left side was denied or ignored.

These strange situations raise important questions about the nervous system.

1. Does the right side of the brain have a special function in organizing sensation?

2. By contrast, does the function of the left hemisphere of the brain have to do primarily with speech and the verbalization of stimuli?

5. Do these cases indicate damage to the portion of the brain which integrates sensory perception?

6. Since man is symmetrically formed, is he less able to deal with disease and disorientation on a single side of the body?

Australians Told Atom Test Are Important

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australians were told today that the impending U.S. nuclear tests in the Pacific are "critically important" and they have nothing to fear from radioactive fallout.

Foreign Minister Sir Garfield Barwick reported to Parliament that a radiation advisory committee had satisfied the government that the tests at Christmas Island would not constitute a danger to Australia, New Zealand or other areas in the South Pacific.

AFA Employes Receive Awards For Suggestions

Eleven Air Force Academy employes received $180 for suggestions which ranged from an idea to reduce maintenance on drinking fountains to elimination of safety hazards. The awards were presented by Col. E. J. Stealy, deputy base commander.

John C. Hoffman, directorate of facilities support, received $30 for two suggestions concerning building improvements. Two facilities support plumbers, Dural Erskin and Stanley Bukoski, shared a $30 check for suggesting self-closing valves be installed in drinking fountains. Their idea resulted in a first-year savings of $524 thru reduction of maintenance.

Awards of $15 went to Ernest Brickell, facilities support; Fred Van Kirk, preventative maintenance; Joseph Smith, water plant technician; Clarence W. Trigg, heating operating engineer, and Glen C. Pittman, heating plant.

Also cashing in on suggestions were Mrs. Dorres M. Tipton, Mrs. Florence C. Sprague, and Mrs. Marie A. Hillock. Each received $15 checks.

Contracts for State School Are Approved

DENVER (AP) — Approval of contracts totaling $2,206,000 for construction at the State Home and Training School at Ridge was announced Friday by Acting Gov. Robert L. Knous.

One calls for expenditure of $1,129,000 for construction of a five-unit complex for the housing and training of 140 patients who are only moderately retarded mentally. The other, for $1,077,000 is for housing, classrooms, therapy and an office complex for patients with severe mental retardation.

Addition of the units, Knous said, will increase the suburban Denver institution's capacity by 392 and will alleviate overcrowding.

Both contracts went to the Robbins Construction Co. of Denver.

Knous also signed a contract for rebuilding laundry facilities at Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo which recently were destroyed by fire. It went to Ralph D. Peterson and Associates of Denver. Knous said the laundry buildings were covered by insurance which provided for payment of architectural fees as well as actual repair.

Pikes Peak Region Yesterdays

By DORA FOSTER

Thirty - three years ago this spring this region experienced a series of heavy wet snows that very nearly cost the life of one of our rugged mountainmen, Frank Nelson of Camp Nelson at the head of the North Cheyenne Canon.

The story has been unearthed for us by Carl Mathews, who has copied stories from 1929 files of the Gazette, while pictures were dug out from some boxes in the basement of Mrs. Fred Johnson, who had almost forgotten their existence.

The Gazette Story follows:

TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1929

School Boys Leave On Trip to Rescue Sick Prospector. Cheyenne School Party Started at Midnight for Head of North Cheyenne Canon, Where Frank Nelson, 74, Lies Helpless in His Mountain Cabin.

Despite the threat of lowering storm clouds which were covering the mountains with a fresh mantle of snow, last night a party of intrepid students from the Cheyenne school donned snowshoes and skis at midnight and started on the drifted trail leading to the foot of Mount Al Magre, where Frank Nelson, 74-year-old prospector, is lying alone and helpless in his cabin, in grave danger of starvation or freezing. Mr. Nelson is apparently a victim of a paralytic stroke and he was found in a semicomatose condition last Sunday by a group of Colorado College students on a skiing party, who ventured to the head of North Cheyenne canon, four miles above Lavely's Camp, over the nearly impassable trail leading to the old man's cabin.

Lloyd Shaw, principal of the Cheyenne school, was unable to lead the party of his student-mountaineers on the rescue trip. He is still weak from the injuries he suffered in an automobile accident weeks ago, and returned to his office at the school only this week.

However, he selected the most experienced of his students for the trip and the boys left the performance of Tony Sarg's Marionettes, held in the Cheyenne school last night, for the snow-drifted mountain trail on their errand of mercy. The rescue party was formed in the school auditorium immediately following the show.

The student rescue party planned to travel light and carried only the bare necessities for the trip and a light stretcher. Dr. Johnson will give whatever first aid is necessary.

Sheriff R. M. Jackson was notified of Nelson's plight Sunday. He dispatched Deputy Sheriffs I. B. Remington and George Wolf, who returned without finding the cabin. They lost their way in the dark, they said. Following their failure Sheriff Jackson notified Teller county authorities, because Nelson's cabin, although only four miles above Lavely's, is over the line in Teller county.

This morning a party of Teller county officials, who will be led by Joe Snyder, rancher living at Clyde, who knows the trail to Nelson's cabin, will leave Cripple Creek on a rescue attempt. The Teller county party must come to Colorado Springs and go up North Cheyenne canon to Lavely's in order to get on the trail. Tom Rolofson, chief of police in Teller county (?), who is acting sheriff in the illness of Sheriff Chilson, is in charge of the project.

Albo Shrieff Jackson's force made an unsuccessful effort Sunday to rescue the old man, his plight first became public yesterday, when the word was circulated that four members of the forestry class of Colorado College discovered the sorry condition of Mr. Nelson while on a skiing trip last Sunday.

According to the four collegians, who are Edward Mason, Nat Walker, John Camp and J. Newmarker, they found the old man sitting in his cabin. He was without a fire, gazing in space, and the entry of the four youths made no impression upon him. He did not hear them or apparently took any notice of them.

Finding the aged man in a bad condition, apparently the victim of a stroke, the youths put him to bed, made him as comfortable as they could, then started for Colorado Springs. Before leaving the youths noticed that the calendar on which Nelson kept a daily weather report, regularly printed in the Gazette and Telegraph, had not been marked since March 6th, indicating the date on which the old prospector had suffered the stroke. From what they saw in the cabin, the youths concluded that Nelson had been unable to prepare food or a fire for himself. Before they left, the collegians made a fire in the cabin.

Acting Sheriff Rolofson was uncertain what he could do if skis or snowshoes are required, as the officers are not skilled in that mode of transportation, but he asserted that if the officers themselves were unable to make the trip, men who could would be employed to do it. In any event, he asserted, a rescue party will be dispatched to Camp Nelson early this morning.

The trail to Camp Nelson is along the banks of the stream from the mountains in North Cheyenne canon, is very rugged and heavily timbered. Snow drifts cling to the trees and make travel almost impossible. Mountaineer here said that the drifts in many places are from six to seven feet deep.

Owing to the advanced age of Mr. Nelson, a great deal of anxiety has been felt here for his fate. The rigors of the weather in his mountain home are extreme, if he has been without food and heat the last few days, his plight may be grave.

Nelson has lived winter and summer in his cabin at the foot of Mount Al Magre for the last twenty - three years. He has lived alone there in the winter for that length of time. He has always been an enthusiastic hiker and mountaineer. His cabins are popular with winter and summer hikers and he has ski slides on the nearby slopes.

Nelson has a group of mining claims which he owns and works. He works them at odd times and packs down the ore he collects. On some occassions he has brought down ore averaging $2,000 a ton.

Aged Prospector Saved From Death by Rescue Party. Cheyenne School Hikers Bring Frank Nelson to Hospital.

On the verge of collapse from their battle with snow - blocked trails, the elements and a crazed old man who fought his rescuers, five students from the Cheyenne public school, accompanied by H. H. Nelson, director of athletics, and Dr. Fred Johnson, returned at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon from their successful rescue of Frank Nelson, 74-year-old prospector, to meet the congratulations of friends and the adulation of an entire city. The student-rescuers are Gerry Berry, Sam Lairson, Shelley McMillin, William Wochner and Charles Barnes. After blazing a trail thru the deep drifts, sometimes as high as their heads, in getting to the cabin at the head of North Cheyenne canon, where Nelson was lying helpless and alone, the boys found that the hardest part of their work was still before them. Nelson was in such condition that he had to be carried on a stretcher down to Colorado Springs over the snow-bound trail.

After a few hours rest at the cabin where they arrived early in the morning, the boys started back with their charge. Nelson was delirious, suffering from the hallucinations of being surrounded by enemies. He added immeasurably to the already great difficulties of the undertaking by fighting to the limit his strength. Time and time again he tried to leap from the stretcher into the snow drifts.

Time after time the boys literally dropped in their tracks from exhaustion. The seven members of the party took turns in carrying the stretcher, but at that the journey over that trail was an undertaking which few persons would have relished under such circumstances. It took the rescue party more than four hours to go the four miles from Nelson's cabin to Camp Lavely in the upper reaches of North Cheyenne canon. There the rescuers and their charge were met by a relief party from the Cheyenne school and Dr. Johnson's auto, which carried the physician and his patient to the Crestone Heights sanitarium in Colorado Springs. Dr. Johnson, lavish in his praise of the courage and gameness of the student-mountaineers from the Cheyenne school, declared that the rescue party was just in time. In a few hours more the aged man would have died from freezing. As it was, he was in a bad condition exposure, delirious and utterly incapable of taking care of himself. When found, Nelson had three socks on one foot while the other one was bare.

Teller county officers who planned to start out yesterday morning on the rescue attempt, could not get out of Cripple Creek on account of the storm. Consequently, if the students from the Cheyenne school had not started out at midnight Monday on their errand of mercy, the old prospector would probably have died before help finally reached him. It was midnight when the boys and their adult companions, all skilled in mountain climbing, set out from the school by auto for Lavely's. From there they hit the trail to the snow-bound cabin, where the helpless old hermit was confined. The trip to the cabin was made in two hours, the party arriving shortly after 2 o'clock. There Dr. Johnson made the old man comfortable. Nelson had been without food, water or fire since the Colorado College students, who were Edward Mason, Nat Walker, John Camp, and J. Newmarker, had been to the cabin Sunday. He was absolutely helpless. When the rescuers entered the cabin, the old man was crying "water, water."

Some time after 9 o'clock yesterday morning the seven rescuers started on the down trip with the hermit on the stretcher. One of their number was sacrificed to act as a messenger and go ahead to prepare for the coming of the main party. He arrived more than an hour before the others, calling Mr. Shaw, who organized a relief party to meet the exhausted rescuers at Camp Lavely. Members of the relief crew were F. W. Wood, truck driver for the school; John Bissell, James Burlingame, Arthur Morrell and Joe Arnold, students. They went by the truck to a point

Fear Nelson Was Victim of Foul Play At Cabin. Friends of Aged Prospector Ask District Attorney To Make Investigation of Attack; Find Cuts on His Head and Body. Will Search for "Treasure Box."

Was Frank Nelson, 74-year-old prospector, who was saved in the nick of time from death by freezing, by the heroic efforts yesterday by a group of Cheyenne school students, the victim of a brutal attack? John C. Young, district attorney, was appealed to last night by friends of Mr. Nelson to commence an investigation into what is feared may prove to have been a case of robbery and assault.

Mrs. Norman Broberg, of 312 E. Victoria, St. a friend of Mr. Nelson for the last 35 years, said she was convinced that the man had met with foul play and told District Attorney Young that he could be certain of it if a search of Nelson's cabin discloses the obsence of the cache of gold and silver ore and nuggets which Nelson, a prospector, dug from his various mining claims at the foot of Mount Almagre.

"When they told me of the disorderly condition of Mr. Nelson's cabin, when I saw the cuts and bruises on his body and face when he was brought to the hospital, when Mr. Nelson tried so hard to tell me about the attack upon him, I was convinced that he had met foul play," said Mrs. Broberg last night. "I know that he kept quite a quantity of gold and silver in what we call his 'treasure box.' I have asked the District Attorney to see that justice is done." Dr. T. J. Evans, head of the Crestone Heights sanitarium, where Nelson is under medical care, himself leaned strongly to the belief of foul play, he admitted last night. Superficial examination, which alone was possible yesterday, in view of the injured man's condition, failed to disclose the slightest symptom of paralysis. On the other hand, there was evidence in body injuries and the rambling delicious story told over and over by the hermit to support the theory of foul play. Nelson raves about an attack made upon him in his cabin by several men. He made a valiant effort to tell Mrs. Broberg about it before he lost control of his mind, Dr. Evans said.

Dr. Evans further declared that Nelson is not in a low physical condition, as would be the case had he been siezed by a paralytic attack. His heart, lungs and respiration are strong. In case of paralysis the opposite generally is the rule. Furthermore, Dr. Evans said, he asked a specialist to make an examination of the eyes to determine from the pupillary condition, if the case is one of paralysis. The specialist said he failed to find any symptoms of it, according to Dr. Evans.

In support of the theory of foul play, Nelson has several deep cuts on the forehead at hair line, one cut being over three inches long. His body also is bruised. Nelson's rambling story to hospital attendants concerning his supposed fight with intruders in the mountains is incoherent in parts. The number of men he says attacked him varies from three to seven. In his story he says repeatedly that he struck one of the men and in turn was attacked by the remainder and beaten.

Find Nelson Cabin in Great Disorder

If the condition of Frank Nelson, aged prospector who was brought to Colorado Springs in an almost unconscious state last Monday? by Cheyenne school students, is the result of an attack by persons who hoped to rob him of gold nuggets, the attackers committed the crime in vain, according to Hubert Strang, who yesterday participated in an examination of Nelson's cabin. The report that Nelson probably possessed a valuable collection of nuggets was said by Mr. Strang to be entirely without foundation. Mr. Strong said last night, following his return from the Nelson cabin, that if the old prospector was the victim of thieves, the latter confined their prowling entirely to his cabin, as other cabins close by were not disturbed.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1929

Nelson Recovers from Exposure in Hills. Leaves Sanitarium.

Nearly recovered from his narrow escape by starvation and exposure in his cabin at the head of North Cheyenne canon, Frank Nelson is planning to return to able to leave Crestone Heights sanitarium yesterday.

Undaunted by his experience, Nelson is palnning to return to his beloved hills within the next two weeks. During his stay in the city, he will stay at the Clinton Hotel.

UNMASKED

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia says its security agents unmasked 325 agents employed by foreign intelligence services in 1961, one-third more than in 1960. Officials said 25 per cent of those rounded up were employed by estranged Communist Albania.

Air Academy Band Assistant Becomes Captain

The assistant conductor of the Air Force Academy Band, CWO Franklin J. Lockwood, has been promoted to the rank of captain.

A resident of Elmira, N. Y., Capt. Lockwood was assigned to the Air Force Academy in May 1961 following duty as commander and bandleader of the Fifth Air Force Band in Tokyo, Japan.

Under Capt. Lockwood, the Fifth Air Force Band played a large part in the success of the Tokyo area community relations campaign implemented under President Eisenhower's "People to People" program.

Prior to his departure from Japan, Captain Lockwood was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal and was presented the "key to Tokyo" by Ryotaru Azuma, governor of Tokyo.

Statewide Firemen's Pension Plan Proposed

DENVER (AP) — State Treasurer Tim Armstrong recently wrote to all volunteer fire departments in Colorado asking them if they want to participate in a firemen's pension program under a new state law.

Under the plan, the state will pay a share of the pension cost, provided the district pays the rest. It would allow volunteer firemen with 20 years of service to get pensions as high as $150 monthly.

Among the letters written was one to a Canon City area department, of which State Sen. Lee R. Blackwell, R-Canon City, is secretary-treasurer. Armstrong calculated the district could receive $3,600 from the state.

"Inasmuch as we have no employes in the Canon City area fire protection district," Blackwell wrote back, "we are at a loss to know what we would do with a pension fund if we had it.

"We would be glad to have the $3,600 to put in a reserve to pension off one of our fire trucks sometime in the future."

SAVE

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's military rulers say they plan to eliminate a lot of red tape and expense by reducing the number of government forms nearly one-half and saving $4.3 million yearly.

Norman L. Hills ROTC Lieutenant

Norman L. Hills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hills, 2418 Lafayette Rd., has been promoted to first lieutenant in the artillery branch of the Advanced Reserve Officers Training Crops at Iowa State University, Ames.

Hills is a third quarter junior at the school and is majoring in English in the department of sciences and humanities. He is attending ISU on a Gates Foundation scholarship.

College Students Will Observe Political Work

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — Six college students from the region will participate in the Colorado elections this fall as fellowship trainees in the offices of the major political parties.

Dr. Curtis W. Martin, University of Colorado professor, said that the Rocky Mountain Center for Education in Politics will award $500 internships, three for each party. The internships will run for 10 weeks, and the students will work in state party headquarters campaigning.

Martin said two $4,000 fellowships will be awarded for work in the office of each state party chairman. Graduate students and young instructors are eligible for the fellowships, which will run for eight months.

The center is supported by the Ford and Falk Foundations. Eleven colleges and universities in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming participate in its programs. Martin is director of the center.

Gasser Has Sunrise Service Picture Story

Pictures and material describing the annual service held in the Garden of the Gods, was furnished by the Chamber of Commerce.

Beeline Flight Log

Amazing how many people either have flown at some time in the past and want a "refresher" course, or have had their flight training interrupted and want to continue it. At least half of the enrollees in the Beeline ground school fit one or the other of those descriptions. One man got his license long ago and flies regularly, but said he just wanted to brush up a little. This is the sort of thing that makes good pilots.

• • • • •

First class in the present session of ground school starts at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Course lasts eight weeks (two 2½-hour classes a week Tuesdays and Thursdays) and covers basic aerodynamics (what makes it fly?), basic meterology (you mean those fluffy white clouds are dangerous?), civil aeronautics regulations (when do I fly a right-hand pattern and when a left?), navigation (that town down there is either Peoria or Tallahassee, I think), use of computers and general safe operating practices.

• • • • •

Tuition for the 40 hours is $50. The ground school can be taken as part of the money-saving "Early-Bird" Flight Instruction program, or separately. If taken separately, the ground school tuition can later be applied on the "Early-Bird" program, which includes all the flight instruction and flying time required before taking the flight test for private pilot's license. (The written test can be taken at any time).

• • • • •

INSURANCE FUNDS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life insurance companies have more policyholder funds invested in the East North Central region of the United States than in any other geographic area. A total of $17,-495,554,000 (B) is at work in the area, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A Chair of Intergroup Relations has been established at a European university through a joint Catholic-Jewish effort.

The American Jewish Committee and the Catholic-sponsored Pro Deo University for Social Studies in Rome established the chair this February. The curriculum for the new department will deal with problems of cooperation and understanding among religious and racial groups in a democratic society.

School Ransacked, Nothing Taken

The Washington School, 924 W. Pikes Peak Ave., was entered Thursday night or early Friday morning and partially ransacked, police reported Friday.

Wilbur Barber, school custodian, told Police Officer James Caldwell that entry to the school was made thru a lower floor door.

Barber said that a flag was thrown on the floor, bedding was pulled from a bed in the hallway and one of the teachers' desks was ransacked.

A check revealed nothing missing however, and apparently the rest of the school was unmolested, authorities said.

Sherwood Forest's most famous tree—gnarled, wide-spreading Major Oak—is reputed to be about 1,400 years old. A ton of iron bands supports the boughs.

BIGGER BUT FEWER FARMS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The trend toward bigger but fewer farms is continuing. Largely as a result of consolidations, the number of farms declined by 123,000 last year to about 3.8 million, more than a third is less than in 1950.

Farmers in Kashmir tend floating gardens anchored on lakes. Kashmiris harvest from boats, picking tomatoes and pumpkins that grow on a solid but buoyant mass of topsoil, grass and weeds.

New Decentralization Plan Helps Hospital Patients

care of all patients admitted to the hospital and within a few hours accomplishes lab tests, X-rays, brief mental examinations and complete physicals. They are then transferred to their respective county areas.

The Central Team is composed of Dr. Sabahat Gurcay, staff physician; Dr. Kort, staff psychiatrist; Bernard Weiss and Lorraine Walling, social workers; William H. Ross, phychologist; Kathleen Sweeney, registered occupational therapist; Iva Allenbach, occupational therapist aide, Victor Velarde, recreator; Mrs. Frances Cline, chief nurse; Mrs. Sally Gritten, Mrs. Olga Biundo, Mrs. Muriel Spang, Mrs. M. Harene Powell, C. L. Clark and Donald Smith, nurse supervisors; a nursing personnel of 70; three secretaries, a dietitian, barber and a social worker aide receiving training.

Central has two buildings, with staff offices located in one which also houses patients and is the location of the general reception room where families and friends may visit patients.

A cafeteria is separate and is unusual in that patients have a choice of food and may sit where they choose in unsegregated groups. Recreation rooms are located in the basement.

The bedrooms sleep from one to 15 and many of the patients have been busy making floral printed cotton bedspreads with ruffled flounces and matching curtains to give the rooms a more homey appearance. The patients are encouraged to keep the rooms neat and tidy.

Representatives from the four wards meet at 8 a.m. each day to discuss the previous 24 hours; staff meetings are held once a week to review patients who may be up for release or be given town passes, and various other meetings are held as needed to keep everyone thoroly up-to-date on the activities of the unit.

SPRINGS GROUP PRAISED BY DOCTOR

"The Central Area is fortunate in the interest shown by the Mental Health Group in Colorado Springs," Dr. Kort said. "Monthly meetings with a representative from the group and staff are held to discuss common problems.

"They are now in the process of trying to develop a program so that volunteers will come to the hospital on a scheduled basis."

Before March 1, patients were classified and distributed in the hospital according to behavior, diagnosis, prognostic odds, age, ability to perform certain hospital chores etc. It was felt that this was the most efficient system both from management and therapeutic standpoints.

Upon entering a hospital, the patient was transferred from service to service as his diagnosis and prognosis changed and sometimes in less than six months, odds were that the patient went thru no less than two different services and more than four different physicians, because of transfers from ward to ward and a number of administrative reasons.

Each move required new adjustments which were often confusing and disconcerting while the staff was hard put to do a moderately decent job, hospital authorities found.

In a report by the World Health Organization in 1958, it was stated that "too many state hospitals give the impression of being an uneasy compromise between a general hospital and a prison, whereas, in fact, the role they have to provide is different from either; it is that of a therapeutic community. As in the community at large, one of the most characteristic aspects of the psychiatric hospital is the type of relationship between people that are to be found within it."

The new decentralization plan at Colorado State Hospital was inaugurated to provide continutity of relationship between staff and patients before, during and after hospitalization.

Families are spared unnecessarily painful tasks of wondering in which hospital area the patient is located each time they visit.

It provides continuity of relationship between the proefssional team and the community so that the hospital boundary is erased and obstacles to healthy reciprocal communication are eliminated.

Patients are reassured, should they ever need to return, that treatment or psychiatric help will be given them by the same professional staff which treated them prior to discharge, Dr. Koit said.

"A patient is made to feel that as much care and attention is available to him as to everybody else and that no discriminatory practices are in effect within the hospital," she said.

"The pateient is provided the opportunity of living in an environment which is sufficiently challenging and as similar in structure as possible to the community from which he comes."

These conditions are met by having patients distributed thruout the hospital on an ecological basis, according to the geographical areas and socio - cultural units where they lived prior to hospitalization and where they intend to return upon recovery.

PLAN USED IN OTHER HOSPITALS

The plan has been successfully carried out in other hospitals across the nation, with one of the best known examples the Mental Health Institute in Clarinda, Iowa.

Dr. Kort spent a year at Clarinda before going to the Colorado State Hospital and commented that in such a brief time she could personally see the advantages in this type of setting.

She emphasized that release planning is done carefully so that returning is decreased.

The Pueblo Area has patients from Pueblo County only.

Southeast Area patients are from Crowley, Kiowa, Prowers, Bent, Otero, Baca, Las Animas, Herfano, Costilla, Alamosa, Conejos, Rio Grande, Mineral and Saguache Counties.

In the Western Area are patients from Moffat, Routt, Jackson, Grand, Rio Blanco, Garfield, Eagle, Grand, Summit, Mesa, Pitkin, Gunnison, Delta, Montrose, San Miguel, Ouray, Hinsdale, Dolores, San Juan, Montezuma, La Plata and Archuleta Counties.

"The basic concept of a community - conditioned atmosphere is the most important single factor in the efficacy of treatment under this Decentralization Plan," Dr. Kort said.

"Maintaining continuity above all is the key to better mental health and is the concept now being applied at the Colorado State Hospital."

Leukemia Society Awards Citation To Capt. Carlone

A United States Air Force officer, Capt. Robert A. Carlone, stationed at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, was honored at the 4th annual National Leukemia Society Chapter Conference in New York City. At the society's annual dinner, the society's first "President's Citations" were presented to volunteers in recognition of their outstanding volunteer contributions to the Leukemia Society in the areas of fund raising, patient service and chapter development.

Capt. Carlone, president of the Pikes Peak Chapter of the society, received a silver plaque in acknowledgment of his initiative and leadership in organizing the chapter's first fund raising endeavor, a theatrical performance by the Academy Players, performed for the benefit of the society. In making the presentation, society trustee, Joseph Donner, said that Capt. Carlone's "efficient administration of this project was a vital factor in bringing together one of the society's newest chapters." Donner declared that Capt. Carlone's project served as an outstanding example of the work of the society's chapters in raising the necessary funds for research and in focusing public attention on the work of the society in the community.

The Leukemia Society, which has 38 chapters in 17 states, is the only national voluntary health agency which concentrates all of its resources on the single objective of finding the cause and cure of leukemia. The society's threefold program of research support, patient services and public information is supported solely by the contributions of the American public.

The society's fourth annual chapter conference was held in Washington March 28, 29 and 30.

Old pickup trucks converted to buses by the addition of an open wooden body, canvas side curtains and rough plank seats are the major link between West African villages. The buses are called mammy wagons because most of the travelers are women going to and from markets.

Pfc. William A. Guy In Exercise in Germany

Pfc. William A. Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Guy, 1017 Montrose Ave., recently participated in a three-day field training exercise in West Berlin's famed Grunewald Forest.

He is a 1958 graduate of the Colorado Springs High School. Before entering the Army he was employed at the May D and F Department Store in Colorado Springs. His wife, Diane, resides at 4501 W. Kentucky Ave., Denver.

The training exercise, which involved the entire 3rd Battle Group, 6th Infantry and an "aggressor force" from the 2nd Battle Group, 6th Infantry was designed to enhance unit military capabilities at company, platoon and squad levels in attack and defense. Guy, assigned to Company B, of the infantry's Third Battle Group entered the Army in May 1959. He completed basic training at Ft. Carson and arrived overseas in July, 1960.

Twins Serving With Marines

Marine Pfc. James Paul Quillin, one of the twin sons in military service of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Quillin, 2707 E. Monument St., is at home on a 30 days leave. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in September, 1960, completed four months of basic training at San Diego and Camp Pendleton, Calif., and attended Sea School at San Diego, then reported to his current assignment as a member of the Marine Detachment on board the USS Yorktown, an aircraft carrier, whose home port is Long Beach, Calif.

James' twin brother, Marine Pfc. Jackie Quillin, is serving with the 3rd Battalion, 4th Marines, whose home base is Hawaii. The unit is currently acting as aggressor force for Exercise Tulungan, on Mindoro, in the Philippines. Tulungan is a Southeast Asia Treaty organization exercise involving forces of Australia, the Republic of the Philippines and the United States.

The brothers, who are 18, are natives of Colorado Springs. They attended the Harrison School. James was a Gazette Telegraph carrier.

State Offices Pile Up Record Spending Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department says state governments over-spent their income by $100 million in fiscal 1961 in rolling up record outlays of $34.7 billion.

The census figures Thursday shows a 10 per cent rise from outlays in the previous year, caused in part by heavier benefit payments from unemployment compensation and other state insurance trust funds.

Apart from those outlays, which reflected recession demands, and excluding the operations of state liquor store systems, the remaining total of "general expenditures" amounted to $29.1 billion. This was 5.9 per cent above fiscal 1960.

General revenues increased 4.9 per cent from the previous year but at $28.7 billion did not match the general expenditures.

Liquor store revenues exceeded expenses by $246 million, a margin of 28.1 per cent.

State bond issues and other borrowing totaled $2.3 billion, while repayments on state debts totaled $856 million. State debt climbed to a record $20 billion at the end of the fiscal year last June 30.

Taxes provided $19.1 billion, or about two-thirds of the 1961 general state revenues, with general sales taxes and gross receipts levies providing $4.5 billion or 24 per cent of the total.

The second-ranking source of revenue was the gasoline sales tax, which produced 33.4 billion. Tobacco sales tax revenue was up 35 per cent to a record of $1 billion.

The yield from individual income taxes, imposed by 34 states, totaled $2.4 billion, up 6.6 per cent from 1960.

Total revenue and expenditures, by states, for 1961, as shown in the report:

Colorado $395,809,000 total revenue, $369,394,000 total expenditures; Montana $172,276,000 and $168,920,000; Nebraska $203,749,000 and $195,900,000; Wyoming $117,-35,000 and $118,266,000.

Steel Pact, Good Economic News Fail to Bolster Stocks

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market last week derived no encouragement from the steel labor settlement and other items of good economic news and stretched its decline through the third straight week.

One sharp rally was the best the market could offer. The other days were lower, or at best, mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average sank 7.32 to 699.63.

More than twice as many stocks declined as advanced this week, the score being 877 to 427 of the 1,472 issues traded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.30 to 255.70, its sharpest decline since the week ended Feb. 24 when it was off 3.50.

Stocks dropped despite such news as this:

Auto assemblies were scheduled this week at the highest rate of the year; department store sales rose to a record in March; steel production gained in the latest week; instalment buying increased in February; total business sales advanced to a record in February.

On the other hand, analysts expected steel buying to fade in this quarter because it was no longer necessary to hedge against a strike. Investors were confused by the debate in Washington over tax credits. Administration spokesmen revised downward the nation's economic goals for 1962. Steel operations in the Buffalo, N. Y. area were scheduled to drop sharply because of lower demand.

Day-by-day, the market performance was as follows:

Sharp declines on Monday and Tuesday, a more moderate decline Wednesday as the average approached the 1962 lows; a vigorous rally on Thursday; a sleepy, mixed market on Friday, with the averages slightly lower.

The Thursday advance was described as chiefly technical by brokers. All this year the market has met support at or near the level of 690 in the Dow Jones industrial average. By Wednesday's close the Dow industrials were down to 696.88.

The list did not really begin to climb on Thursday, however, until after Wall Street read President Kennedy's transportation message in which he suggested that Congress free railroads of certain restrictions so that they could compete better with their freight-hauling rivals, the trucks and barges. Rails rallied moderately on this news. The rest of the list followed along, making such greater gains than the carriers.

Kennedy's message seemed forgotton on Friday, however, and the rails put on a mixed performance.

Overall volume for the week totaled 15,286,790 shares compared with 14,924,190 the week before.

In the course of the week, International Business Machines sold as low as 507, exactly 100 points below its 1961 high, but recovered to close at 520½. General Tire fell 13 points to 86¼.

The five most active issues last week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Chabourn Gotham, up 1 at 8¾ on 345,000 shares; Brunswick, off ⅜ at 33⅝; Texas Gulf Producing, off ⅜ at 48⅞; General Motors, off ⅛ at 55⅞; and Korvett, up 5 at 53¼.

Five most active issues last week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Occidental Petroleum, off 2⅝ at 21⅛ on 163,600 shares; North Rankin Nickel Mines, off ⅛ at ⅜; Gulf American Land, up 1¼ at 15⅜; Wentworth Manufacturing, up ½ at 6¾; and National Petroleum, up 5-16 at 3 15-16.

Oilmen Discount Kuwait Inference U.S. Needs Supply

By ALEX ADWAN
United Press International

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — A State Department inference that oil from Kuwait is necessary to the U.S. auto industry has brought a challenge from the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

The IPAA is still awaiting a reply from the State Department. But Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall told a group of congressmen last week that "someone may have stretched a point" in the reference to Kuwait oil in a state Department publication. Udall was questioned by Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex.

"The 1962 edition of the State Department's publication "Together We Are Strong" contains inaccurate and misleading references to petroleum imports and domestic petroleum supplies," IPAA vice president Minor S. Jameson Jr. said in a letter to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"Apparently, these references were included by someone who was not fully informed as to the petroleum industry or governmental oil import policies," Jameson said.

The booklet contained this statement:

"Without foreign trade, new cars would soon be impossible to find because the automobile industry depends on at least 31 imported materials, from all over the world."

An accompanying chart listed 31 imported materials, including petroleum from Kuwait.

"I am sure you will find there is no factual basis for this claim that, without petroleum from Kuwait, it would soon be impossible to find new cars," Jameson told Rusk.

Jameson said it was true that oil was imported from Kuwait and other countries.

"It is also a fact," he said, "that the domestic petroleum industry has a shut-in, reserve producing capacity substantially greater than the imports of crude petroleum from Kuwait and other sources," he said.

Braniff Erases Delays On Freight to Mexico

DALLAS, Tex. — An expedited service on international air freight shipments to Mexico City eliminating customs delays will be placed in effect April 16 by Braniff International Airways, the airline announced Saturday.

Charles Smith, Braniff Cargo Sales Manager, said the new service, known as "Through-Manifesting," was developed in cooperation with the U. S. Customs Bureau. The service applies to shipments originating in Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Dallas on through - plane service via San Antonio to Mexico City.

U. S. Customs will clear shipments at the three points or origin, thus eliminating the delay previously experienced at San Antonio when it was necessary to remove shipments from the plane for clearance.

"Thru manifesting on Braniff will provide shippers with the fastest and most expeditious service from Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Dallas to Mexico City, and is another "plus" in Braniffs policy of better service to the public," Smith said.

State Farm Group Assets Exceed $1 Billion Mark

The State Farm Insurance group passed $1 billion in assets in late 1961 to become one of only 112 organizations of that stature in the United States.

Edward B. Rust, president of the parent company, State Farm Mutual, said that the combined assets of the five companies were $1,003,457,197 at the end of 1961. The group has more than eight and two - thirds million policies in force.

Local agents for State Farm are Frank J. Vezo, Dale D. Garrett, Frank McKinley, Ernie LaFoilette, Roy Howell, Dan Quattrocchi, and Myron Brewer. They are located in Colorado Springs.

State Farm Mutual, for 20 years the world's largest auto insurer, began 1962 — its 40th anniversary year — with assets of $728,031,902 after increasing its policy in force count by more than a half - million during 1961.

In his year - end report, Rust said State Farm Mutual policies in force totaled 6,690,513 — an increase of 8.6 per cent over the 1960 total of 6,161,433. The 1961 figure includes policies covering 6,571,252 United States and Canadian vehicles. State Farm has a 12½ per cent share of the United States private passenger car insurance market.

Earned premiums and membership fees rose 8.7 per cent to a record $510,159,221. Surplus to protect policyholders was $253,214,470, an increase of 46,481,827 over 1960. The company settled 2,316,223 claims during 1961, totaling $260,860,747. This was a dollar value increase of 6.9 per cent over 1960 and the twelfth straight year that claim costs had risen.

Investment gain amounted to $23,418,413 compared with $19,794,536 a year ago and underwriting gain was $43,164,643. The 1960 underwriting gain was $55,711,235.

State Farm Life continued to rank in the top 5 per cent of all life insurance firms in the United States as it recorded $1,819,527,891 of ordinary life insurance in force at the end of the year. This was an increase of $186,350,100 over 1960 — or 11.4 per cent.

Life insurance sales increased nearly 14.9 per cent for a single year record of $356,980,565. Assets were $241,553,256, a 13.6 per cent gain, and surplus to protect policyholders was increased 11.1 per cent to $28,512,994.

State Farm Fire and Casualty noted its biggest growth in the homeowners and standard risk auto coverage areas. There were $30,592,078 of homeowners premiums in 1961 — 53 per cent of the company's direct written and assumed premium total of $57,615,815. The direct written premiums after re-insurance increased 25.9 per cent to $30,249,285.

Dr. Karl Ohrdorf Opens Office Here

The office of Dr. Karl Ohrdorf, chiropractor, will open Saturday at 1220 N. Weber St.

A graduate of Lincoln Chiropractic College in Indianapolis, Dr. Orhdorf will specialize in treatment of low back conditions.

The chiropractor is a native of Nebraska. He was a baker for 20 years before beginning the four year course at the Lincoln school.

Dr. Ohrdorf moved to Colorado Springs in December with his wife, Deloris, and three sons, Robert, Larry and Ronald. Robert is a student at Horace Mann and the two younger boys go to Steele elementary school.

Dr. Ohrdorf's father, William C. Ohrdorf, and sister, Mrs. George T. Tucker, are residents of Colorado Springs.

Kennedy's Tax Incentive Plan Meets Opposition

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's tax incentive plan - aimed at stimulating business by encouraging expansion - ran into opposition during the week.

Criticism came from representatives of both business and labor.

The so-called incentive plan has been passed by the House of Representatives and sent to the Senate. But the House cut from 8 per cent to 7 per cent the amount which businesses and farms would be permitted to subtract from their income tax for expenditures on equipment and machinery.

The administration let it be known that a fight would be waged in the Senate to restore the cut.

Spokesmen for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers told the Senate Finance Committee that they opposed the proposed tax credit.

President Kennedy sent Congress a far-ranging program to aid the ailing transportation industry.

It would provide $500 million for public agencies over the next three years which, along with some matching funds, would be used for "the revitalization and needed expansion of public mass transportation."

Kennedy also proposed that Congress wipe out minimum rates prescribed by federal regulation for travel and for shipment of bulk freight, including grain, coal ore and farm and fishery products.

Some rays of encouragement seeped through what has been a darkening economic picture. Economists saw cheerful signs and some statistics bore them out.

"The hesitation is only temporary," said Dr. Marcus Nadler, economic consultant for the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York. "There is no basis for the view that the economy is leveling off or that we are headed for a decline."

The automobile industry is going great guns in both sales and production.

Sales of new American - made passenger cars in March exceeded 600,000, the highest for the month seven years. General Motors Corp.'s Chevrolet Division said its March deliveries were the highest for any month in its history, totaling 197,705. American Motors reported its sales of 45,402 cars were a record for March.

General Motors built its one millionth car of 1962 Monday.

In the first three months of the year the industry turned out 1,766,833 cars, an increase of 47.9 per cent over the 1961 first quarter. Output during the week was estimated at 145,000, highest of the year.

Steel production continued to hum along at about 80 per cent of capacity but the industry looked for a slowdown in the wake of agreement on a new labor contract. Output during the week totaled 2,417,000 tons, up 1 per cent from the prior week.

A glimmer of improvement was sighted in the unemployment situation. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg reported the number of idle declined by 161,000 in March to 4,382,000. This reduced the unemployment rate to 5.5 per cent of the work force from 5.6 per cent in January.

Employment rose to a new record for March of 66,316,000, up 527,000 from Febuary.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange for the current week rose to 15,286,790 shares from the previous week's 14,924,190. Bond sales on the exchange in the latest week totaled $27,253,00 par value compared with the earlier week's $25,953,400.

Other favorable developments included:

The Federal Reserve Board reported that outstanding consumer installment credit increased by $236 million in February. This meant that people were more willing to go into debt to buy things.

The Commerce Department reported that combined sales of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers reached a record level of $64.7 billion in February, up 1 per cent from January.

Surveys indicated that merchants expect an increase in sales of apparel and home furnishings.

Briefly around the business scene: The American Collectors Association says more people are paying their bills on time than at any time since middle 1958 . . . Employment in the iron and steel industry totaled 566,028 in February, highest in 21 months . . . U.S. smokers paid $3.1 billion in taxes in 1961, the Tobacco Institute estimates.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—Hedge selling and profit cashing backed grain futures down generally Friday on the Board of Trade, but dealers said a good demand at prices slightly under the market limited the decline.

Setbacks were within the fractional range most of the time although oats had lost about a cent in the early afternoon.

Dealers said the easiness also encouraged a moderate volume of short selling, but there was some outright liquidation for the weekend.

Continental Puts Deluxe Buses on Line Thru Springs

Continental Trailways announced Saturday that new deluxe thru - bus service featuring its ultra - modern high - level Silver buses has been inaugurated between Denver and El Paso.

M. E. Moore, president of the Dallas - based bus system, said the 44 - passenger, 40-foot long Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Walsenburg, Trinidad, Raton, Las Vegas, New Mexico, Albuquerque, Socorro, Truth or Consequences, and Las Cruces replacing older single-level equipment.

"This is the 32nd Silver Eagle thru - bus route Continental Trailways has placed into service since we began operating the new equipment in 1959," Moore said.

Continental Trailways personnel designed the Silver Eagle bus, and it is manufactured exclusively for the company. In addition to the special high - level seating arrangement, the Continental Trailways Silver Eagle bus features a rest room, a 10-ton air conditioning system, foam rubber lounge-type reclinging seats, extra-large tinted glass windows, and an unusual suspension system which replaces ordinary metal springs with rubber pads to eliminate road-sway at high speeds and wheel-shock on rough highway surfaces.

BEGINS DRILLING

NEW YORK (UPI) — Union Oil Co. of California said it will begin exploratory drilling immediately to evaluate the 77,500 acres it acquired in the recent government lease sale in the Gulf of Mexico. Union's offshore lease purchase was said to be the largest single investment in exploratory acreage the company has ever made.

Piggyback Traffic Gives Rock Island Good Income Boost

CHICAGO — "Piggyback traffic and the movement of automobiles in multi-level rack cars, combined, accounted for approximately $7,600,000 in revenue on the Rock Island Lines in 1961," R. E. Johnson, president of the railroad, declared in the annual report to stockholders released last week.

Johnson also pointed out that the demand for piggyback services continues to grow.

The Rock Island grossed $203,332,262 in revenue during 1961 and had a net income of $6,516,263, an increase of $501,646 over 1960, he said. The increase in net was accomplished despite a decline in operating revenues of $8,443,341, he added.

"Aggressive merchandising coupled with rigid, but wise, cost control permitted this increase in net income," Johnson stated.

Last year, he said, private investments of $136,000,000 in 218 new plants and 131 expansions to existing industrial facilities on the Rock Island was one of the bright spots in the railroad's operation.

This new on-line industrial activity is expected to produce about $6,000,000 of additional freight revenue a year, the railroad president asserted.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says that probably one of the closest parallels to the current market technical action is what was taking place in the market in March and April, 1958, a period just prior to one of the sharpest and most sustained market rises in history.

This period also included such things as bond strength, cancer scares, great uncertainties regarding the steels and investigations of the drug industry.

According to Spear & Staff's science and electronics investment letter, it is important for investors to realize the specific position of science stocks in relation to their overall long-term growth cycle. In this regard, the evidence suggests the group is in the trough of the cycle and the next broad movement should be upward.

Bache & Co. says there still remains a possibility that buying support will materialize once again at the current level, but for the moment "we can only adopt a wait-and-see attitude."

L. O. Hooper, writing for W. E. Hutton & Co., says that many of the issues which are way down in price still look dear on the basis of this year's earnings expectations and most of the stocks which seem desirable are up in price to levels where much has been discounted. He says that more attention apparently is being paid to price-earnings ratios.

Boy Scout Circus 'Human Engineering Achievement'

In this day of scientific achievement, the local Boy Scout Council boasts of a new kind of achievement, that of "human engineering." When you produce a two-hour circus with some 7,000 persons involved, it takes a great deal of human engineering, Ray Ryerson, scout executive, declared Saturday.

One of the greatest engineering feats of the circus is finding storage space for boys, costumes, properties behind the scenes for the thousands of actors, especially in the City Auditorium.

A second engineering feat is the fact that generally there is a different cast each of the four performances. There is no opportunity to actually rehearse anyone of the complete casts. Nearly 60 different individual pack and troop rehearsals have been held at City Auditorium during the past two weeks, in order that every boy and leader knows exactly where he is to assemble, where he is to dress and exactly how he performs when he comes to the huge stage (which is the entire floor of the City Aud.).

More than 100 event directors, stage crew members and property directors are required to be sure everyone of the some fifteen acts come onto the huge stage exactly on time.

One small item in the staging of this years extravaganza which is an engineering feat in itself, is the preparation of music. Jay Drennan of radio station KPIK undertook to coordinate this project. Each circus act requires a special musical background, and in order to accomplish all of this the following routine was needed: first, check with City auditorium what speed record player is available? second, scores of possible musical selections were reviewed, third, borrow, beg or steal the exact recordings that are required. Here KRDO radio helped in every way possible. Now to meet with Jay Drennan, coordinate the amount of time needed for each act, "dub" the music from the records onto tape (at 78 RPM) then "dub" the tape onto records at 33 and one third RPM then determine how much time the act will take on the stage 9 without ever having seen the act in rehearsal) then determine how much music should be "dubbed" onto the record. We believe this is both scientific and human engineering with a big "E". Knowing Jay Drennan's ability, we believe the music, lighting and staging of each act will be almost perfect. Oh! yes! we just remembered special music and sound effects are required for the special clown acts being prepared under the director of "Blinky" (Russell Scott).

Hundreds of properties must be made by Cubs, Scouts, Explorers, Leaders, parents, friends and neighbors. Three 20-foot sail boats for the landing of Columbus, three covered wagons, one man horses, two man horses for the Gold Rush scene, two complete railroad engines, tracks, the golden spike for the transcontinental railroad scene.

The "Friendship 7," which carriel Col. John Glen into orbit, space men, missiles, rockets for the space age scene, and many other "props" just for the huge Cub Act. Two 20 foot high signal towers, two 35-foot bridges, lean toos, tents, napsacks, huge fire by friction sets for the pioneering and camping act; sail boats, cut outs of auto engines, air planes, canoes, a complete mountain for rock climbing, all of these props for the Explorer act. Two hundred fifty American flags size 4'-6' are required for the grand entry pageant. A Daniel Boone stockade 25 feet by 40 feet with Block houses constructed so that 25 sections can be erected on the stage in a matter of seconds.

Some of the costumes which had to be designed, and then prepared by boys, mothers, etc; are 50 women's costumes in the Gold Rush scene, 200 indian costumes, 60 costumes for Abraham Lincoln scene, costumes for dignitaries in the Transcontinental railroad scene. Dresses for Cubs (and girls) in the "twist act."

Then a small item like transportation, to move all of these "props" to the auditorium — at least 15 two ton trucks for the larger props are required and many smaller trucks for smaller "props." Ushers, manpower to handle nine different booths in the concession department, ticket takers, greeters, city fire men, spot light operators, doctors, printing of tickets, the printing of an eight page program, newspaper publicity, banners, window stencils, TV and Radio publicity and many other items are all part of the regions largest and most elaborate youth show.

What is so unusual about all of this activity, simply that there are no professionals in the Scout circus. Even the three Scout headquarters executives actually volunteer their time for the circus. There are no professional promoters who get their "cut" first. Hundreds of Scout leaders, companies and organizations help to produce the Scout Circus to show the community what Scouts are doing, to provide program activities for pack and troop meetings, and to assist boys in earning needed equipment to carry out their Scouting activities.

"We believe every family in the entire region will thoroughly enjoy the 1962 circus, the price of $1 per adult and 50 cents per child," Ryerson said, "Certainly is a small fee for the tremendous effort that goes into the yearly event."

Tickets may be secured from any Scout and exchanged for reserved seats (at no extra cost) at Hibbards or Sears. Patrons are asked to arrive at City auditorium on performance nights before 7:45 p.m. The pre-circus program starts at 7:30 p.m. The circus will be held April 11, 12, 13, and 14.

Academy Cadets Take Airborne Physical Test

Eighty-seven Air Force Academy Cadets are a step closer to winning the wings of a paratrooper.

The group, led by Capts. I. M Kidder and J. A. Magee, have successfully completed the Airborn Physical Fitness Test . . first obstacle on the path to paratroop training at Fort Benning, Ga. this summer.

All volunteers, the cadets prepared for the rugged test by undergoing a program of physical conditioning set up by the Department of Athletics and monitored by Army Maj. G. D. Buckner.

At the Cadet Gym, the volunteers ran through a test even tougher than the final physical evaluation which will face them when they report to Fort Benning. Minimum requirements included 6 pull-ups, 90 knee bends, 38 sit-ups, 26 push-ups, an endurance run, and rope climb.

A second test is scheduled for 45 other volunteers who were unable to attend the first session.

Rugged training will not end for Benning-bound cadets and officers after completion of the qualifying test, however. Under the Department of Physical Education they will undertake a program which will include comprehensive physical training every day for six weeks.

At the end of that period a second physical evaluation test will be given.

Prison Show 'Different,' News Reporter Discovers

By JIM GLENN

There's something "different" about going to a show in Canon City's state penitentiary.

It begins before the audience enters the auditorium. A group gradually assembles in a large room with bars where the more conventional expect to find walls. When it's full, the entrance slides shut and another in front slides open. Everyone troops into an identical room where the process is repeated, and finally the auditorium is reached.

This is how the big crowd attending "Vaudevillia," the 1962 "all inmate variety show," got into the theatre at the penitentiary Friday night.

The Gazette Telegraph reporter covering the performance decided to leave a few minutes early before the end and beat the crush, so he slipped out of a convenient side door. He promptly received the blinding attention of a searchlight full in the face.

An officer sprang up from apparently nowhere and escorted him to the gate, solicitously explaining that the guards manning the lights on top of the walls were all armed and "always on their toes."

The same can be said, tho in a different manner, for the large cast who presented "Vaudevillia" to an almost over-flow audience Friday and Saturday nights.

The performers showed a refreshing lack of self-consciousness not usually found in amateur groups, tho it seemed that some, particularly among the musicians, may well have been fully fledged professionals elsewhere.

It was obvious the cast was enjoying itself enormously, and much of their pleasure was conveyed across the footlights.

The evening was emceed by Bill Desellier, an ebullient personality, who explained certain similarities in his family by wryly commenting, "My dad went to Penn State and I went to the state pen."

The show consisted of comedy sketches, songs, dances, various solos, and perhaps the strongest feature, the musicians. Most of them played with a professional verve and smoothness, particularly the jazz groups.

Cliff Stewart and Jim Condrey on guitars with Don Bartsch on bass viol and Edgar Storey on bongos gave an astringent but deft interpretation of "Caravan."

Another group, "Jazz Workshop," was inventive and exhilerating in some original interpretations of popular numbers.

The cast members were not averse to criticism and laughing as themselves, as was apparent in several innuendoes and the pungent sketch, "The Sausage Skit," which featured Edgar Storey as "the sucker" and Bill Desellier as the "con man."

The money raised from the show, which was produced by the penitentiary music department and directed by Prof. Earl R. Gilbert, goes to the department. It will be used for buying new instruments, costumes and general educational purposes.

Mail Inquiries At Chamber Ahead of '61

Chamber officials have announced that total inquiries for this period for 1961 amounted to 8,103 while 1962 shows 8,364, an increase of 261.

Of this total, the vacation mail for 1961 was 2,439 and for 1962, 2,996, an increase of 557.

Requests for information reach a peak in May when national advertising concerning the Pikes Peak Region appears in various magazines and metropolitan newspapers.

Girl Scouts to Hold Art Exhibit This Week

"Picture Your Home Frontier" is the theme for a Girl Scout art exhibit to be held Monday thru Thursday at the Artist's Workshop, 2516 W. Colorado Ave.

Original paintings and photographs may be submitted by any brownie, intermediate or senior Girl Scout in the Pioneer Neighborhood of the local scout council.

A council wide exhibit will follow with the best entries sent to the 1962 Roundup in Vermont.

Palmer Retains Two Stroke Masters Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Dogged Arnold Palmer clung to his two-stroke lead by firing a 3-under-par 69 Saturday but a stringbean outsider, Dow Finsterwald, moved up as his chief threat with one more round to play in the Masters Golf Tournament.

Palmer's round gave him a three-quarter-point total of 205, matching the 54-hole pace set by Ben Hogan when he established the tournament record of 274 in 1953.

Finsterwald, a 32-year-old tournament tourist from Athens, Ohio, who is called tse "bridesmaid" of the circuit, fashioned a brilliant 7-under-par 65 for second place at 207.

This pushed defending champion Gary Player of South Africa back into third place with 209 after a third round 71 and broke up the prospect of another tense Palmer-Player down-to-the-wire duel such as charatcerized the tournament last year.

In fourth place, apparently the only other man solidly in the title picture, was Gene Littler, the reticent U.S. Open champion, who also had a 71 for 210.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., whose 127 pounds are beginning to show the strain of the hard, tough grind, had an even par 72 for 213. Nobody else seems to have a chance.

A crowd of between 40,000 and 50,000, said to be the largest ever, swarmed over Augusta National's picturesque acres, straining at the ropes, stampeding over the fairways and straining for an occasional sight of the stars.

The setting was so tense that one spectator collapsed near the green just as Palmer was preparing to putt on the third hole. Play was suspended for about 15 minutes until he could be removed by an ambulance.

Palmer, who had the bulk of the gallery at his heels, climaxed his round by rolling in a 15-foot putt for a birdie 3 at the final hole.

It was on this hole that Palmer blew the championship last year, taking a double bogey 6 when a par 4 would have beaten out Player, the first foreigner to take the crown.

Finsterwald's sparkling 65, which included seven birdies and not a single bogey, was the second best ever recorded over the tough but picturesque Augusta course, which plays a par 36-36—72.

Lloyd Mangrum holds the course record for one round—a 64 he shot back in 1940. The last player to record a 65 was Cary Middlecoff, who did it in 1955 when he won the crown.

Palmer, who won the title in 1958 and 1960 and who missed in 1959 and 1961 by the combined total of only three strokes, again made Agusta's sprawling acres look like "Palmer's Plantation."

With his collar open at the neck his shirt tail hanging out and his sweater rolled up to his elbows, the powerfully-built professional from Latrobe, Pa., stalked the course like a restless and relentless huntsman.

After dirving into the rough on the first two holes, taking a bogy six on the first and turning in 37, the Pennsylvanian tightened his belt and grimly got down to his birdie business on the incoming nine.

He birdied four of the last nine holes. He rolled in a putt from 30 feet on the 10th, sent his tee shot to within three feet of the cup on the short 12th, daringly reached the green in two on the water hole, the par five 15th, and then climaxed his day with another great birdie on the 18th.

Finsterwald, a tournament regular who has become known as the "bridesmaid" of the circuit because of his high money finishes but few championships, turned in a methodical round.

He made two spectacular recovery shots. The first came on the par five, 475-yard 13th where, after driving into the ditch, he played a safe out and then sent his approach to within 18 inches of the pin. On the final hole, with Palmer playing just behind him and the cheers of Palmer's gallery ringing in his ears, Finsterwald drove into the woods on the right. Then he pitched out over a dogwood tree, laid his third shot eight feet from the pin and sank for his par four.

The slender, 155-pounder, rammed home a 50-foot putt on the fourth hole and a 30-footer on the 17th. His other birds—on the second, ninth and tenth—came on putts ranging from 3 to 10 feet.

Finsterwald was the darkest of dark horses as the tournament began, although he has long been one of the most consistent money winners.

He finished in the money in 72 straight tournaments—a near record. His last tournament victory, however, came two years ago at New Orleans.

Palmer Gains Split With Trinidad Nine

TRINIDAD — The Palmer Terrors, after virtually having thrown the first game away in the last two innings, 7-6 roared back in the second game to take a 5-4 verdict and split a South Central League doubleheader here Saturday with Trinidad.

The Terrors apparently found their hitting eyes Saturday as they rapped out 21 hits in the two games but errors cost them the first game. Bob Martinez, the fine junior pitcher, turned in two brilliant relief stints on the mound and was the winner of the second game.

"I was real encouraged by the way the kids showed today," Coach Jerry Hughes said. "I think we're coming now," he explained.

The Terrors had a 6-2 lead going into the sixth frame of the first game when the lid blew off and pitcher Larry Carver blew up. John Micheliza led off with a triple and Gary Solano reached second on a fielder's choice when Tony Anderson threw the ball away and Micheliza scored. Gary Ravanelli, the winning pitcher, struck out but then Carver hit Steve Wheeler, walked Ed Pfalmer, struck out Art Tapia but Gonzales cleaned the bases with a triple to knot the score at 6 - 6. Martinez came in to replace Carver and got Jim Toupal to fly out.

Dennis Jost scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh when he reached first on a two-base throwing error by third sacker Dick Barr. Micheliza sliced a single to score Jost with the winning run.

All the second game action took place in the first inning. Palmer scored all five runs in the first inning and Trinidad their four in the bottom of the first.

Bill Endreson made the first out but Barr singled and Mike Amick reached first on an error and stole second but Barr got picked off third. Catcher Larry Nicks then doubled to right to score Amick with the first run. Jim Hillman singled to chase Nicks home and Tony Anderson singled to put Hillman on third. Jerry Golden then doubled off the centerfield fence to drive both Anderson and Hillman home. Shortstop Pat Berkheim singled to score Golden with what proved to be the winning run.

Bruce Fleming started for Palmer on the hill but he simply didn't have it this day. Gonzales singled but Toupal flied out. He then walked Jost, hit Micheliza, walked Solano and Martinez got an infield hit. Wheeler banged a single to chase two home after Solano had gotten an RBI on the walk. With four runs across, Martinez came in for Fleming and put the side down with the bases loaded. He went the remainder of the game and allowed only three scattered Trinidad hits.

Palmer will go to Monument Valley Park Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 for a game with St. Mary's in the intra - city rivalry.

South Falls To Bulldogs; T-Birds Lead

An unexpected assist from an already - conquered rival boosted Wasson's Thunderbirds into sole possession of first place in the South Central League baseball standings Saturday as the topsy-turvy conference experienced splits in three separate double-headers.

Big surprise of the season thus far came when Pueblo Centennial edged defending champion Pueblo South, 7-6, in the second half of a twin bill in Pueblo Saturday. The Colts barely pulled out the first game, 4-3, behind ace Jerry Baca and then saw the upstart Bulldogs pin the second game loss on the same Baca, who came on in relief.

The other previously unbeaten team, Pueblo Central, also went down Friday, but this one was less unexpected. The Wildcats won the first game of two from East Pueblo, 5-4, but then fell before the Eagles 7-1 in the nightcap. The games were the first for East as the Eagles drew a bye the first week.

The only other action saw Palmer and Trinidad split at Trinidad with the Miners winning the first, 7-6, and Palmer capturing the second, 5-4.

Wasson, which drew the bye this weekend, thus heads the pack with its 2-0 mark altho South and Central are both close behind with 3-1 records. The Thunderbirds two victories were over Centennial, 12-2, and 10-1, last Tuesday. Wasson now travels to South this Saturday and a split or sweep in that series would move the T-Birds into a strong position in this season's race.

FOR MEN ONLY

By Jack Waymire

This time of year most of us are looking ahead to coming vacations . . . and when you select your summer wardrobe, it's a good idea to keep travel needs in mind.

Time was when clothing makers didn't seem to give much thought to the promblems of the traveler. These days, perhaps because we do more traveling as a nation, and because of new developments in synthetic fabrics and their treatment, designers and manufacturers have made traveling light, easier, more carefree.

You can wear a suit on a plane or train and hang it up at night knowing that the wrinkles will shake out by morning. You can give that white shirt you wore all day in the car a quick wash, hang it up to dry, and wear it the next day — without ironing. Your stretch nylon socks will also wash and dry in a jiffy.

Theoretically at least, a man could travel today with one suit, one shirt, one set of underwear, one pair of socks, one tie . . . if he didn't mind a little washing every night!

We don't recommend limiting yourself to one outfit, but we do recommend our easy-care, wash 'n' wear fashions for vacations. At Waymire's 24 South Tejon, our summer selection is complete right now, so while you plan your vaction, plan to stop in and see us.

Wyoming May Host Wrestlers

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI)— Wyoming University at Laramie has been recommended to be host school for the 1965 National Collegiate Athletic Association wrestling tournament.

The recommendation is subject to approval by the NCAA.

John Hancock of Colorado State College, a member of the NCAA wrestling rules committee, said the 1963 tournament would be held at Kent State College in Ohio and Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y., had been recommended to host the 1964 tournament.

Hancock said the NCAA practice is to shift the tournament to a different section of the country each year. This year's tournament was held at Stillwater, Okla. Hancock said selection of schools is limited because the school must have a fieldhouse or other facility large enough to hold six mats.

"Wyoming put on the tournament once before and did a fine job," Hancock said.

SAVING AN ERROR—First baseman Kent Lammers (7) of the Air Force Academy leaps high in the air to grab a wild throw from the Falcons' left fielder. North Dakota State's Roman Rezac (6) had beaten the throw for a hit in the eighth inning, but had Lammers not stopped the ball he undoubtedly would have advanced at least to second base. Besides this fielding gem, Lammers was the hitting star of Saturday's single game with a two-run homer in the sixth and another single. The Falcons swept the two-game series with the Bison, winning 21-3 on Friday and 6-1 Saturday. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Falcons Sweep Set With Bisons With Wind-Blown 6-1 Victory

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

Continuing the running battle with the spring weather, the Air Force Academy posted its fourth straight victory Saturday afternoon by sweeping a two - game series with North Dakota State, 6 - 1.

Considering that the game Saturday was played under almost impossible conditions, with a hard wind whipping the field and temperatures dipping to the chilling stage, it was a well - played contest with both teams registering eight hits and the Falcons coming out on top by a 2-1 margin in earned runs.

Following the example of Friday's series opener, the game was switched from the AFA site to Erps Field behind the Palmer High gymnasium because of snow at the AFA. And the scheduled double header was trimmed to a single game.

Saturday's victory gave the Falcons a clean sweep in their two double headers with North Dakota and last weekend against New Mexico University.

This next weekend Coach Wendy Lawrence will take his Cadets to San Diego State (Calif.) where they probably will get the best test of the early season in two games there. And the next game in this region will be the following weekend when the AFA will open up the Colorado College season in a game at Memorial Park in Colorado Springs.

In contrast to Friday's 21 - 3 win over North Dakota State, the Falcons were forced to eke the second contest out with some heads - up base - running and by taking advantage of five NDS errors. The lone earned runs for the winners came in the sixth inning when last year's leading hitter Kent Lammers lifted one over the right - center fence, despite the stiff wind blowing in from the west.

Bob Schaumberg, making his first start of the season after being delayed because of basketball during the winter, earned the win, altho sophomore John Neasham came on in relief over the last four innings. Schaumberg gave up but one run on five hits and was in command by a 4-1 margin when leaving.

The spotlight of the game, however, was almost stolen by the two relief pitchers.

Neasham was also making his first varsity appearance and came thru with an eight-strikeout performance in blanking the NDS Bison over the last four innings. And for the visitors, big 6-7 Lynden Langen hurled the last two frames against the Cadets and had four strikeouts and only one hit.

Even in the easy win the Falcons dropped off slightly from the torrid batting percentage of the first three games. Going into Saturday's game the AFA was hitting a cool .407 as a team and their eight hits dropped this to .368 — still quite respectable.

In addition, Lawrence has been getting creditable performances from his pitching staff and the stock in the "best - ever" season at the Academy has been going up with every game. The entire staff now has a sparkling 1.06 earned - run - average to more than protect the healthy leads the hitters have provided.

Lammers' home run in the sixth was the only extra - base blow the Falcons could manage against the slants of starter Wayne Huberlach, a lefty, and Langen, who cooled off the AFA bats in the final innings with a powerful fast ball.

The Air Force, however, took a quick lead in the first inning and never seemed in any great danger the rest of the way. The Bisons pushed across one run in the first frame on a double by center fielder Bob Monte and two singles before Schaumberg could recover to end the threat.

The Falcons came right back, tho, with Larry Day getting on by error. Lammers and John Medina both punching out singles and Rudy Bow finally pushing across a third run with a sacrifice fly.

The AFA bats remained silent until the fourth when another error set up a scoring opportunity again. Schaumberg slapped a hard shot to third, which was overthrown at first, and he came home on Day's single to left field. In the fifth, the Falcons put together two straight singles by Jon Staples and Bow, but this died with a fly to center.

Then Lammers ended the scoring with his high homer with Willie Parma on base in the sixth.

The game was spiced with three double plays — two by the Falcons. And there were several fielding gems by both sides — especially considering the winds from the outfield. It's probable that many of the fly balls might have gone for extra bases had the wind not been present.

The game ended with mild excitement when the Bison loaded the bases on two straight singles and a walk, trailing by the final 6-1 margin. However, Neasham, who could be the brightest star on the horizon for the Academy as a sophomore with a "sneaky" fast ball, struck out the side to leave the runners stranded.

The double loss to the Falcons gave North Dakota State four straight defeats on its season - opening trip thru Colorado. Other losses were to Colorado State College, 13-0, and to Colorado State University, 8-2.

Air Academy High Pounds Florence in PPL Opener

FLORENCE — The Air Academy Kadets, pre - season favorite to win the Pikes Peak League baseball title, rapped Florence's Huskies, 16 - 8, in an abbreviated five inning game here Saturday afternoon because of severe dust storms.

This was the first league contest for each team and puts the AFA in a three - way with Cheyenne Mountain and Widefield for the lead. It also gives the Kadets a 2-1 season record.

The Air Force blasted two Huskie pitchers for 12 hits while Jim Hagey and Ron Simons held the Florence nine to only three hits. Hagey was the winner while Reno Cortesi took the loss.

The Kadets banged the game open in the first frame with three runs, added seven more in the second, four in the fourth and two in the fifth frame. Florence scored two each in the first and third and four in the fourth.

Bob Larive led the Kadets with a triple, double and single. Hagey belted a three - run homer and a single; Keith Withycombe a double; John Hewitt a base loaded triple; John Julius a triple and single; Jack Stramberg a pair of singles and Riley Ritter a single. Stan Rivera hit single and double for two of Florence's three hits.

Texas Southern Leads Relays Record Assault

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas Southern University Saturday established five College Division records in the Texas Relays, a performance unprecedented in the 35-year history of the meet.

Kansas smashed University Division records in the distance medley relay and two-mile relay and Nebraska tied the meet record in the open 480-yard shuttles hurdles relay, broke the four-mile relay standard and won the 100-yard dash mark to give the Big Eight schools a slight edge in the University division.

Texas Southern, an all-Negro school from Houston competing for the first time in the Texas Relays, set new standards of 7:30.6 in the two-mile relay, 40.5 in the 440-yard relay, 3:21.5 in the sprint medley relay, 1:23.7 in the 880-yard relay and 3:09.0 in the mile relay.

Rice's Fred Hansen cleared 15 feet, six and one-half inches in the pole vault to break a 15-1 record set last year by George Davies of Oklahoma State. His leap was the best ever recorded by a Texas Collegian.

Abilene Christian, winner of four of the five University Division relays last year, won the 880-yard handoff in 1:23.6, the 440-yard relay in 40.9 and the mile relay in 3:10.0.

Texas Southern's fabulous showing stunned the crowd of 12,000 and won the unanimous vote of sports writers as the outstanding team in the meet.

Kansas' Bill Dotson, who had a 4:03.9 mile anchor in the distance medley relay and a 1:49.6 anchor in the 880-yard relay, won the outstanding performer award.

The Jayhawkers, holders of the American indoor records in both events, posted a 9:46.4 in the distance medley, breaking a 9:51.5 set by Abilene Christian last year, and had a 7:27.7 in the two-mile relay, clipping the 7:30.8 recorded by California in 1958.

The Cornhuskers from Nebraska tied one of the meet's oldest records, a 58.9 set in 1941 in the 480-yard shuttle hurdles relay, and clipped one second off of the four-mile relay mark with a 17:01.8. Ray Knaub brought Nebraska home in the 100-yard dash in 9.6.

Geoff Walker of Houston finished the gruelling 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:11.6, breaking the old mark of 9:14.2.

Records also were established in the Junior College-Freshman mile relay, shot put and pole vault and the high school 120-yard high hurdles.

Melvin Houston, Wesley Blackmon, Ray Saddler and Lester Milburn teamed to break Texas A&I's mile record of 3:13.5 finishing 40-yards in front of second place McMurry in 3:09.5. Saddler had a sizzling 46.3 on the third leg.

Texas Southern won by 25-yards in the 440-relay with a 40.5 to topple East Texas State's 1960 mark of 41.0. Homer Jones, Barney Allen, T. J. Bell and Overton Williams handled the sticks.

The old two-mile relay record of 7:34.9 set by Howard Payne last year toppled when Texas Southern's Maurice Hobson, Walter Hunt, Saddler and Major Adams 50-yards in front in 7:30.6.

Saddler, Jones, Bell and Adams won by a whopping 45-yards in the sprint medley relay, turning in a 3:21.5 and shaving a second off of East Texas' 1960 record.

Texas Southern won the 880-yard relay in 1:24.0, finishing 30-yards in front, after setting a 1:23.7 record in the preliminaries Friday.

Texas' Ray Cunningham took the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.2. John Camien ran a 3:53.5 to win the open 1500-meter run, and Ralph Alspaugh of Texas and Charles Frazier of Texas Southern finished in a 10.6 dead heat in the invitational 100-meter.

Colin Ridgway, the lanky Australian competing for Lamar Tech, failed again in his attempt to break his 7 feet one-half inch state high jump record, sharing first place with Gene Johnson of California at 6-8. Russ Seitzinger of Hardin Simmons took the discus with a throw of 164 feet, six and one-half inches.

Bob Swafford of Texas Tech won the 400-meter hurdles in 52.6, Donald Smith of Missouri won the shot with a put of 57 feet 10 inches, Bill Miller of McMurry sailed 24 feet 11 inches in the broad jump, and Wichita's Phillip Johnson took the javelin with a throw of 235 feet 5½ inches.

Texas A&M edged Oklahoma State's American indoor record holders in the University sprint medley relay, winning in 3:21.4. Abilene Christian repeated as 880-yard relay champion in 1:23.6.

Cowboys Clip Buffs Twice As Big Eight Season Opens

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State opened its Big Eight Conference baseball play by sweeping both games of a doubleheader against Colorado, 9-3 and 12-8, Saturday.

Myrle Calmus and Don Karnes were the hitting heroes for Oklahoma State's Cowboys.

Calmus drove in 4 runs in the first game on 3 hits in 4 at bats and in the second game got 2 for 5 to account for another pair of runs.

Karnes was 3 for 3 and drove in one run in the first and 2 for 4 in the nightcap to account for two more runs.

Oklahoma State got 12 hits in each game, Colorado 9 in the opener and 10 in the second game.

The victories stretched Oklahoma State's season record to 3-4 while Colorado now is 4-4. It was the first conference game for both teams.

Aggies Open Spring Practice

FORT COLLINS (AP)—Colorado State University opened spring football practice Saturday with a near-record turnout of 101 players on hand to greet new Head Coach Mike Lude.

Included were 23 lettermen and more than 20 junior college transfers.

A light rain and snow storm forced the squad inside the fieldhouse for the first half of the three-hour drill.

The workout was the first of 20 scheduled sessions which conclude with the annual intra-squad game May 12.

AF Trackmen Gain Split In Two Meets

DENVER (AP) — Denver University defeated both Air Force and Colorado State University while Air Force whipped CSU in a triple dual track meet Saturday.

The competition began in gusty winds and wound up in sleeting, near freezing weather as a storm front moved across Denver University Stadium during the meet.

The scores were Denver 76 3-5 and Air Force 54 2-5; Denver 93 and Colorado State University 38; Air Force 86 9-10 and CSU 44 1-10.

One of the best performances was turned in by Everett Beck of Denver who won the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds against Air Force and CSU. He placed third in high hurdles against Air Force and tied for first in low hurdles against both Air Force and CSU.

Pender Captures Championship

BOSTON (UPI) — Challenger Paul Pender regained his share of the middleweight championship Saturday night with a decisive unanimous decision over British titlist Terry Downes, the Cockney bookmaker who became champion when Pender retired in their last fight.

Downes, blood gushing from his nose and a deep gash over his left eye, was on the short end of all three scoring cards. There was no suggestion of a close, "Boston decision" wherein the local fighter is favored.

Pender won the cards of the two judges, 145-143, and 146-141, and that of the referee, 144-143. He was a 147-142 winner of the UPI card.

Downes won only two rounds in the fight—the first and the fifth—and it was Pender on a landslide thereafter before an 11,500 Boston Garden Crowd.

Downes, who lost a TKO to Pender here more than a year ago before winning the title on Pender's surrender in London last July, suffered the cut beside his nose in the sixth round. The deep gash over the left eye opened in the 12th round.

The victory gave Pender a title recognized in Massachusetts, New York and Europe for an expected title-clearing bout with Gene Fullmer, the middleweight king recognized by the National Boxing Association.

Pender, who has been in virtual seclusion during two months of intensive training at a deserted summer resort on Cape Cod, appeared hollow-eyed but tough.

He, like Downes, showed the 15-round strain in the last four rounds of the bout but still had enough strength to clearly win the last round.

It was Downes' nose—which needed 14 stitches after his first fight with Pender here in July 1961—that was Pender's pet target Saturday night. Pender, fighting in angry free-swinging flourishes particularly after being driven against the ropes, first drew blood from a small cut near Downes' eye in the fourth round.

While Pender was aiming a steady series of left jabs and an occasional short right at Downes' bleeding targets, the British boxer continued to concentrate on the body attack which had forced Pender's retirement after nine rounds in London last July.

Jones Boys, Cousy Spark Celtics to Playoff Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Old pro Bob Cousy and the Jones boys brought tired Boston to life for a 122-108 victory over Los Angeles in the opener of the playoff finals Saturday.

The Boston back court men sent the defenders off to a 1-0 edge in the best-of-7 National Basketball Association series which continues here Sunday.

Playing with the master's touch and the abandon of a rookie, Cousy, along with K. C. Jones, sparked a dead-looking club in the early minutes to a fast breaking winner.

Sam Jones, whose shot beat Philadelphia in the Eastern Division final Thursday night, took charge of the Boston scoring with 24 points.

From an early nine-point deficit, Boston moved to a 60-52 halftime lead, then put the verdict out of reach by outscoring the Lakers 35-22 in the third quarter.

Pvt. Elgin Baylor, flown in on leave from Ft. Lewis, Wash., led Los Angeles with 35 points.

Boston stars were numerous as Bill Russell did his usual defensive gem at center and muscleman Jim Loscutoff enjoyed a strong scoring effort. But none was more appreciated by the 7,467 Boston Garden fans and the national television audience than crippled Frank Ramsey.

When the Lakers made one final bid to narrow the Celtics margin late in the third quarter, Ramsey hobbled on a game leg to six fast points and a standing ovation.

Preps Plan Reduction Of Classes

DENVER (AP)—Colorado leaders of high school athletics apparently are giving serious consideration to a plan of reducing the number of divisions.

A reorganization committee may ask the board of control of the Colorado High School Activities Association to reduce the present ive classes to three.

President classifications are: Class AAA, for schools of more han 750 students; Class AA, 501 to 750; Class A, 176 to 500; Class , 76 to 175, and Class C, 75 or fewer.

The board of control will meet here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The reorganization committee has recommended the Poudre Valley League be elevated to Class , from B. Limon and Stratton, now in the three-school Eastern League, will shift to the Arkansas Valley League, and the third school, Hugo, will be asked to join the Class C High Plains League.

An association official said the ve Class AAA leagues will be given approval to hold separate meetings for tackling various problems.

Benny Paret Laid to Rest In Quiet Florida Cemetery

MIAMI (UPI) — Benny (Kid) Paret, boxing's most publicized victim, found a final peace Saturday in a quiet place where no crowds roar, in a sheltered corner where no handlers to repair his wounds will be needed any more.

In a Catholic cemetery so far off the beaten track not even a house is visible, attendants from a Negro funeral home buried the Cuban sugar cane cutter who fought his way twice to the welterweight championship of the world.

His tiny wife was there, and his silent mother who came flat broke from Cuba to see him buried in the city he adopted. There were reporters and many photographers, too, in keeping with the publicity surrounding Paret's death.

Fighters have died before from the pounding they suffered in the ring—Ernie Schaff, Jimmy Doyle, Lavern Roach. But Paret was the first one fatally injured while millions watched it on television from the safety of their living rooms.

Emile Griffith, a sometime hat designer enraged because Paret called him a "woman" at their weighing-in, bludgeoned Paret more than 20 times on the head in the 12th round of their title bout in New York City's Madison Square Garden March 24.

Paret never woke up. He died Tuesday in New York's Roosevelt Hospital where they carried him after Griffith cut him down.

But Saturday all this was stuff for state legislatures and boxing's detractors to argue over. For Paret, it was time for ritual and goodbye.

A black Cadillac hearse from the House of Albert Funeral Home brought the fallen champion at 9:30 a.m. to the side door of the Corpus Christi Roman Catholic Church. They rolled him out in an unadorned coffin of gunmetal gray and into the towering church and down the center aisle past about 300 persons who sat in respectful silence.

When the service was over, a long caravan of cars drove to Our Lady of Mercy cemetery on Miami's western fringe. The easy hiss and gentle scratch of palm fronds in the wind is the only sound out there, for it is far from town.

Hunsaker Condition Is Grave

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP)—Heavyweight Tunney Hunsaker's condition improved very slightly but remained grave Saturday after surgery for a brain injury suffered in what he had said might be his last fight.

Dr. E. Lyle Gage, who performed the midnight surgery on the 30-year-old boxer, gave him a 50-50 chance of recovery. Gage said Saturday, "In 48 hours we'll know. All signs are favorable."

While Hunsaker lay unconscious in an oxygen tent, former welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret was buried Saturday in Miami. Paret died of brain injuries in New York last Tuesday, 10 days after losing his title to Emile Griffith.

Paret's death gave rise to demands for tighter restrictions on boxing, including some suggestions that it be banned entirely.

Ring attendants revived Hunsaker where he had fallen and lifted him to a chair brought into the ring from his corner. There he told a Beckley sports writer, George McLaughlin of the Raleigh Register, "I want to fight him again . . . I'm okay."

But Hunsaker collapsed while being examined by the ring physician. In a coma, he was taken briefly to a Beckley hospital, then was brought by ambulance to Bluefield, still wearing only boxing trunks and gym shoes.

McLaughlin said Hunsaker, who had been fighting professionally since 1958, told him earlier he might quit fighting after the bout with Sheldon.

Hunsaker, once Texas Golden Gloves champion, formerly was police chief of Fayetteville, W.Va. He currently is a field investigator for the West Virginia Beer Commission.

Major Leagues Set for Opening of 1962 Season Monday

Canon City Cindermen Whip Seven PPL Teams

By JERRY WAGGONER
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Canon City, using a well balanced team with a great deal of depth, ran past seven Pikes Peak League track teams in a relays meet Saturday morning at Fountain High's track with Widefield as the host.

The meet was run off as a warmup meet for the upcoming Rock Ford Relays which is to be held next week. Widefield, after having led for about half the meet, fell behind to Canon City's depth and came in second. Canon City, the only non - PPL team in the meet, racked up 83 points as compared to Widefield's second place 66 points.

Fountain, after having missed placing anyone in the first three events which were run off, came on strong with some fine distance men for third place with 44 points. Then came the Air Academy with 36½ Florence with 34½ Manitou surprising with 24, Harrison with 12 and Cheyenne Mountain with nine.

The meet opened with the field events beginning at 8:30 but some of those events weren't finished until late in the meet. But Widefield's Wilbur Raven, for a couple of years among the top weight men in the area, started things off by winning the shot put with a fine early season heave of 45-5. He was pushed only by Manitou's Bill Hubble, out for track for the first time, with a heave of 41-9 and Air Force's Chris Munch also with a 41 - 9 put.

The broad jump, which was being run off a new starting path which was extremely soft and slow, was one of the worst events of the day. Harrison's Danny Pretzer got off the best leap of the day at 17 - 4. Sam Carlsson of Florence hit 17 - 0 even and those were the only ones to break past the 17 - 0 barrier.

Widefield got a break in the 280-yard high hurdle shuttle relay. The Glads posted the winning time of 44.0 with Bill Horn, Larry Cash, Bill Bangs and Claude Burke doing the running. But Fountain actually had the best time but was disqualified. Berney Lindsey, the third hurdler, turned an ankle going over the second hurdle, disqualifying the team. The Air Academy finished second and Canon City third.

The Canon City team began to start hitting its stride about the next race as the sun began to shine and warm things up a bit. The Tigers won the 440 - yard relay with a fine last leg by Jim Kolb. The Kadets of AFA took the early lead and held on until near the last turn when Kolb overtook AFA's Hank Arnold and came on with a flourish to win in 47.7. Widefield was third, Manitou fourth and Fountain fifth.

Fountain, which was third in the state Class A last year in the mile relay, showed signs of another good team this year. They came home winner in that event with a good early season clocking of 3:50.1. Don Cockroft, Berney Lindsey Ron Reed and Don Christian legged the event and had the lead all the way. Canon City finished a distant second.

The Tigers, with Ben Calhoun, Jim Kolb, Clark Kenny and Mickey Cann turning on the steam, rallied to win the Sprint Medley race in 1:46.8 over Widefield. Fountain copped the distance medley with Fred Wake, Harold Burns, Ed Rodriquez and Ted Hanson doing the honors in 4:09.1. The Trojans trailed the Tigers until the 800 last leg when Hanson turned on a great burst of speed about 220 yards from the finish line and took the Tigers' last leg man with ease and going away at the finish line.

Widefield got back into the thick of things in the 400 - yard low hurdle shuttle relay with the same four hurdler running who copped the 280 relay. They topped the timbers in 50.6 with Fountain second and Canon City third.

The Tigers roared back, however, in the 880 - yard relay in 1:41.5 with Calhoun, Brown, Kenny and Kolb racing to the win over Widefield and third place Fountain. The Air Academy had the best time but was disqualifield when Harry Dewberry and Chris Munch made a baton exchange out of the exchange zone.

Fleetside pickup—most popular Chevrolet truck.

Depend on it to give you an honest day's work for a long, long time and not cost much to run or keep up. It's a Chevrolet.

Trucks aren't all alike. This Chevrolet has double-wall roof, doors and side panels. It has suspension that helps it last longer by reducing road shock. It has a non-skid wood body floor. It has as tough a tailgate as you'll find. It has an all-welded frame made of high-quality steel. Most important, it has a name everybody respects because they know it stands for quality. When you make up your mind to buy, get this one. We know you'll be happy with it.

Have you looked into camper bodies? This is a fine way to enjoy the outdoors comfortably and at low cost. You can drive and park them nearly anywhere. There are lots of other advantages too! Many Chevrolet dealers are showing camper units now. Drop by and investigate this great way to make a truck do double duty. A strong Chevrolet is your best bet for work or play.

See your Chevrolet dealer for trucks that keep working and working and working and working!

Jaipur Romps To Victory At Aqueduct

NEW YORK (AP)—George B. Widener's favored Jaipur, only colt in a field of eight 3-year-olds not nominated for the Kentucky Derby, scampered through the fog and slop Saturday for a convincing victory in the $58,500 Gotham Stakes at Aqueduct.

It was the first start of the season for Jaipur, one of the top 2-year-olds of 1961 who is being reserved for the other two sections of the triple crown, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker, who inherited Jaipur when Eddie Arcaro retired Tuesday, brought the colt home 1½ lengths ahead of Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County.

Sunrise County, disqualified in the $100,000 Flamingo at Hialeah March 3 after finishing first, took second money by 2½ lengths over Marian R. Frankel's Sidluck. It was two more lengths back to the Golden Triangle Stable's Mister Pitt, who set the early pace but folded in the stretch.

Vern Winchell's California-bred colt Donut King, who beat Jaipur in their last meeting here in the $200,000 Champagne Stakes last October, proved that he doesn't like the sloppy going and finished last. Donut King was the second choice at 7-2.

The crowd, reduced to 43,290 by the foul, chilly weather with rain sweeping in from the Atlantic, had no trouble deciding on Jaipur as the favorite. He paid $4.30, $3.10 and $2.60 and carried 122 pounds. Sunrise County, ridden by Bobby Ussery and with 118, returned $4.76 and $3.50. Sidluck, piloted by John Rotz, had 114 and was $5.10 to show.

Jaipur, a dark bay son of Nasrullah-Rare Perfume by Eight Thirty, was caught in a good 1:37 flat for a mile on the track which resembled a muddy lake after day long rains.

Full Scale Play Starts Tuesday

Two new clubs, four new managers, three new parks and a bumper crop of rookies will be on display Monday and Tuesday when the big league baseball season opens with the customary pomp and ceremony.

The new clubs are the New York Mets and the Houston Colts of the expanded 10-team National League. Although both were constructed hurriedly after the World Series and are thinly manned by fading veterans and borderline prospects, they have made respectable showings in the exhibition games.

Perhaps "new" hardly is the word for grizzled old Casey Stengel, returning from a one-year retirement at the age of 71 to help the Mets challenge his old Yankee club for New York support. Harry Craft, the Houston skipper, also did time previously as a major league manager, serving 2½ terms with Kansas City.

Mel McGaha of Cleveland and Billy Hitchcock of Baltimore, the other new managers, moved up to the big job after serving as coaches.

With new parks at Los Angeles, Washington and Houston, about 340,000 persons are expected to turn out for the 11-game opening program, spread over two days. Of course, the weather man can slice that figure.

Washington will beat the gun in the American League with its presidential opener Monday against Detroit. Cincinnati, as usual, will open at home a day early in the National League, facing Philadelphia in the other Monday game. Nine games will be played Tuesday.

Among the rookies to attract the most attention in the spring games are John Powell, Baltimore's slugging outfielder, and Ray Washburn, St. Louis' fine young pitcher who is due for an early start.

Tom Tresh appears primed to take over Tony Kubek's job as the New York Yankee shortstop and Julio Gotay is a key new shortstop in the Cardinals' pennant plans.

Minnesota counts on Bernie Allen at second and Rick Rollins at third, a pair who came out of nowhere this spring. Cleveland has Ty Cline and Al Luplow in its outfield and Kansas City has rookies Jose Tartabull and Manny Jimenez in its outfield. Catcher Bob Rodgers is the Los Angeles Angels' new pride and Mike Hershberger probably will open in the Chicago White Sox outfield.

The Chicago Cubs will have newcomers Lou Brock in the outfield and Ken Hubbs at second base. Larry Burright has won the second base job with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Howie Bedell appears to be the successor to Frank Thomas in left field for the Milwaukee Braves.

Washington's $20 million D.C. Stadium, used for football last fall and for exhibition baseball, will be jammed with a sellout crowd of 47,000 when President Kennedy throws out the first ball before the Senators-Tigers game. Bennie Daniels is slated to start for Washington against Don Mossi.

Cincinnati also expects its traditional opening day sellout of 32,000 at Crosley Field for the Reds' bow against the Phillies. Bob Purkey or Joey Jay is due to face the Phils' Art Mahaffey as the Reds open the defense of their National League championship.

Walter O'Malley's towering new Los Angeles stadium will open Tuesday with the Dodgers meeting the Reds, who make a hurried trip to the coast. The stadium that cost between $16 and $18 million seats 56,000 in its four tiers. Johnny Podres or Sandy Koufax is due to pitch for Los Angeles and Jim O'Toole for Cincinnati.

Houston's temporary park, to be used for two years while the domed stadium is being built, will accommodate 32,200 for the Colts' major league debut against the Cubs. Little Bobby Shantz, released from the bullpen to resume his old starting role, will work the opener for Houston Tuesday against the Cubs' Don Cardwell.

The Polo Grounds, home of the old New York Giants for so many years, will be re-opened Friday when the Mets get home.

Stengel's Mets will open on the road in a Tuesday night game at St. Louis where Roger Craig is due to face the Cards' Larry Jackson before 20,000.

San Francisco expects 42,500 to greet the Giants Tuesday afternoon in their opener with the Milwaukee Braves when it will be Juan Marichal for the home side against the veteran Warren Spahn of the Braves.

The Phillies, having helped Cincinnati open Monday, will move to Pittsburgh to lend a hand Tuesday with Jim Owens going against Bob Friend of the Pirates. A crowd of 25,000 is due.

The New York Yankees, defending world champs, open at home Tuesday against Baltimore, a club that is expected to challenge for the pennant. Chuck Estrada or Billy Hoeft will do the challenging Tuesday. Manager Ralph Houk of the Yanks probably will counter with Whitey Ford, his 25-game winning ace of 1961, before 27,000 fans.

Manager Al Lopez' renovated Chicago White Sox bow at Comiskey Park against the Los Angeles Angels with 25,000 expected to watch Ken McBride or Eli Grba face the Sox's Juan Pizarro.

Cleveland plans to send Dick Donovan, acquired from Washington in the Jimmy Piersall deal, against the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park. Don Schwall, the rookie of the year in '61, will pitch for the Sox who probably will draw 15,000 fans.

Kansas City plays at home against the Minnesota Twins with 20,000 due to see Jack Kralick face Ed Rakow, the A's young right-hander who had such a fine spring. Manager Hank Bauer of the A's has a new-look outfield and the Twins will show rookies at second and third and Vic Power, their latest acquisition, a first.

Spahn, Jackson Opens For First Game Starts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts Saturday named 40-year-old Warren Spahn, the greatest winning southpaw in National League history, as the Milwaukee Braves' opening game pitcher against the San Francisco Giants on Tuesday.

Spahn did not pitch well this spring until Friday, when he hurled eight strong innings against the Cleveland Indians. However, Tebbetts said he had made up his mind to start Spahn before Friday's showing.

Spahn, who will be 41 on April 23, had a 1-4 record this spring. His next regular season victory will be the 310th of his big league career.

Cards Rained Out

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —After rain washed out the final Florida exhibition game for the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday, manager Johnny Keane announced that Larry Jackson and young Ray Washburn would be his pitchers against the New York Mets in the first two games of the season.

Jackson will hurl the opener Tuesday night.

Phils Cut to Limit

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies cut their squad to the 28-man limit required by opening day when they sent pitcher Dwight Sieber to their Buffalo farm club Saturday on a 24-hour recall basis.

The Phillies were rained out of their final Florida exhibition game Saturday against the St. Louis Cardinals, but hope to meet the Redbirds in their scheduled contest Sunday at Atlanta.

A's Jolt Twins

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) —The tight pitching and winning streak of the Minnesota Twins were ended jointly Saturday as the Kansas City Athletics scored a rain-shortened 8-2 victory.

The game was called in the bottom of the sixth after Don Mincher had hit a long home run off A's hurler Norm Bass.

Tigers Whip Yankees

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers broke out of an eight-game losing streak Saturday by whipping the New York Yankees, 10-6 before a local record crowd of 7,584.

After a shaky first inning in which the Yanks scored three times, starter Jim Bunning steadied and worked eight innings. Detroit was blanked for three innings by starter Ralph Terry but scored six times against loser Bud Daley in the middle innings.

Two-run homers by Rocky Colavito and Mke Roarke brought Detroit its final runs against Jim Coates in the seventh.

The Yankees completed the Florida phase of spring training with a 17-10 record and a total attendance of 147,025. Detroit won eight, lost 17.

White Sox Nip Reds

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Rookie righthander Joel Horlen worked seven scoreless innings Saturday as the Chicago White Sox continued their mastery over the Cincinnati Reds with a 4-3 victory.

Cubs Edge Bosox

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Mo Mohrhardt, a seldom used utility infielder, drove home the winning run with a single to right field Saturday as the Chicago Cubs edged the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, in a 10-inning exhibition baseball game.

Mohrhardt's hit ended an outstanding pitching performance by fireballing right-hander Dick Radatz of Boston who was one strike away from getting out of the inning.

Radatz sandwiched a base on balls between two singles as he loaded the bases with no outs. Then he fired three quick strikes by Ron Santo, who struck out three times, and put three by pinchhitter Sammy Taylor. He worked the count to 1-2 before giving up the game winning hit.

Q.B. Club To Meet At Academy

This Monday, April 9, the Colorado Springs Quarterback Club will have a joint meeting with the Falcon Sports Club of the Air Force Academy, at the Air Force Academy Officers Club.

The meeting will be conducted by the Falcon Sports Club, but all members or guests from both clubs are welcome. Lunch will be served at 11:45 a.m., so that many of the Falcon Sports Club instructors will be able to get back to classes.

Besides a briefing by all the spring sport coaches from the area and the AFA, Coach Ben Martin of the Academy will be on hand to give the prospects on this spring's football practice by the Falcons.

Floyd Roberts of the Continental Bus Co. has volunteered to take a bus to the Academy for anyone without a ride from Colorado Springs. This bus will leave the depot at 11:20 a.m. and there will be room for about 40 persons.

Bing Crosby Tournament May Be Switched to Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) —A possible switch in the location of the annual Bing Crosby Invitational Golf Tournament from Pebble Beach, Calif., to Las Vegas was hinted Saturday.

Larry Crosby, Bing's brother, who handles arrangements for the tournament, said he was conferring with Howard Capps, sports director for the Desert Inn and Stardust Hotels, and Allard Roen, general chairman of the Tournament of Champions here, about the possible change.

Crosby said poor weather conditions and the lack of adequate accommodations for players and guests at Pebble Beach had prompted the proposed move.

If the Crosby tournament were brought to this desert gambling resort, the 170 pros and 170 amateurs competing would play on three courses—probably at the Desert Inn and Stardust Hotels and one other course.

Las Vegas already has two major tournaments each year, the Tournament of Champions and the Sahara Pro-Amateur, and the Tropicana has proposed a third.

The Country Club of Scranton team received only 9 strokes in the 1961 Bermuda Goodwill golf tournament. The handicap wasn't enough. They finished 13 net strokes off the winning Wheatley Hills team of East Williston, N.Y. Wheatley had 18 strokes but played great golf.

LT. COL. ARTHUR P. WADE

Lieutenant Colonel Commands Oldest Unit at Carson

Lt. Col. Arthur P. Wade, military historian, commands the unit at Ft. Carson with the oldest lineage—the 5th Battalion, 4th Artillery.

This new 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) officer has written for Encyclopedia Americana, Civil War History magazine and Military Collector and Historian.

Col. Wade's new command dates back to 1812. The 4th Artillery which carries 26 battle streamers on its colors and has other battle honors, had an earlier Carson tie.

Fifth Division's 4th Artillery, along with the 1st Battalion, 19th Artillery, is one of two 105-mm. howitzer battalions in 5th Division Artillery.

Col. Wade came to Carson from Fort Devens, Mass., with the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 76th Artillery, disbanding it here along with other units, and taking command of the 5th and of the 4th on March 8.

His military history began at The Citadel in Charleston, S. C., although he is the son of the late Col. (Ret.) Arthur B. Wade and grandson of an Army chaplain, Major William H. Pearson.

He was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in January, 1943, and less than two years later made history by adjusting the first U. S. artillery shell to land on German soil in World War II on Sept. 10, 1944. The incident took place when he was an air observer flying in an L4 from Belgium to Bildchen, Germany.

In World War II he was a staff officer and battery commander in the 991st Field Artillery Battalion remaining in Germany on the U. S. Forces headquarters staff.

Since then he has been on civilian component duty in Maine, a staff officer in Iceland, an assistant professor of military history at West Point, with various units at Fort Riley and in France.

His last overseas tour was as operations officer, Army section, Military Assistance Advisory Group, France. He left there for Fort Devens.

His schools include The Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.; the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kans.; and the 101st Airborne Parachute School in the United Kingdom in 1944.

His decorations include three awards of the Air Medal, two awards of the Army Commendation Medal and the Belgian Fourragere.

Col. and Mrs. Wade and their son, Robert, live at 1516 Winfield Ave. She is the former Ruth Dieckmann of Sheboygan, Wis., who served with an American Red Cross Clubmobile unit in Europe from 1944 to 1946.

Feed Grain Program Deadline Next Friday

The deadline for filing intention to participate in the 1962 feed grain program has been extended to Friday, according to the El Paso County Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The previous deadline had been set at March 30.

A total of 151 farmers have signed for the program thus far, as compared to 123 who participated in the 1961 program.

The program is a voluntary one for farmers who elect to divert a minimum of 20 per cent of their base acreage to a conserving use, thereby becoming eligible for price supports. They receive payments for the diverted acres, which may include a maximum of 40 per cent of their land.

A farmer who signs for the program is not obligated to participate and may withdraw without penalty.

SALES OPPORTUNITY
Progressive manufacturer of Floor Maintenance Materials and Sanitation Products, in business in 1920, desires salesman between ages 30 & 50, with some traveling experience to call on and sell Schools, Municipal & County Accounts, Industrial Accounts, and Public Buildings in Eastern Colorado.
Must have automobile and be willing to represent us exclusively; home every week-end. Introductory training will be supplied to an energetic and industrious salesman. Established territory available now for immediate appointment of full time representative.
In return, salesman will have chance for long time employment under a very liberal commission plan with drawing account. Protected territory with full credit on all mail orders.
Send us full details, age, experience, etc. with confidence. Interviews will be arranged with qualified applicants.
Write to: Western Chemical Company, P. O. Box 547, St. Joseph, Missouri.

* WHY *
Did 35% of those who took the examination for real estate salesmen fail to pass? They weren't prepared. Are you? One of our leading real estate firms recently sent us two prospective salesmen to be trained for them. We have other firms that will take a well-trained salesman whom we can recommend. A good income is assured any man or woman who knows how and is able to make good. Why not have a respected profession — not just drift. There is a difference in the pay. People are selling real estate. Why not you? Wishing and waiting leaves you just where you are, year after year. Today. Now. Telephone ME 3-2461.

Bigger Buildup in Viet Nam Demanded

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, told Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda today that South Viet Nam government forces must be continuously built up to meet the threat of Communist guerrillas.

Lemnitzer met with Ikeda for nearly an hour on the last day of his Far East tour.

Masayoshi Ohira, chief cabinet secretary, told reporters that Lemnitzer, in answering Ikeda's questions on South Viet Nam, said the Communist Viet Cong for the past few months had taken the offensive, and that government troops would have to fight the threat patiently.

Land Applications May Be Reinstated

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Bureau of Land Management Director Karl Landstrom said Wednesday public land applications would be accepted again soon in Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and Kansas.

Landstrom made the statement during an appearance before the House Public Lands subcommittee during a hearing on legislation designed to revamp some operations of the BLM.

A moratorium on land applications was declared by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall Feb. 28, 1961, to allow the bureau to catch up on those pending.

The moratorium was due to expire in September. But Landstrom said it would probably be lifted in all states by July.

The moratorium already has been lifted in Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Jean Favre Will Join Show of Burns-Channing

New achievement in professional entertainment has come to Jean Favre and his wife, June, who will return home to Colorado Springs for a short vacation April 20 to May 14, before joining the George Burns and Carol Channing show which will play in Phoenix, Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe and the Seattle World's Fair.

Favre has been working in a technical capacity with the Carol Channing show, and with Harry Belafonte before that. June served as Carol Channing's personal dresser.

Favre has kept local friends informed of his progress in the entertainment world by telephone calls to Rex Gillette, from stops during his Carol Channing tour in Texas, Oklahoma, and last Thursday, from Rochester, N.Y.

After the tour with Burns and Channing, the Favres are scheduled for a South American tour with the Belafonte enterprises. Favre specializes in stage lighting, and has had extensive experience in all other phases of stage work and direction.

DROVING BY AIR

CHICAGO (UPI) — Prize cattle may soon be transported to the slaughterhouse by air feigot, the magazine Traffic Management believes. The magazine said it has learned several packing companies are investigating the possibility.

Cripple Creek Marine Returns to Kansas City

Marine Lance Cpl. Joseph Delaney, son of Mrs. Helen Coffin of Cripple Creek, has returned to his duties with the Marine Corps Recruiting Service in Kansas City, Mo., after spending a short leave in the Gold Camp region.

Lance Cpl. Delaney, a 1960 graduate of Cripple Creek High School, returned last December from a 13-month tour of duty in the Far East.

Springs Symphony To Play Final Concert Thursday

Walter Eisenberg and the Colorado Springs Symphony Orchestra are in the final rehearsals for the last concert of this season which will be presented Thursday in Palmer High School Auditorium. As guest solists the Symphony will feature Vronsky and Babin, internationally famous duo-pianists.

According to Mrs. George Vradenburg, executive secretary of the symphony, "This has been our most successful year to date. We are justly proud of the fine service our orchestra has rendered to Colorado Springs not only in the Winter Concert series but in the extensive Youth Concert program. The Symphony is now conducting its Sustaining Fund Drive. Since ticket sales can pay for only half the cost of maintaining any orchestra, we rely on those who recognize the value of fine music in our city, to support us with contributions. These may be sent to the symphony, P.O. Box 1692."

Tickets may be ordered by calling the boxoffice at ME 3-1602.

CC Lecturer Larson Author Of Many Books

Former United States Information Agency Director Arthur Larson, who will deliver the Sperry and Hutchinson Lecture at Colorado College April 19, is the author of numerous books, including "A Republican Looks at His Party."

Now director of the World Rule of Law Center at Duke University, Larson served during the Eisenhower administration as under secretary of labor, USIA director and special assistant to the president.

He is regarded as one of the more forceful and authoritative speakers on the lecture platform today. The talk will be open to the public without charge.

The public lecture is supported by a grant to Colorado College and three other western liberal arts colleges by the Sperry and Hutchinson Company of New York.

Dr. Larson holds an A.B. degree from Augustana College, and B. A. and M. A. degrees in jurisprudence and B.C.L. and D.C.L. degrees from Oxford University where he was a Rhodes Scholar.

Dr. Larson was appointed associate professor at Cornell Law School and received a full professorship there in 1948, at the same time becoming a consultant on corporation law to the New York Law Revision Commission. In 1953, he became dean of the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, and also served as consultant to the Third American Assembly, meeting under the auspices of Columbia University.

A former attorney, he was admitted to the bar in Wisconsin in 1935 and practiced law in Milwaukee for four years. During World War II he was a counsel with the materials division of the OPA. Following the war he returned to England on a Fulbright research grant to study the British national insurance system.

Larson is also author of "Toward World Prosperity"; "Cases on Corporations"; "The Law of Workmen's Compensation"; "Know Your Social Security"; and co-author of "Economic Security of Americans."

He is a member of the American Bar Association, Order of the Coif, Phi Delta Phi, and Oxford Union Society.

Highway Users Tax Collected in State

DENVER (AP)—The state collected $4,829,949 in highway user taxes last month, the state treasurer's office reported today.

The Colorado Highway Department gets $2,776,109 of the total for construction and maintenance. Counties will share $1,050,000, cities and towns will divide $444,828 and the State Patrol will get $402,824.

The taxes are collected from motor fuel sales and gross ton-mile revenues, along with motor vehicle license collections.

For the Pikes Peak Group of the Colorado Mountain Club

COLORADO MOUNTAIN CLUB THEN AND NOW

The Colorado Mountain Club is fifty years old. There is no organization in our state that is so interesting and unique and which has held together so successfully thru the years and with the same enthusiasm as it had in the beginning. The Pikes Peak Group was organized in 1919 and it has held together thru the years with the same zeal and ardor. Other groups of Colorado Mountain Club are Boulder, Fort Collins, Walsenburg, Western Slope and Denver which is headquarters of the club. The club is organized to unite the energy, interest and knowledge of students, explorers and lovers of mountains of Colorado; to collect and disseminate information regarding Rocky Mountains in behalf of science, literature, art and recreation, to stimulate public interest in our mountain area, to encourage the preservation of flowers, forests, fauna and natural scenery and to render readily accessible Alpine attractions of the region.

The Pikes Peak Group has enjoyed many trips thruout the region and outside. In earlier days, 14,000 ft. peaks were made the same as today. Of course the group centered many trips on Pikes Peak and around the peak, staying over night at Barr's cabins and next day trips were made to first and second bottomless pits, crater and many others around the slopes. Other favored trips were the points of Sierra Almagre, which ranks next to Pikes Peak, especially the north point which is 12,365 ft. in altitude which we enjoyed the most. Making these climbs, we stayed over night at Nelson's cabins usually large parties, carrying own food. Frank Nelson an old prospector owned the cabins and he thoroly enjoyed having us. He long since has passed away and cabins have fallen down. At one time a trip was made to north point of Almagre in January with temperature standing several degrees below zero and climbing in deep snow. Vigil peak from Stage Road was a favorite with the club and climbed frequently for the fact it was a difficult rock climb with cliffs. Cheyenne Mountain was climbed from all sides many times to the horns.

Local trips were made from streetcars to end of lines and then walk to beginning of climbs. Now cars take us to the distance where climbs start. Social affairs were engaged in as square dancing and dinners. There were swimming parties at Broadmoor pool, skating, skiing and tobogganing when weather was not suitable for climbing. Campfire suppers were attended by large crowds, either in Garden of Gods or canons. Membership was over 100 at one time. Now, 140 so we see the interest has continued thru the years. At one time our group put on a wildflower exhibit in the auditorium every year which was largely attended and was a great attraction to the tourists. Now we have botany trips and go out in mountains and study wildflowers, trees and shrubs growing in the outdoors.

After all, this organization has the same love for the great out-of-doors as it did from the beginning. It is surprising the number of inquiries that are made from the club regarding points of interest in the mountains and how to get to them by hiking and if there is mountain club. One can get to our beauty spots in many places only by hiking, and what a thrill and inspiration that comes from experiences of seeing and the feel of the rugged mountains where not many feet have trod. Then and now this organization is still going strong. A summer two weeks outing has been a main attraction of the club since the beginning of the club and is still a main interest. This year it will be held in Mt. McKinley National Park. Our purpose is to familiarize the public with Colorado Rockies and foster an intelligent love of them.

LAMBS LED TO SHELTER

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—Sheep ranchers of this southern Oregon area were urged to shear their ewes' heads to save lambs.

County Agent C. A. Henderson said that if a ewe's head is sheared to the skin, the ewe will feel the cold and rain and will lead her lamb to shelter during stormy weather.

MONSTER ROBOT

NEW YORK (UPI) — General Electric Co. has developed the world's largest robot, an 85-ton giant which walks on tank treads, yet can pick up an egg. Called the "Beetle," the monster was built for the Air Force.

Utah Professor Will Reopen Academy Series

The Air Force Academy guest lecture series "Foundations of Management" will resume April 12 with the appearance of Dr. J. D. Williams, associate professor of political science at the University of Utah.

Dr. Williams will speak on "Gamesmanship, the Art of Administrative In-Fighting."

Several hundred Academy supervisors attended the first sessions of the series conducted by a Colorado University management team. The sessions featured a demonstration on organization structure and the importance communications.

The Utah professor received his Ph.D. from Harvard in 1953. Prior to joining the university staff he was employed by the Library of Congress, the Natural Resources Task Force of the Hoover Commission, as a staff member of the House of Representatives delegation to the NATO Parliamentary Conference of 1956, and as a consultant to the governor of Utah.

Zuckert (right) discuss the 1962 Ent Directory and Guide with Mrs. A. C. Agan, Jr., (center) Air Force representative to Ent's Family Services program, while Mrs. P. W. Howard (standing, left) and Mrs. V. C. Wegenhoft, coordinators, look on. The two Air Force ladies spent last Thursday observing the Air Defense Command and Ent volunteer Family Services programs. They were accompanied to Colorado Springs by Mrs. Oliver K. Niess, wife of the USAF Surgeon General, and Mrs. W. R. Wood, wife of the Bolling AFB commander. The 1962 Directory and Guide is mailed by family services officials to personnel scheduled for assignment to Ent. Various sections of the directory are devoted to housing costs, rentals, and other applicable newcomer information.

Miss Lynda Gray Becomes Bride of Donald N. Brown

The Pilgrim Room of Shove Memorial Chapel was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lynda Cray and Donald N. Brown, at 5:30 p.m. Monday, April 2. The Rev. Kenneth Burton officiated at the candlelight ceremony, against a background of palms.

Nuptial music included Bach Chorales, Compra's "Rigadon," and Purcell's "Trumpet Tune."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell A. Cray of 233 Fairfield Ave., Elmhurst, Ill. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth V. Brown of 531 N. Institute St.

The bride wore a beige brocade suit which she designed and made. Her satin shoes matched her suit and her hat was of beige and brown velvet. She carried a bouquet of salmon-pink Seventeen roses.

The couple was unattended.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a Copenhagen-blue silk suit dress; and the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of gold brocade with matching jacket.

After a honeymoon trip to New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will live at 39 W. Cache La Poudre St.

The bride attended Colorado College, and the bridegroom attended Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., and Princeton Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

Mrs. Helfrich to Entertain Club

The Monday Progress Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Elton C. Helfrich, 2480 San Carlos Circle at 2 p.m.

The program will be presented by Mrs. E. R. Norris on "Character Dolls."

Cast of 'Mikado' Announced By C.S. Opera Association

Dr. J. Julius Baird and Mrs. Edalyn Burger report that rehearsals for the Colorado Springs Opera Association's final production of the season are coming along well and a polished production is anticipated of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado."

The role of The Mikado will be sung by Eugene McCleary, well-known Colorado Springs figure. For the past 12 years McCleary has produced the Lions Club Minstrel Show. He has been in several Civic Players productions and is presently a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian Church.

David Porter, a music teacher at Cheyenne Mountain High School, will sing the role of Nanki-Poo, who is The Mikado's son. Porter sang in both of this year's Colorado Springs Opera Association productions and is a member of the Colorado Springs Chorale.

Koko, Lord High Executioner, will be sung by the versatile Charles Johnson, a teacher at Widefield High School. He has been seen many times on the Fine Arts Center stage, in singing roles for the Colorado Springs Opera Association and in dramatic roles for the Civic Players. Johnson is a graduate of Colorado College.

Colorado College sophomore, Ben Lyon, makes his first appearance with the Colorado Springs Opera Association as Pooh-Bah, Lord High Everything Else. Lyon was recently seen in the Colorado College production of "Guys and Dolls," and made his debut with the Colorado Springs Music Club a couple of months ago. He is studying with H. Colin Thorpe.

Pish-Tush, a noble lord, will be sung by Wallace Boyce, professor of French at Colorado College. While attending Williams College, Boyce sang in the choir. Since living in Colorado Springs he has sung in the Fountain Valley School production of "Trial By Jury" and in the Colorado College production of "Dido and Aeneas."

Mrs. Martha Booth, president of the Colorado Springs Opera Association will sing the role of Yum-Yum. Previous experience includes participation in the Radcliffe College Choral Society and the Harvard University Choir.

Before coming to Colorado Springs, Mrs. Booth was supervisor of music at Lincoln Public Schools in Lincoln, Mass. She has sung in the chorus of several of the Opera Association's productions, is a member of the American Music Society and recently was a guest soloist of the Colorado Springs Music Club. She is studying voice with Mrs. Irene Margolinski.

The role of Pitti Sing will be sung by Mrs. Pat Washburn. While a student at Reed College in Portland, Ore., Mrs. Washburn was in many musical activities. She has studied voice in California and Oregon, and was alto soloist at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Washburn sings in the choir of the Grace Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Dorothy Brown will sing the role of Peep Bo. A native of Kansas, Mrs. Brown has lived in Colorado Springs for ten years. She sang in the Theater Singers productions of "Amahl and The Night Visitors" and "Sister Angelica." She studies voice with H. Colin Thorpe.

Katisha, elderly lady in love with Nanki-Poo, will be sung by Mrs. Edalyn Burger, who is co-director of the Colorado Springs Opera Association. Mrs. Burger is a graduate of Colorado College and received a Master's degree from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. She has sung lead roles in "Carmen," "Marriage of Figaro," "Tales of Hoffman," and "The Medium."

"The Mikado" will be presented at the Fine Arts Center on April 26, 27, and 28 at 8:30 p.m. On Sunday afternoon, April 29, at 3 o'clock, a matinee will be given so that more children may see the opera. All seats are reserved and may be purchased at the box office, 519 N. Tejon St., ME 4-6820.

Mary Jelinek Becomes Bride of Ben Emmett Moss

Miss Mary Edith Jelinek and Ben Emmett Moss were married in a 7:00 o'clock double ring ceremony solemnized Saturday, March 31, in the Village Christian Church.

The bride's parents are Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Jelinek, 826 South Broadway, Springfield, Mo., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Edwin Moss of Oroville, Wash.

The Rev. C. William Bryan, pastor of Village Christian Church, assisted by the Rev. Wayne Selsor, cousin of the bride, performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked by baskets of white stock and white carnations bedecked with blue bows. Spiral candelabra held the burning tapers lighted by Gary Marsh and Eugene Hertzke.

The organist, Margaret Lacy, played a medley of selected nuptial music and accompanied John Shumaker when he sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar following the partaking of communion.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Her formal floor-length gown of organza and lace was styled with a bouffant skirt which culminated in an appliqued tier of delicately scalloped lace forming a deep V of lace at front and back. At either side the organza skirt was caught up at intervals with appliques sprinkled with sequins and pearls. The slender bodice was fashioned of lace and styled with a slightly squared neckline, and long sleeves tapered to deep points over the hands. A caplet formed of silk organza petals secured the bride's shoulder-length veil of English silk illusion, and the bridal bouquet was comprised of white roses with white carnations carried atop a Bible presented to the bride by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Frank West.

Miss Carole Hagan attended as maid of honor. Her dress of white silk organza embossed with white roses was styled with a bouffant skirt, and the waistline was accented with a sash of royal blue. In her hair was a band of royal blue velvet which secured a short veil of white tulle. A cascade arrangement of white carnations comprised her bouquet.

Other attendants were Miss Carolyn Smith and Mrs. Gary Marsh. Sashes of light blue accented their dresses which were styled identically to that of the honor attendant. Their bouquets and headpieces also were similar to those of the maid of honor.

Best man was Travis Cowen, and Mr. Marsh and Mr. Hertzke served as ushers and groomsmen.

Mrs. Jelinek, for her daughter's wedding selected a jacket dress of Dior blue silk with a matching hat.

Miss Shirley Kauffman attended the guest book, and Miss Hagan was in charge of plans for the reception.

The couple will be at home at 43 Prairie Road, following a short honeymoon.

The bride was graduated from Drury College. She teaches at Will Rogers School here. The bridegroom is stationed at Ent AFB.

Thrift House Easter Parade To Be Gala Spring Event

Where else but at the Easter Parade being staged by the Episcopal Women at Grace Church Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon would prizes hatch from paper eggs; pussy willows adorn hats; cherry trees bloom when expected? For every donation made to Thrift House, Mrs. E. M. Geary will present the donor with an Easter Egg. During the afternoon winning ones will be placed in a basket, and lucky winners will receive either merchandise certificates or prizes.

Mrs. C. L. Heitman, chairman of the parade, and other members of Thrift House board will wear their little gold satin hats trimmed with live pussy willows. The models will display their costumes against a flowery garden trellis flanked by blooming cherry trees. The hats and trees are the handiwork of Mrs. Sye E. Parks.

Mrs. William Boddington will be the commentator for the style show. Mrs. Albert Swaim's tea table will be decorated to carry out the pink and blue Easter theme. Mrs. Sunstrum will arrange for baby sitters, for those who bring small children, and will provide transportation where it is needed.

Adding to the enjoyment of the afternoon will be the music of Leonard Robson at the Hammond Chord Organ, which is being loaned for the occasion by the Colorado Springs Music Company.

This is the fourth anniversary of Thrift House, the project of Episcopal Women from Grace Church, the Chapel of Our Saviour, the Chapel of the Holy Spirit, and St. Michael's, who volunteer their services to keep it in operation thruout the year. It is a benefit to those who buy excellent used clothing and fixtures at reasonable prices and for those who put their things in on consignment there is a return in money. For those who donate, there is a tax exemption, and the profits are used for many charitable endeavors. Thrift House is open 5 days a week at 2812 W. Colorado Ave., where there is ample parking space at all times.

Woman's Club Will See Miniature Piano Exhibit

The Woman's Club of Colorado Springs will meet at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the club house, 20 Mesa Road.

Theo Marie Spotsler, owner of a famous collection of miniature pianos will be the guest speaker. Her "Pianos in Miniature" collection is believed to be the second largest collection of little pianos in the U.S. Liberace's holds first place. They range in size from 4 inches across the keyboard to 7-16 of an inch and are made from many materials, ranging from plastic to hand-carved jade. Most unique piano is a solid gold one, mounted on a ring containing a keyboard of diamonds and sapphires.

Using miniature models of ancient instruments, Mrs. Spotsler traces the evolution of the piano from 500 B.C. to the modern spinet in an educational lecture. This is followed by entertaining human interest stories of other tiny pianos on display.

"Pianos in Miniature" have received national recognition in newspapers, magazines, television and the moving pictures. Last summer they were shown on the Disneyland television by Walt Disney. Mrs. Spotsler, Baton Rouge housewife has become a professional public speaker and entertainer by sharing her valuable and unusual collection.

Mrs. Sam L. Turner, president, will preside, and Miss Caroline Beesee will give the devotions. Mrs. George H. Hyde and Mrs. Roscoe Wright will be the greeters.

Mrs. C. L. Martin, chairman of music, will introduce Monroe Bare who will sing a group of songs. Mrs. Harold Schlegel, his sister, will accompany him on the piano.

Tea will be served by Mrs. U. L. Dillingham and her committee.

It's Official— Nation's Gals Gaining Weight

But don't worry, girls. The statisticians say you're more willowy and better proportioned than ever before. The key to the matter, they say, is added height. The American woman today is, on the average, 2½ inches taller than the woman of 1900.

Another cause for rejoicing: In 1900, a size 20 was one of the most popular sizes. Today there are still plenty of 20's, but sizes 8, 10, and 12 are quite common. They were relatively rare 60 years ago.

These findings come from a study by the research staff of a girdle manufacturer. The survey revealed that in 1900, the average woman was 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighed 114 pounds.

Today, she is 5 feet 4½ and weighs 128. The average bust measurement in 1900 in the 20-40 age bracket was 32 3-16 inches, today it's 35¼. The average waist, which was 24 inches 60 years ago, is 26 inches now.

Roger William Schutte Weds Patricia R. Rydberg

The Ascension Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Patricia Raylene Rydberg and Roger William Schutte at 2:30 p.m. March 17. The Rev. Obed Sunde performed the ceremony against a background of white snapdragons, stock, carnations, pom poms and mums arranged in a modernistic design along the altar rail.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Rydberg of Route, Colorado Springs. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. William Schutte of Falcon Route, Peyton.

Mrs. R. L. Throckmorton at the organ played nuptial selections and the Roselyn sisters sang "Because."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown of embroidered nylon was styled with fitted bodice, square neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The four tiers of the skirt were scalloped and her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a pearl crown. The dress and veil were designed by Miss Marie George of Trinidad. Her shoes were of white embroidered satin and she wore a penny in her shoe, and a blue garter. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Clement Craig was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Rooney and Miss Nancy Bormann. All wore blue satin sheaths, styled with scoop necklines, short sleeves and fitted bodices. They wore cummerbunds and handkerchiefs of dark and light shades of blue silk organza, blue feather hats in darker shades of blue net and lace, and blue shoes. Their bouquets were modernistic arrangements of blue tassles and white mums.

Glen Kurz of DeWitt, Neb., was best man and ushers were Robert Albers of Aurora, Orlyn Renz of Hardy, Neb. and Robert Guy of Elbert.

The bride's mother wearing a beige linen sheath with matching coat and orange accessories, received the guests at the reception which was held in the church parlor. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue rayon dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations. Mrs. H. W. Collins, Miss Tanna Higbee, Miss Carol Totten and Miss Ellen Carr assisted in serving.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico and Arizona, the couple will live on a ranch near Falcon. For traveling the bride chose a yellow silk sheath with matching yellow wool coat, and yellow and white accessories. Her corsage was the detachable center of her bridal bouquet.

Engagement Told

Mrs. Harlan H. Greenameyer of Lincoln, Nebr., announced the engagement of her daughter, Nancy, to Lloyd Harris Ellis Jr. of Washington, D.C., the son of Mrs. Lloyd H. Ellis and the late Mr. Ellis of Hastings, Nebr., the nephew of Miss Amanda M. Ellis of Colorado Springs and of Mrs. Arthur Reed McCune of LaJunta. Mr. Ellis lived for some years in Denver with his parents and has frequently visited in Colorado.

Miss Greenameyer was graduated from Northeast High School in Lincoln, where she was valedictorian. She then traveled in Europe and was an American Field Service Exchange Student to Turkey. She entered Wellesley College after winning the Seven College Conference Scholarship and the National Elks' Scholarship. She will be graduated from Wellesley College in June with the rank of Wellesley Scholar. She is a member of the Shakespeare Society.

Mr. Ellis was graduated from the Graland Country Day School in Denver, attended Hastings High School, and after his junior year in high school, entered Jonathan Edwards College, Yale University, on a Ford Foundation Scholarship. After receiving his A.B. degree from Yale University, he was awarded a Bates Fellowship and a Ford Foundation Managerial Economics Scholarship. Last June, he received his M.A. degree from Yale University. He is a member of the Elizabethan Club, the Yale Debating Association, and of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. He was an editor of the Yale Daily News. Mr. Ellis is with the Department of State as a Foreign Service Officer stationed in Washington.

The wedding will take place on June 9 at the Episcopal Chapel of Wellesley, Mass.

Cook's Tour

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Public Health Service anthropologist says modern living conditions give American children primitive eating habits.

Margaret Lantis named snacks, coffee breaks, refrigeration and self-service merchandising as cultural factors adversely affecting youngsters' food habits.

She said they encourage piecemeal eating as in primitive cultures, where children pick up what they can find, beg or take left-overs or food rejected in preparation by their elders.

In a paper delivered before a nutrition education conference in Washington, D. C., Dr. Lantis criticized self-service merchandising in stores and vending machines for offering small choices between many kinds of one food, instead of large choices between basically different foods.

"It is more important for a child to choose between a candy bar and an apple—and to have both equally available and tempting—than for him to choose from 12 chocolate bars, in reality choosing only between a gold wrapper and a silver wrapper," she said.

She added that the wide availability of snack food and soft drinks in variety and drug stores, apparel shops, filling stations and clubs also encourages poor nutrition.

Dr. Lantis suggested that an educational program be launched to halt the trend—that children be taught good food buying habits as they are taught good automobile driving habits.

"Grammar school children can 'play store' acting out marketing scenes in which they make food selections and discuss the basis of choice," she said.

"In more school systems, classes should be taken to large bakeries, slaughterhouses, any available food processing centers as routinely as they are taken to museums.

"As children grow older, they can get more technical knowledge: how is food handled in transit? What are the standards and limits regarding use of insecticides and additives?"

To help them make wise food choices, Dr. Lantis urged that vending machines carry dried and candied fruits as well as candy bars, low-calorie as well as high-calorie cookies, and powdered-fruit drinks made from real fruit and water as well as carbonated soft drinks.

Alpha Xi Deltas to Hold State Founder's Day Party

The 69th anniversary of Alpha Xi Delta, national collegiate social sorority, will be observed Saturday, April 14, with luncheon at the Broadmoor Hotel. The Colorado Springs Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae Club will be hostess to the state-wide Founder's Day celebration.

Mrs. Betty-Jane Roberts is president of the local club, and Mrs. Campbell Scott, past president, will serve as toastmistress. The speakers will be Mrs. Paul A. Draper and Mrs. Nelson Hunt. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with Mrs. E. B. Foster, phone 495-2849, Route 3, Box 98C, Colorado Springs.

Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity was founded at Lombard College, Galesburg, Ill. on April 17, 1893, by ten young women, only one of whom is still living. These students had worked secretly, avoiding each other's companionship in public until that morning, when they appeared at Chapel in a group, wearing their pins, the quill, their colors, double blue and gold, and pink Killarney roses, their flower. Much help was given them by members of Sigma Nu Fraternity at that time. The second chapter was at Iowa Wesleyan, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and the sorority expanded rapidly after that.

There are now some 80 active College Chapters of Alpha Xi Delta, and 156 Alumnae Associations and Clubs.

Alpha Xi Delta was among the early members of the Inter-sorority Conference attending in 1903. This organization later became the present day National Panhellenic Conference. Members of Alpha Xi Delta have held the national chairmanship of NPC in 1906, 1917, and will assume the office again in 1963.

The National philanthrophy of Alpha Xi Delta deals with children's problems. They currently support Howell House, a settlement and neighborhood house in Chicago. They plan to support a similar establishment in addition Howell House in the near future.

LC Auxiliary Will Meet With Mrs. Pankau

The regular monthly meeting of Auxiliary 79, National Association of Letter Carriers, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Clara Pankau, 3021 N. Institute St.

Co-hostesses will be Sharon Clifton and Pat McAllister.

Willie Snow Ethridge Will Be Town Hall Speaker

Willie Snow Ethridge, the irrepressible author and humorist, will speak at the final Town Hall lecture of this season at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, at the Fine Arts Center. The title of her talk will be "Pardon Me For Being Personal."

"Willie Snow", as she is affectionately known ot her wide reading and lecture audiences, is the author of many national best-sellers such as "This Little Pig Stayed Home", "I'll Sing One Song", and "As I Live and Breathe." What has made her so popular with everyone is her keen sense of humor and her serious understanding of people. She loves people and they are invariably charm and bubbling-over enthusiasm.

Willie is the wife of Mark Ethridge, distinguished Editor and Publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal. When he was serving on the United Nations Commissions to the Balkans and again to the Middle East, Willie went along and recorded, in her own inimitable style, the places, the people and the events. The results of these two trips were the popular books "It's Greek To Me" and "Going to Jerusalem".

Mrs. Ethridge is the mother of four children, one of whom is Mark Jr., Editor of the Raleigh, N.C. Times. In addition to keeping up with the Ethridge household, accompanying her husband on his numerous trips, writing and lecturing, she maintains her very important and lovely garden.

Announcement will also be made at the Wednesday lecture concerning the outstanding speakers slated for next year's Town Hall lecture series.

The trump suit seems to wield a strange hypnotic influence over many declarers. They don't mind losing a trick in a side suit, but it seems to be a blot on their escutcheon to lose a trick in the trump suit. Countless hands have been lost because of the desire to take an early trump finesse.

Today's bidding required little comment. When South forced to game with his jump to two no-trump, North decided to offer his partner a choice of contracts by giving a delayed heart raise. If South had only a four card suit, he was at liberty to return to no-trump.

The queen of diamonds was opened and won in dummy. A trump was led to the ace, the purpose being to postpone the finesse until the second round of the suit.

Declarer realized, however, that he was somewhat short of entries to the dummy, so he followed up with the jack of spades. East permitted him to hold the trick but won the continuation with the ace, and shifted to a trump. South changed his mind about finessing and went up with the king. Dummy was entered with the king of diamonds and on the king of spades the losing diamond was shed. The club finesse was then tried and, when West took the trick, he drew dummy's last trump. The total casualties were two clubs, a heart and a spade.

The queen of hearts should have been declarer's last concern. He should plan to lose at most a club, a heart and a spade. On winning the diamond opening, he should first drive out the ace of spades. East will presumably return a trump. Declarer wins and enters the dummy with a diamond to take his discard on the high spade. Now the club finesse is tried and, even though it loses, the defense cannot prevent the declarer from ruffing his losing club in the dummy. If necessary the trump finesse can be taken at the end.

TO BE LATE SUMMER BRIDE—Mr. and Mrs. Dale Neugebauer of Colorado Springs announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Kay, to Donald Soleau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Soleau of Plymouth, Mich. Miss Neugebauer was graduated from the Air Force Academy High School, class of '60 and is employed by the Colorado Interstate Gas Co. Mr. Soleau, a '58 graduate of Plymouth High School, is employed by Ray Casler's Alcove Carpeting Co. He served with the 32nd Engineers, U. S. Army for three years. Coiffing Fits Hairdressers please note: Teenagers will continue to set their own hair styles in 1962. And they'll cut it and bleach it too, thank you.

That's a prediction from hairdresser Michel Kazan who occasionally gets to put a pin curl in the crowning glory of the younger set.

The girls will wear their hair in casual style, not coiffed, use home permanent waves and streak their hair when they feel like it. It's enough to make a hairdresser blow his top.

"I can understand that they want to use home permanent waves, but they should read directions," explains Michel. "It's difficult to get a point over to a teen-ager though: they think they know everything. The result of a home permanent can be damaged hair when they make up their own methods."

Their method of cutting hair is primitive, he says.

"They snip and chop, ruining the hair as they go. Hair should be cut in a proper way to maintain the beauty of the hair, otherwise the natural body of the hair is lost."

Michel has asked a few girls why they wear long, stringy hairdos, avoiding anything that looks fashionable, but he doesn't dig the answers he's been getting. One girl replied to his question:

"I object to being fashionable because it is too difficult to look well. When your hair is long, it gives you security. You just shake your hair to cover your face, if you want to. You can flirt better with long hair when it dangles around you. But when you date a college boy, you must look impressive. I look at pictures of glamorous types until I find a hair style I like. I set it and hope it turns out that way."

Beauty parlor visits require strenuous effort on the part of teen-agers Michel says, so they avoid it. He has a group of girls who visit him about once a month for a hair cut and set. They let him style their hair on the first visit, but after that they style their own, he says.

One girl who has acquired eyeglasses told him she thought it would be an inspiration to have a new hair style as her old hairdo made her head look squashed when she wears the glasses. She plans to thin her bangs and put her hair behind her ears.

Hair bleaching a la teen-ager is described by Michel as "some dabs of cotton soaked in peroxide on the hair and a session in the sun." This bleaching method often results in yellow and orange streaks, dry hair, broken and damaged hair. He doesn't approve of teen-agers bleaching or dyeing the hair.

From Michel's inquiries into the hair habits of teen-agers, he learned how a hair fad sweeps the campus.

"There are always popular girls in school," one 17-year-old girl told him, "and they are always dreaming up new hairdos. We watch to see how successful they are with the hairdo. If it clicks, we all get it."

It is fine for young girls to style their own hair, says Michel, but they should wear it in proportion to their face and body contour, if they'd get the most out of it.

"They should learn that the oval face shape is the most desired and that hair as well as makeup contribute to the shape. A thin face may need width, a round face may require height or a certain length to give the illusion of an oval face. But any girl must brush, brush, brush her hair to bring out the luster, no matter what the hair style," he says.

You can teach yourself chess via a teaching machine. The chess course is similar to programmed mathematics and language courses. The machine for chess actually is a programmed textbook in a plastic binder. A plastic slide conceals the answer to the question asked in the "frames" until the pupil has studied the problem and written or spoken his answer. Then he moves the slide down to check his response. If correct, he goes on to the next "frame" for the next problem. The programmed instruction enables each student in chess to proceed at his own rate. The game consists of 477 frames and includes a 32 piece practice chess set and board.

A new cotton blanket designed for year-round use is constructed of a cellular type of weave. For winter, a light covering is used over the blanket. This encloses the many thousands of tiny air cells and forms an insulation that keeps body heat in. For summer, the covering is removed and air circulates through these cells, making it cool. The manufacturer reports this type of construction is an outgrowth of the thermal underwear developed for Sir Edmund Hilary's conquest of Mount Everest.

The newest talking doll contains a record player powered by two flashlight batteries. Press a button and the doll reels off nearly 50 words of comments, requests and questions. She stops talking automatically at the end of the record.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hardwood floors are showing again, because of a trend to area rugs.

Spurring the trend is the open plan of many contemporary homes, leading to the use of area rugs to divide otherwise one-room living areas into dining nooks, music corners, etc.

With so much floor bared, interest runs high in high-styled hardwood flooring. Hardwood floor manufacturers report that plank style flooring, in particular, is fast gaining in popularity. The wide planks apparently strike an appropriate note of informality in both colonial and contemporary ranch homes.

Available in widths from three to nine inches, the hardwood planks generally are laid in random widths. Thus, a typical plank floor may be composed of pieces three, five and seven inches wide, placed alternately.

Superseding the conventional parquet hardwood is unit-block flooring. More formal in character than either strip or plank flooring, it is produced in squares and rectangles of several dimensions. A popular choice is the 9 x 9 inch square. The blocks can be laid in countless eye-catching patterns.

Most extensively used is oak. Hard maple, beech, birch and pecan are becoming increasingly popular, however. More costly but striking when used for flooring, are walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Start Campaigning, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and unmarried. I don't care if you call me an "Unclaimed Treasure" or an Old Maid. My complaint is that I have bought countless gifts for bridal showers and baby showers with no hope of getting anything back. Why doesn't the government declare "Old Maid's Day" so girls like me can get even? —GIFT GIVER

DEAR GIVER: A beautiful idea. Write to your Congressman!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a family of 5 girls and 3 boys (all married with nice homes who stick one brother with their 80-year-old father? He has made his home with us for 12 years. I am the "good" daughter-in-law. ("Sap" would be more like it.) He used to work part time, but now he is unable to work and is under my feet all day and all night. We asked if some of the others would take him for a few weeks and they flatly refused. I never have a free moment. He is in the living room 14 hours a day. He takes several naps every day but always on the living room sofa. I am ready for a nervous breakdown. Can you blame me? —HAD MY FILL

DEAR HAD: And you were! Since the father is your husband's, the problem should be handled by him. Your husband should gather his brothers and sisters together and "announce" that they are just as responsible for the care of their father as he is. There are enough of them to pitch in and give him all the comforts of a nice rest home, if they refuse to take him into their homes.

DEAR ABBY: If you are at a restaurant and someone stops by your table to say hello, but stands there and talks while your food is on the table, are you supposed to (1) go right on eating? (2) stop and let your food get cold?—VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: If the person says more than hello and it looks like a long siege, invite him to sit down and say, "My food was just served and I would like to eat it while it's hot—I hope you won't mind." If this doesn't make him disappear, nothing will.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fashionettes

A floral influence is taking root in dresses for the four to 14 set. Flowery prints and colors straight from the garden abound. It isn't the kind of flower that matters so much as the size—and the contrast with vibrant backgrounds. The posies range from large, splashy ones to tiny flowers no bigger than a fingernail. Floral stripes in the peasant manner also are favorites. The solid color dresses get away from the pale tints of last season. In their place are shocking pinks, vivid blues, traffic-light greens and vibrant yellows.

The rebellion of 10 and 12 year old lassies over wearing little girl styling is having a strong influence in the garment industry. More and more of the fashions for the in-betweeners are pint-sized editions of big sister's clothes — including shirtwaisters and skirt and shirt combinations.

The all-weather laminated coat has broadened its fabric horizons to denim, chambray, duck, seersucker, burlap, silk plus blends of wool and orlon or nylon. Each weathers the rain. Summerized fabrics in faded blues, citron yellow and showy awning stripes are heading for the fashion front in raincoats with foam backing.

The swivel strap on a shoe gives a little girl double service. She can wear it in front of the ankle to hug the foot more securely or behind the ankle to present a trimmer fashion line.

British accented clothes are the newest on the fashion horizon for males. These put slightly more emphasis on the shoulders. Lapels are slightly broader than those associated with the Italian and other Continental influences. There is a bit of suppression at the waist and a little flare in the skirt of the jacket. The length of the jacket just covers the seat of the trousers which continue to be straight cut and slim, with or without pleats.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

You really solved my problem of taking mildew off the grout between tiles in the bathroom. Please repeat it for my friends … and Ifeel that the friends who write to you are mine too.

Carol Scott

Dear Carol:

You are just one of us! All of us gals are bosom friends.

Take pure household bleach and make thin paste out of it by adding scouring cleanser such as we use on our bathtubs and kitchen sinks.

Apply this paste with an old sponge and wipe it all over the tile in the bath and shower. FORGET it for a few hours! Let it dry!

When you take your shower or bath … rinse the dried paste off the wall then! Not before. Let it stay a few hours.

And gals, I know you have tried bleach and scouring powder, but MIX 'um together and apply then, let dry and rinse off. Test it yourself!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Did you know you can buy greenish tomatoes from the store and place one or two in your kitchen window in the sun for a few days and they would taste more like vine-ripe tomatoes?

Louise Roe

Dear Heloise:

I bought some of those colored markers at the dime store. I find these invaluable for my five pre-school children. I bought five colors and each child marks his own clothes with a dot of his particular color.

When sorting the laundry … I now just look for that dot of color on the toes of sox, underwear, etc., and pile all of one color together. I also put a corresponding color inside each child's drawer. When the drawer is opened the dot on the clothes matches the dot on the inside of the drawer. This way the children's clothes don't get mixed up and they can find their own.

Mildred Hepper

Dear Heloise:

Does anyone know how to get the mildew off of leather? I have it on shoes, belts and the inside of my husband's hat bands.

I am well aware that a light globe in the closet keeps the mildew from forming but after we installed light gloves, I found all this growth of fungus on many things.

Please, someone let us know if they have ever found the answer. I will be looking for it in this column.

Grateful Sue

Dear Heloise:

Tell the gals not to throw that dab of spaghetti and sauce away that is left over from dinner. Mix them together and pour in an ice tray from the refrigerator, which has been lined with foil. Then freeze.

In a few days, you may find you are hungry for something for lunch besides a cup of coffee and a peanut butter sandwich. Remove the slab of frozen spaghetti and run water over it. It will thaw immediately. Place in a pan and heat. Stir occasionally.

This is so much better for women (especially on laundry days when we use so much energy) than cold lunches and you use only one pan.

I have even put the complete frozen slab of spaghetti (still in the foil wrapper) on the center shelf of my oven and heated it that way.

Always put a piece of buttered bread in the oven when you do it this way. Makes the lunch more complete.

This works for working wives, too. Make two slabs of spaghetti and remove from the freezer before going to work. Roll in newspaper. It will thaw slowly and be ready for heating upon your arrival home.

Floors Come Clean Fast When You Follow Advice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture offers these tips on care of wood floors.

To remove old wax, use rags moistened with turpentine or other paint thinner. A final rinse with soap and water will be necessary, but do the rinsing quickly to keep the water from reaching into the wood or turning a shellac coating white.

Wax floors every four to six months, USDA advised. And if there are children in the house, wear spots will need waxing more often. Even ink stains can be removed by bleaching with oxalic acid or other commercial wood bleach.

Marks caused by tennis shoes or rubber heels can be removed with naphtha or paint thinner. Use an alkali to remove stains from vegetable oils and greases, but if the grease stains come from the vacuum cleaner motor, sand off the stained area.

Other badly stained areas, such as places where water has stood for some time, also require sanding. After the stain is removed, patch the area with fresh sealer and buff with a pad of steel wool.

Phonic Method Is Best Way To Teach Child Reading

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After graduating from a public elementary school two years ago, a bright young friend of ours won a scholarship from a private secondary school—a respected, long-established one which requires Latin among its other subjects.

During his first term, our bright young friend was so upset by the drills involved with his Latin homework that his mother had to sit beside him every night to listen to him put nouns into declensions, verbs into conjugation.

This term it's been French and history homework that has sometimes driven him almost to the point of tears. So, night after night, his father sits beside him checking him on the Punic Wars' dates and battles and on his French vocabulary lessons.

The boy just doesn't know how to study.

His elementary school taught him to read by the "whole word" recognition method, denying him the experience in drill which is the basis of the phonic system. (It incidentally took three years to accomplish this end—one I myself have achieved with a child in two weeks.) So he lacks that trust of his own power to discover for himself, which is the special dividend of the phonic method and the foundation of the ability to study.

Without drill in the sounds of consonants and the varieties of sounds imposed on its vowels by the English language, he never has felt the excitement of assembling them into meaningful words and so cannot comprehend the fact that drill and study are rewarded.

Now as a taxpaying citizen I have made up my mind on what I want from our elementary schools. I have come to my decision after reading books, books, books, after talks with psychiatrists, with psychologists, with workers in remedial reading programs and with professors of English language arts in teachers' colleges.

I want the phonic method restored to second and third grade children in our public schools who can use it.

And for those who cannot use it, I want an honest acknowledgement of their difference and the application of other, different and appropriate methods for the teaching of reading.

That some of our boys and girls cannot learn to read by the phonic method seems to be so. There are youngsters who suffer from an organic disability that cannot connect word sounds to their printed symbols. There are children so preoccupied by angers and other disturbing feelings that they cannot concentrate on phonic drill. And there are others who can find no joy in building words up, letter by letter, because words are used so monotonously and boringly by parents of limited vocabulary. For these children with special problems, I want special teaching methods.

But for those without these problems, I want drill in phonics restored. I want it restored not only to teach them to read quickly instead of wasting their time but also to ground them in the practice of study.

"Human beings," writes the noted pschoanalyst Erich Fromm, "are equal but different."

Miracle Diets Bore Reporter Who Thickens With Years

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — I'm fed up with diets that don't work.

Included are the low-fat, the high-fat, the prune-grapefruit-steak diet, the all-banana diet, the calorie-counting diet, the no-calorie counting diet—ad nauheam.

What we hefty females need is a pill that fattens the will power. If the men of science can give us that, they can leave the dieting to us.

For nearly two years now, I have tried a day or two at a time practically every diet that's recommended. My blubber remains undented. I'm still flabby because my will power's still flabby.

Oh, I can push myself away from the table, eat smaller portions and skip desserts. What happens before I get to the table the next time is the main trouble.

I've tried all sorts of psychological tricks—including tricking myself into believing I'm starving.

Two days in a row I tried my miracle two jelly bean breakfast diet—and managed to last until lunch.

On this diet you have two jelly beans with your fruit juice and coffee. Or two peanuts. Or two of something a person on a diet isn't supposed to eat. This gives you a psychological lift. Having just two of the untouchables demonstrates will power.

The lift broke down the third day. I had four jelly beans. But that didn't matter. By then, I was trying out a new diet.

Some trickery, practiced frequently enough, probably would work — provided that will-power pill came along.

Before the two jelly bean breakfast diet, I was on a tomato juice supper diet. What you do is sip juice—a quart or more — while the rest of the family eats supper. This fills the stomach.

The trick is to get to bed and go to sleep before the tummy becomes empty again. This is easy if you are tired.

It's easy also if the house is very cold by the time hunger pangs awaken you in the middle of the night. You just stay in bed and starve rather than make the trip to the kitchen and refrigerator, risking the chance of catching the death of cold.

Mentally, I've also found that a female on a crash diet can get a lift if she uses a scale that doesn't work too well. You know, the kind that can't be used where legal weights matter.

I once found I could lose two pounds a day just by standing on such a scale a different way. If I stood on it with heels rather than toes pointed to the dial, I lost just one pound. But by standing on old unreliable on tip-toe I shed all of two pounds in a wink.

I understand that if one is willing to put one's unreliable scale in the car and drive to the top of a mountain, one can lose even more weight.

Apparently there's only one solution for us women who can't get out of the alarm zone—10 to 15 pounds overweight.

That is—starve it off, even if we have to wear masking tape over the mouth.

That's what my doctor suggested the other day.

"It's simple," he said. "You've just made too many deposits and not enough withdrawals. Live off your savings for a while."

ver had any regrets up the movies," she n George and I re- Washington, after our marriage. I still continued with my radio work and directed plays at the university."

Mrs. Romney was on a program called "Political Hitch Hiking." Her announcer was a freckled, red-head named Arthur Godfrey.

Her present home in Bloomfield Hills, with its wide expanse of windows and spacious rooms decorated in sunny yellow, orange and gold, is a far cry from the one-room apartment with a pull-down bed that she and Romney first called home.

In the intervening years, Romney has climbed from a $125-a-month salesman to an estimated annual salary of $150,000 to $250,000, as head of a company he helped to its financial feet.

With her husband now in politics, Mrs. Romney, 52, may yet find herself in the spotlight nationally.

As for the presidency, Mrs. Romney said she couldn't picture herself as a first lady, but she quickly added, "I would do anything my husband felt was bigger and more important."

The two great loves in her life are her family and her religion. The Romneys have four children, Mrs. Lynn Keenan, 26; Mrs. Jane Robinson, 23; Scott, 20, and Willard, 14.

As members of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon), the Romneys are active in church affairs. Romney is president of the Michigan Stake (diocese) and Mrs. Romney is a Sunday School teacher. She also instructs women's classes in theology.

Insurance Job Plus Endurance Secure Future

By ROBERTA C. SCHWARTZ
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It takes personality, plus hard work and "a genuine liking for people" for a woman to succeed as an insurance agent, says the Labor Department.

Women also need "resourcefulness and imagination" to get ahead in the insurance business. "Too much stress cannot be placed on the importance of personal traits, interest, and aptitudes in the success of life underwriters," the department observes, in a pamphlet of careers for women in the life insurance field.

A woman who wants a job as an insurance agent should also have:

—Ambition to get ahead.

—Persistence, patience, and resilience to keep at the job.

—Self-discipline and organization to avoid diversions.

—Integrity to respect a client's confidence and trust.

"These are not rare qualities," the pamphlet says, "but they are all needed in great abundance for a successful life underwriting career."

In 1956 there were 133,200 women in the life insurance industry and they comprised almost one third of its personnel. They accounted for more than 90 per cent of the agency cashiers and clerks and 65 per cent of the home office staff, the department reports.

There were 5,900 women agents, or three per cent of the 195,800 full time underwriters that year. They made up only one per cent of the agency managers and assistants.

"Experienced ordinary life underwriters are paid on a commission basis and therefore their earnings are directly related on production," the pamphlet says. "Insurance selling is a field in which women consistently earn at the same rate as men."

It also notes that life underwriters "punch no time clocks" because they are independent operators. "Their time is committed by others only to the extent that they may have to attend agency or branch conferences. Otherwise, experienced underwriters put into their work as much time as they choose."

Women who are interested in life underwriting are advised to consult workers employed in the industry and officials in the National Association of Life Underwriters. They should learn first hand from agents what the job is like and should try to get introductions to general agents or branch managers.

Household Hints

United Press International

Use a screen to keep fireplace sparks from rugs and floor. And always be sure the last fireplace coal is out before leaving the house or going to bed.

Clean light bulbs give better light. Wash the bulbs but don't dunk them. The bases of the bulbs are cemented to the glass and too much moisture may loosen the cement. Make sure the bulbs are dried well before using them.

Wrap aluminum foil around the bottom of a cold drink. The foil serves as a coaster, as insulation to keep the drink cold and as a mitten for the bottle.

Soak rubber sink or bath mats in a weak solution of bleach and water for a couple of hours to remove grime and stains.

When you iron flatwork, turn the ironing board around so that the iron rests on the narrow end of the board. This gives more ironing suface for large pieces.

PFL Auxiliary Will Have Film Program

The Ladies' Auxiliary 17, Plumber Fitters Local, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Cancer Office, 310 E. Del Norte.

Two films will be shown and members are asked to bring guests.

Murphy-Peterson Ceremony Held at Roswell Church

Miss Judy Irene Peterson and Michael E Murphy were united in marriage March 18 in the Roswell Community Church. The Rev. Paul Brown performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of white mums and red and white carnations, and lighted by candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson of 2624 Beacon St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wyola Roth of Salt Lake City.

Mr. Peterson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her floor length gown of white satin was styled with fitted sleeves pointed over the hands, and neckline trimmed with Chantilly. Her fingertip veil flowed from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried white baby roses surrounded by red rosebuds and tied with red streamers.

Miss Shelly Piza as bridesmaid wore red taffeta dress trimmed in white organdy. Trudy and Vickie Peterson, sisters of the bride as train bearers, wore similar dresses, with headbands of red carnations and white carnation corsages.

William Dooms attended the bridegroom as best man and ushers, who also lighted the candles, were Dan Peterson and Ken Atons.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Oliver, grandparents of the bride, gave the reception in their home at 2514 Main St. Mrs. David Klinesmith, Mrs. Lee Cromwell and Mrs. David Peck assisted in serving, and Jerry Peterson was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left for Salt Lake City where they will make their home. The bride's traveling costume was a two piece green suit with black patent accessories.

The bridegroom has completed his tour of duty with the U. S. Army at Ft. Carson and is now employed in Salt Lake by the Kennicott Copper Corp.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gamet, Mrs. Flora Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hill and Mrs. Nancy Dellecroce, all of Englewood.

W. L. Carew Will Address Credit Women's Group

William Lamont Carew, attorney, will be the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pikes Peak Credit Women's Breakfast Club, at 12 o'clock, Tuesday, at the Swiss Chalet.

Mr. Carew has been invited to return as guest speaker to continue his discussion of bankruptcy which he gave at the March meeting of the group. Bankruptcies have shown a steady increase in recent years. They present a threat to the business and professional men who do not receive payment for merchandise or services rendered. Bankruptcies also present a threat to the consumer who becomes so financially involved that he turns to bankruptcy with its resulting stigma.

The members of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club are especially interested in helping consumers keep their obligations within their incomes so they can maintain a good crdit record and sound financial position.

This meeting as well as membership in the club is open to women employed in credit departments of business firms and professional offices of the region.

Carson Bowlers Leave for Ft. Wood

M. Sgt. Pete Peterson, a team member, is making his fourth consecutive appearance with a Carson team. He started with the 1958 team which won a Fifth Army telegraphic meet.

Kohlrus rolled the highest average over 40 games, 187, as post team members were decided. Brandvold had 186; Dawson and Jones, 184; King, 183; and Peterson, 182.

Kohlrus bowls in eight leagues. His top series of 1961 was a 677; high game, 250.

Brandvold is an ABC contestant.

Dawson was a member of the Eighth Army championship team in 1959-1960. He was All Army singles champion in 1957.

Peterson won the Colorado state singles championship at Fort Collins in the 1959-1960 meet.

King was a member of the Ft. Belvoir, Va., bowlers who were Second Army runnersup in 1955-1956.

State Revenue Office to Be Open Late April 16

The State Revenue Department office at 520 S. Tejon St. will remain open until 8 p.m. April 16 for the purpose of assisting taxpayers. The office will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. regularly from Monday thru Friday, T. J. Scardina, senior revenue collector, said.

The office will not be open Saturday.

Scardina said residents who have gross income of $750 or more must report their entire income from within and without the continental United States.

Persons who became residents of Colorado during the taxable year or left and established residence in another state during the taxable year are required to report the income received and earned during the period they were residents.

Persons who are not residents of Colorado are subject to the normal tax upon the net income derived from sources within Colorado.

Every individual resident, or non-resident, deriving income from Colorado, is required to make a declaration of estimated income tax if: (a) He paid $20 last year after taking credit for (1) all amounts withheld and (2) income taxes paid other states, or (b) taxpayer expects to pay a tax of $20 or more after taking credit for (1) all amounts withheld and (2) income taxes paid other states.

Scardina also suggested filing as early as possible to avoid spending considerable time waiting in line for assistance.

BURY NOODLES

ATLANTA (UPI) — Army bulldozers Wednesday buried 26 tons of egg noodles condemned by the Pure Food and Drug Administration because they contained no eggs. The noodles had been scheduled for shipment to military bases.

New York Times Notes Profit Boost

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Times Co. and its subsidiaries Wednesday reported 1961 net income of $2,212,709 compared with $1,652,392 a year earlier.

Earnings from newspaper operations amounted to $597,986 of this amount, against $348,051 in 1960. Total 1961 earnings included a gain of $377,000 from the sale of the Times Tower Building.

Operating revenues for the consolidated company totaled a record $117,189,220 compared with $112,149,302 in the previous year.

Orvil E. Dryfoos, president and publisher, said in the report that "readers spent over $40 million in 1961 to buy the Times. Of this amount the Times received $24 million, the balance going to wholesale distributors, newsdealers and home delivery carriers."

BUENOS AIRES—Forty double deck Aefer buses that Argentina is buying from Italy will cost about $34,000 each.

Europe Source of Many Things Americans Enjoy

By BETTY LEE SKINNER

BETTY SKINNER

All in all, a visit to Europe, where most of us except the Indians came from, is good for us. Like a trip to grandma's house used to be, when you learned that that good stew ma makes is after all from granny's recipe you learn that a lot of things we enjoy came from Europe.

That such things as Nestle's chocolate, Singer sewing machines, Shell oil, the English language and democracy did not originate in the U.S.A. after all. Even the Statue of Liberty was probably modeled after a sister statue on the other side.

As you sat on granny's lap, the deep lines in her old face both fascinated and saddened you. The same mixture of poignant wonder and compassion grips you as you see the scars and toll of the centuries across the face of our assorted fatherlands.

In Spain there are monuments to the men who freed Spain from the Moors. In Holland, mounments to those who freed Holland from the Spaniards. In England, monuments of those who died fighting "the enemy" in the Battle of New Orleans. In Berlin the treasured remains of a church steeple hit by Allied bombs . . and in Dachau, the memorial to the twentieth century's blackest reversion to barbarism, the murder of six million Jews.

Just inside the German border are the old concrete bunkers of the Siegfried Line, built one war loo late as a French - proof barrier, and the pyramid shaped tank traps which would have worked if bulldozers hadn't been invented by then. The French had the privilege of blowing up these bunkers after the war, and there they lie, their reinforced concrete remains open to the weather.

Europe has been rebuilt and built onto countless times after being gutted again and again by fire and riddled repeatedly by the sword.

It is interesting to see the strong nationalism and marked differences in culture as you cross the borders between these countries which are the size of one or another of our states. But no matter how fierce the loyalty to one's own country, they have thru the centuries traded kings and queens quite freely. Thru the bitter war years Prince Bernhard, husband of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, probably had to forget his German background. The Italian Medici family had members on several thrones of Europe at one time. Denmark has been a prolific source of royalty — King Christian IX, called the Grandfather of Europe, had four of his children ascend European thrones; Princess Alexandra married Edward VII of England; Prince Frederick succeeded him in Denmark; Prince Wilhelm became Georg I of Greece; and Princess Dagmar married Alex III czar of Russia. Whatever the national enmities, they buried the hatchet when it came to royalty, even if it was sometimes buried in the royal neck.

The hatchet, or guillotine, was especially popular in France, where just before the nineteenth century each successive group who seized power threw the incumbent group into prisons and-or beheaded them. Two centuries before, Catherine dei Medici, the queen mother, set an all - time cruelty record, making the Seine River literally run red with her massacre of 10,000 Protestants in a day. The French say now that France has never recovered from that loss.

The European Common Market, besides its other purposes, is designed to give the French and Germans occasion to get together without killing each other. It should be a great improvement, especially when another war comes due, to see them instead peacefully selling each other Volkswagens and Peugeots.

ENGLISH SWITZERLAND'S FOURTH LANGUAGE

Switzerland, bordering three Common Market countries and using their languages in its three areas — Italian, French and German — nevertheless is not a member of the Common Market. This close-knit country, all of it within commuting distance of itself, claims to be the oldest existing democracy, the Confederation Helvetique, its one-year presidency rotating among the states. Its fourth popular language, English, gives a clue as to Switzerland's choice of friends. One of the large banks in Basel bears its name in all four languages, as do many things in Switzerland.

The block - long Reformation Monument in Geneva with its stories of political and religious freedom records a fact little realized — that political freedom and the Protestant Reformation were in many places closely related. Geneva's own successful defense against the Catholic Duke of Savoy in 1602 is recorded here, when the women of the town repelled the attacking troops with kettles of hot water poured from the top of the city's wall. Today when they celebrate their independence day there are tiny chocolate water kettlers for sale in the stores.

The monument includes John Calvin, John Knox and other great reformers. It includes Roger Williams and the Pilgrims signing the Mayflower Compact. As part of our heritage from our European forefathers we should not forget these iron men who would sooner die for a principle than live in compromise of conscience. A meditative stroll along the moument confirms in one's mind that Christain faith was the dynamic that made America great.

We Americans, accustomed to venerating the new and discarding the old, can learn from the Europeans a certain respect for antiquity. Their appreciation of art and architecture, too, is worth noting. In war, regardless of what else is done about defense and resistance, the contents of the art museums are bundled up and hustled off to some Alpine cache until the all clear sounds. At first glance it's as if to say that people can be replaced but not these paintings. Frankfurt residents even today take an anguished look at their bombed-out opera house and seem to ask, "Why did you do it?"

Advertising that is different catches your eye. In England an advertisement is often the simple announcement that such a product is available. Or the picture and wording may give a complex explanation that is as far from Madison Avenue as Johannesburg. Swiss and French advertising is more pictorial, with economy of text.

Interesting signs are everywhere. A shop in London is named "Old Things." The slogan "Take Courage" advertises whisky. A "boucherie" is a meat market in France, a "patisserie" is a confectionery or bakery, and a "tapisserie" an upholsterer. In the Basel rail station the large sign with the six words, FRANCE CHANGE BILLETE BUFFET BADER COIFFEUR, gives you a wide selection — you can go to France, change your money, buy a ticket, eat dinner, take a bath or get your hair done. And across the top of a large building in Rotterdam these words are en-

Three Issues To Be Discussed By Young Demos

El Paso County Young Democrats will devote their regular meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the Antlers Hotel to a discussion of three issues facing the administration and the country.

Four members of the organization will present the issue, its merits and arguments by those opposed to it.

Paul Bechtol, Colorado College economics professor, will present the President's trade program; Bob Maytag and Ed Gardner will discuss the controversial Liberty Amendment, which would amend the constitution to abolish personal income tax, and Bill Hochman will outline the also controversial Medical Care to the Aged proposal of President Kennedy.

This is one of the few internal discussion programs held by the Young Democrats and all interested in learning more about these timely issues are urged to attend.

The meeting is held in the Antlers Hotel Green Room and a coffee period will follow the meeting.

Those who have not joined the Young Democrats for this year are urged to do so at this meeting as the membership total of April 25 will be the numb of votes the El Paso County cha ter will have at the State Co vention in May.

The Colorado Chiropractic Association and the Society of Colorado Chiropractors will hold a joint, three-day meeting at the Antlers Hotel Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Session plans were announced by Dr. Chester Card of Colorado Springs, president of the Colorado Chiropractic Association, and Dr. Glenn M. Hultgren, Fort Collins, president of the Society of Colorado Chiropractions.

The meeting will feature a series of lectures on the latest in chiropractic techniques, current chiropractic research and chiropractic practice management.

In addition both groups will hold their annual spring business sessions during the meeting.

A highlight of the event will be a Saturday night banquet. It will feature a prominent lay speaker.

About 250 persons are expected to register for the session.

HIT THE RIGHT POLE

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — When bus driver Raymond Garrett of Birmingham struck a power pole here, electric power board officials were grateful that he was so selective. They explained that the pole he hit was one of 800 among the 80,000 in the city that could fall over without a power failure.

'JUNGLE BOOK' FOR FILM

HOLLYWOOD—Youngsters will be delighted to learn that Walt Disney, after years of trying, now owns Rudyard Kipling's "The Jungle Book" and plans a multimillion dollar picture next year based on these stories. Among the classic yarns Walt will put on film is Mowgli, the jungle boy, who learns the laws and life of the jungle from the family of wolves that adopt him. This is Disney's first venture into the her future. After she has her baby, she'll do "Try, Try Again"; then Donald Calkins' story "Something in the Wind," for her own company. In the latter she'll battle Wall Street. She plays a cafe cashier who invests in stock market tips she overhears on her job, and becomes a wizard.

Right now Debbie's giving her spare time to the Thalians Circus for charity. When a pal called a trade paper and said, "I want to place an ad for Debbie Reynolds," the guy who answered quipped: "What does she want to say? I told you so?"

MILO FRANK is en route to Spain to sign Tony Quinn for "O'-Houlihan's Jest," which rolls in Dublin this summer. He also has appointments with Emlyn Williams and Richard Burton. Milo's not concerned about the females. He said, "Except for Liz I don't think there's an actress with real box office pull on the screen today." Brave words for a fellow whose wife is Actress Sally Forrest.

JOAN COLLINS is in Rome for two days, then goes to London for the opening of "Road to Hong Kong." She's found a play she'd like to do in New York this fall; also a movie, "The Inheritance," a comedy from a story by Guy de Maupassant to be made in England this summer. . . .

Danny Kaye never gave a more brilliant performance than when he conducted our symphony orchestra for the pension fund. His combination of wit, music and acrobatics kept the audience (who'd paid $100 a ticket) rolling in its seats until he took his final bow. What's more, Danny asked to do it. . . .

When he ended his performance with "The Stars and Stripes Forever," I thought I'd never heard a more rousing rendition.

Cy Howard and Desi Arnez have a dilly of a comedy to begin the fall TV season called "Fair Exchange." It's about an American and a British family whose daughters exchange homes. Eddie Foy has never been funnier. You laugh so hard, you miss half the dialog. . .

If Bobby Darin dosen't play Jimmy Durante's life on the screen, they're both crazy. His impersonation of The Nose was by far the best thing on the can-

Gen. Walker's Blow Featured by Paper

This is the eye that was punched by Edwin A. Walker, resigned major general.

Kelly explained that he was trying to ask the general whether he was going to disavow an admirer of his, George Lincoln Rockwell, American Nazi.

Kelly hadn't finished the query when—pow!—he got a right jab in his left blinker. Kelly is sporting a small mouse but said he isn't really hurting.

Kelly didn't hit back, and anyway, the general had the weight and reach advantage on him. At the request of The News, the Army looked up Walker's physical statistics and reported them as: 6 feet tall, 200 pounds. Kelly's figures: 5 feet 6, 155 pounds.

The great majority of American Indians learned the practice of scalping their slain foes from the white man. Scalping spread rapidly among Indians when European rivals in the Northeast began offering bounties for enemy trophies.

Military Police Give Service, Aid to Soldiers

Almost half of Ft. Carson's 19th Military Police members' time is spent in giving aid and services, said Lt. Col. James S. Killough, provost marshal, who added:

And the opportunities for friendship are zooming as thousands of new Carson men report for duty with the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized). Division military police are taking specialized training which requires all their time at present.

From directing lost drivers to rushing a sick soldier to the hospital, the 19th MP is on the move constantly. Lock yourself out? A call to the MP detachment will bring a man with white gloves and a master key that opens most doors.

In downtown Colorado Springs military policemen work out of the Colorado Springs Police Department, El Paso County Sheriff's office and their own office downtown. Pueblo and Denver also have Carson military police.

These MPs give a variety of services and information to men in uniform passing thru, in trouble or just needing advice in addition to their patrol duties such as checking uniform violations and soldier behavior.

The 198 men of the 19th Military Police Company have duties similar to those of civilian policemen in a town of 25,000.

This self-sufficient unit is qualified to investigate cases from traffic violations to major crimes. Carson's Criminal Investigation Detachment uses civilian methods of investigation and interrogation including the lie detector.

MPs and civilian law enforcement officials work closely together in a relationship described by Col. Killough as, ". . .the finest I have ever seen."

Springs, Collins Reserves on Duty

A Coloralo Springs man and a Fort Collins resident, both members of the U. S. Army Reserve, are serving two weeks of active military duty at U. S. Army Air Defense Command Headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Maj. Russell L. Stephens of 2415 N. Nevada Ave., Colorado Springs, is assigned in the Signal Section. In civilian life, he is manager of Western Union in this city.

Capt. Orville K. Kirkpatrick lives at 2221 Purdue Rd., Fort Collins. He is employed in the Market Section of the Colorado Department of Agriculture. Captain Kirkpatrick is assigned in the G-2 (Intelligence) Section at ARADCOM Headquarters.

Local Marines Seen In Tompkins' Movie

Three Colorado Springs members of the Marine Corps appear in the motion picture play "The Outsider," which started Saturday at the Tompkins Theater. In the making of the film some shots were made at Camp Pendleton, San Diego, Calif., and that is where the local men were photographed for the movie picture. They are in a boot training scene.

The local Marine Corps actors are: Lance Cpl. Wayne Graver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Graver, 537 E. Bijou St.; Lance Cpl. James Macy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Macy, 2529 N. Union Blvd., and Cpl. Lynn Morrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morrell, 60 Security Blvd.

Springs Teachers To Attend State Parley in Aurora

More than 600 members of the Association for Childhood Education, including educators from Colorado Springs public schools, will attend the state conference to be held May 5 at the Aurora High School in Aurora.

Dr. Alice V. Keliher, nationally known teacher, author and authority on education, will be the main speaker.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m.; exhibits and coffee at 9 a.m.; the business meeting will be at 10:30 a.m., and sectional meetings will be held at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Agnes Hatfield, assistant professor of education, University Nursery School and Kindergarten Education, of Denver will speak at the nursery section meeting.

The kindergarten section will feature a panel discussion by Dr. Forbes Bottomly, superintendent of schools, District R-1, Jefferson County; Dr. L. D. Baxter, child psychiatrist and director of Adams County Health Clinic; Dr. Del Petersen, assistant superintendent of administration and instruction, District R-1, and Mrs. Winona Graham, kindergarten teacher at Charles Hay Elementary School, Englewood.

Hazel McFarlane, director of Public Schools, will address the primary section group, and Dr. Howard Blanchard, associate professor of educational psychology and guidance, Colorado State College at Greeley, will talk to the intermediate section.

A luncheon will be held at 12:30 p.m. at the Town House.

HANDMADE ART SOLD ON STREETS

The custom of selling handmade art on the streets puts oil paintings within reach of those of us who couldn't think of buying one in the States. I got an oil painting on the street in Paris from a Spanish artist (I thought he was Italian, so bargained down to half the price he asked). The picture is every bit as nice as Rembraadt's Aristotle, as far as I am concerned.

The practice of shaking hands with simply everyone is sometimes funny. Two people met on the street and talked, shook hands as they were ready to leave, then talked some more and shook again. A tour guide in Rome alighted from the bus and shook hands with the policeman on duty. A passenger coming thru the turnstile of a commuter train station in Paris shook hands with the ticket taker. This could get complicated around Christmas shopping time!

Train stations seldom have anyplace for people to sit and are often built right over the tracks, instead of beside them. Large flower pots and shrubs brighten the platforms, and there are clocks on tall poles. Trains are dispatched by a police whistle — or in Switzerland a cowbell-like dong, no "all aboard" as we are used to. You open the door of whatever car on the train is going to your destination, let yourself in, close the door, and never see the conductor until well on your way. Most people get on the right trains.

Europeans carry less luggage than we do, usually a handbag that can be tossed overhead. Except the Italians, whose large suitcases are partially filled with lunch.

In most places they say "please" for "you're welcome" and they have learned the American phrase "don't mention it." But compared to our careless "dimenshnut" their carefully pronounced syllables sound strange: "dunt-menshun-it."

Downstairs or cellar restaurants are popular; dinner usually begins about 7:30 and lasts the whole evening. A three - or-more piece orchestra is not uncommon for entertainment of diners, but instead of doubling the price as it might at home, a plate is passed for tips or a 20 cents music fee collected.

Waiters often put dinner rolls directly on the tablecloth, the proper place according to their style, never on your dinner plate. They WILL bring an English menu if they have to, but consider it a great defeat for you and are much happier if you work your way thru THEIR menu. When you are ready to leave you must hail the waiter and ask for your check. You can sit for hours over a meal and never be rushed out — on the contrary, they act as tho you had rented the table for the evening, and sometimes seem surprised to be asked for the check.

In Scandinavia and Germany the konditori is common — a coffee and tea shop where you select from an unbelievable variety of pastries at the counter, then have it served with coffee at a small wooden table. In Denmark the selection also includes any and everything on an open faced sandwich.

One incomparable institution is the open market. In small towns market day is once or twice a week, in cities every morning. Within gunshot of the Louvre in Paris is an area of several blocks called the central market, where each night fresh produce trucked in from all over France is stacked high right in the streets. In covered sheds or halls long rows of freshly dressed whole beef, sheep and veal hang by the hocks. Men stretch out on the sidewalk to sleep and guard their merchandise until 3 a.m. when sales begin. At that time merchants from the 200 or 300 neighborhood markets all over Paris begin to come and buy for their stalls, then by 9 or so have it ready for the housewife to pick over. Rows of temporary crude stalls and counters in an open pavilion make up the highly competitive mart where housewives and a few men cruise down the aisles, tagged by children, buying vegetables here, a chunk of bulk butter there, a basket of eggs, a piece of veal.

"I have a certain route I take," says Evelyne, wife of the Navigator representative for France, George Clark. "I like certain things to be in the bottom of my basket. Five bananas, please," she says to the man at a fruit counter.

"Five, the number of the republic," he replies cheerily, counting out her change as each clerk does, with the gusto of a carnival crier. Evelyne selected some nice fish that had only yesterday been swimming in the Atlantic.

Across from a booth selling socks and gloves was one of meats, and across from a tea-and-spices stall were scarves, blouses and sweaters. One stall had buttons of many kinds. One displayed rugs, one dried fruits. At a stand where eggs, cheese, chickens and butter were stocked, rabbits hanging by their still furred feet on hooks around the top looked like miniature prehistoric monsters with boxing gloves on. Next to a vegetable stall was another of shoes and galoshes.

But rather than confusion, there is an air of good fellowship, of the county fair. Evelyne said, "When I was in the States and went to the big supermarkets I didn't enjoy them. Finally I figured out what it was — the smells and the ambiance — the calling from one place to the next to come see their nice merchandise — the warm sociability of it all. At the supermarket it was cold and lifeless."

Yes, there are lots of things we brought from the Old Country . . .and more we could bring.

We probably never would want to go back to granny's place to live — too far off the highway — but it's good to journey out for a visit, and look thru the family albums. . .see what lessons we can learn from her past. . .and bring home some of granny's homemade preserves.

Two Springs Marines Arrive in Okinawa

Marine Lance Cpls. Melvin Wayne Graver of 537 E. Bijou St., and James S. Macy of 2529 N. Union Blvd., have arrived on Okinawa for duty with the Third Marine Division.

Formerly both were stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., with the 1st Marine Division.

Graver and Macy are 1960 graduates of Palmer High School. They joined the Marines in July of that year.

LONG MEMORIES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Battle of Hastings, fought nearly nine centuries ago, is still a live issue in England, according to the National Geographic Society.

The Hastings Borough Council recently announced plans to commemorate the ninth centennial of the battle by re-enacting the Norman invasion. The announcement touched off a bristling exchange of letters to local newspapers from pro and anti-Normans.

March Cooler, Wetter Than Normal in Area

March was cooler and wetter than normal in the Pikes Peak Region, according to U. S. Weather Bureau records.

Last month's mean temperature was 34, compared to a normal mean of 36, and precipitation totaled 188 of an inch, compared to a normal of .61.

March's mean maximum was 47, compared to a normal mean maximum of 50. The mean minimum was 21, compared to a normal mean minimum of 22.

Temperatures during the month ranged from a high of 71 March 27 to a low of 5 March 1 and 14. The all - time March high is 78, recorded in 1907. The all-time low for the month is -16, established in 1943.

Precipitation in March was .27 of an inch above normal, and brought the year's total to 1.64, which is .41 of an inch above normal. The greatest 24-hour amount was .46 of an inch on March 10.

Snowfall last month totaled 8.8 partly cloudy and 7 cloudy last month.

Eleven days were clear, 13 partly cloudy and 7 cloudy last month.

Vandals Spray Cars With Oil

Vandals sprayed a number of cars with an oil solution while the vehicles were parked in the parking lot at 1213 E. Columbia St., Thursday night, according to a police report.

Police officer John Clark, said that the cars of Ruth E. Jennings, and Rebecca H. Cox, residents at the above address, were taken to a service station for cleaning.

Attendants were unable to remove all of the solution from the cars, and the finish was slightly discolored, Clark said.

While at the parking lot, Clark said he noticed several other cars that had been sprayed with the solution.

Jean Dexheimer Member of Castle Belles

Miss Jean Dexheimer, a sophomore at the University of Colorado in Boulder, has been elected to Castle Belles, the honorary organization of the University's U. S. Army ROTC Detachment.

She has been given the rank of Honorary Cadet Second Lieutenant and has been appointed Honorary Executive Officer of "A" Company.

The girls are selected on a basis of personality, beauty, intelligence and service to the university and must have at least a 2.7 over-all gradepoint average.

Flattering Lines

No spring wardrobe is complete without the very wearable little wool or crepe dress that goes anywhere on a moment's notice and assures you of unlimited chic from that moment on. Expensive dressmaker touches highlight its flattering lines, starting with shapely bust darts which end above the waistline where a loose bodice extension takes over. A belt of narrow bias strips is drawn thru bound slits and criss-crossed over the flap to hold it close to the body. With light gathers at the waist and a front panel that opens into pockets, the skirt restates the slender mood of the dress.

Choose sheer wool, plain or printed rayon or silk crepe for now and thru spring; linen novelty cottons, raw silk or shantung in the shorter sleeve version is a wonderful plan for summer in town. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our measurements are comparable to those used for better ready-to-wear.

Size 18: bust, 40; waist, 30; hips, 41; length from nape of neck to waist, 17½ inches.

Size 12 requires 2⅝ yards of 54 inch fabric for dress. To order Pattern N-1096, state size, send $1. Add 25 for first class postage and special handling. New Pattern Book 20 is available for 50 cents each. Pattern Books 17 and 19 are also available for $1 each or both for $1.75.
